NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Annual Report on Form 10-K includes statements that express our opinions, expectations, beliefs, plans, objectives, assumptions or projections regarding future events or future results and therefore are, or may be deemed to be, "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this report may be forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements can generally be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, including the terms "believes," "estimates," "pro forma," "continues," "anticipates," "expects," "seeks," "projects," "intends," "plans," "may," "will," "would" or "should" or, in each case, their negative or other variations or comparable terminology.

By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. These factors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- our ability to protect our systems and data from continually evolving cybersecurity risks or other technological risks, including the impact of any cybersecurity incidents or security breaches;*
- liability and reputation damage from unauthorized disclosure, destruction or modification of data or disruption of our services;*
- technical, operational and regulatory risks related to our information technology systems and third-party providers' systems;*
- our ability to execute on our strategy and achieve our goals following the completion of the sale of our Merchant Services Business and our Healthcare RCM Business;*
- our ability to successfully manage our intellectual property;*
- the impact of any potential impairment charges associated with our fair-valued assets, including goodwill and intangible assets, in the event of a decline in the price of our Class A common stock or otherwise;*
- our ability to generate revenues sufficient to maintain profitability and positive cash flow;*
- competition in our industry and our ability to compete effectively;*
- consolidation in the banking and financial services industry;*
- risk of shortages, price increases, changes, delays or discontinuations of hardware due to supply chain disruptions with respect to our limited number of suppliers;*
- risks related to economic and geopolitical conditions, including the impact of inflation and fluctuations in interest rates (including current elevated interest rate levels) and tariff and trade-related developments;*
- our ability to keep pace with rapid developments and changes in our industry and provide new products and services;*
- reliance on third parties for significant services;*
- exposure to economic conditions and political risks affecting consumer, commercial and government spending, including as a result of budgetary and political pressures to reduce government spending, as well as any decline in the use of credit cards;*
- changes in the budgets or regulatory environments of our public sector customers, primarily local and state governments, that could negatively impact spending;*
- our ability to increase our existing market share, grow within the current public sector markets in which we operate and execute our growth strategy;*
- our ability to successfully identify acquisition targets, complete those acquisitions and effectively integrate those acquisitions into our services;*
- potential degradation of the quality of our products, services and support;*
- our ability to retain customers;*
- our ability to attract, recruit, retain and develop key personnel and qualified employees;*
- risk of chargeback liabilities if our customers refuse or cannot reimburse chargebacks resolved in favor of their customers;*
- risks related to laws, regulations and industry standards, including our ability to comply with complex laws and regulations applicable to the industries in which we operate or to adjust our operations in response to changing laws and regulations, such as the evolving legal, ethical and regulatory landscape over artificial intelligence technologies;*
- the impact of recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court regarding the actions of federal agencies;*

- the impact of claims, litigation and government investigations;
- risks related to our international operations;
- our indebtedness and our ability to maintain compliance with the financial covenants in our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility (as defined below);
- our ability to meet our liquidity needs;
- our ability to raise additional funds on terms acceptable to us, if at all, whether through debt, equity or a combination thereof;
- operating and financial restrictions imposed by our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility; and
- the risk factors included in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Although we base these forward-looking statements on assumptions that we believe are reasonable when made, we caution you that forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and that our actual results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, and industry developments may differ materially from statements made in or suggested by the forward-looking statements contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K. The matters summarized in “Risk Factors” in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K, and in subsequent filings could cause our actual results to differ significantly from those contained in our forward-looking statements. In addition, even if our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, and industry developments are consistent with the forward-looking statements contained in this filing, those results or developments may not be indicative of results or developments in subsequent periods.

In light of these risks and uncertainties, we caution you not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statement that we make in this filing speaks only as of the date of such statement, and we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement or to publicly announce the results of any revision to any of those statements to reflect future events or developments, except as required by applicable law. Comparisons of results for current and any prior periods are not intended to express any future trends or indications of future performance, unless specifically expressed as such, and should only be viewed as historical data.

As used in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms “i3 Verticals,” the “Company,” “we,” “us” and “our” and similar references refer (1) before the completion of our initial public offering (“IPO”) completed in June 2018 or the reorganization transactions entered into in connection therewith (the “Reorganization Transactions”), which are described in the notes to consolidated financial statements, to i3 Verticals, LLC and, where appropriate, its subsidiaries, and (2) after the Reorganization Transactions to i3 Verticals, Inc. and, where appropriate, its subsidiaries.

RISK FACTORS SUMMARY

Our business faces significant risks and uncertainties. If any of the following risks are realized, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. You should carefully review and consider the full discussion of our risk factors in the section titled "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Set forth below is a summary list of the principal risk factors as of the date of the filing this Annual Report on Form 10-K:

- Unauthorized disclosure, destruction or modification of data or disruption of our services or other cybersecurity or technological risks, including as a result of a cybersecurity incident, could expose us to liability, protracted and costly litigation and damage our reputation.
- Our software and systems and our third-party providers' software and systems may fail, or our third-party providers may discontinue providing their services or technology generally or to us specifically, which in either case could interrupt our business, cause us to lose business and increase our costs.
- Some of our solutions contain "open source" software, and any failure to comply with the terms of one or more of applicable open-source licenses could negatively affect our business.
- We have a history of operating losses and will need to generate significant revenues to attain and maintain profitability and positive cash flow and continue our acquisition program.
- The enterprise software industry is competitive. Such competition could adversely affect the revenue we receive, and as a result, our margins, business, financial condition and results of operations.
- If we cannot keep pace with rapid developments and changes in our industry, the use of our products and services could decline, causing a reduction in our revenues.
- If we fail to comply with the applicable requirements of the Visa and Mastercard payment networks, those payment networks could seek to fine us, suspend us or terminate our registrations through our bank sponsor.
- If our bank sponsorship is terminated and we are not able to secure or successfully migrate our payment facilitator customer portfolio to a new bank sponsor, we will not be able to conduct our business.
- If our processing services agreement with Payroc is terminated and we are not able to enter into a replacement processing relationship with another party, our ability to provide payment processing services to our affected software customers may be adversely impacted.
- Consolidation in the banking and financial services industry could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- We have faced, and may in the future face, chargeback liabilities if our customers refuse or cannot reimburse chargebacks resolved in favor of their customers, and we may not accurately anticipate these liabilities.
- On occasion, we experience increases in interchange and sponsorship fees; if we cannot pass these increases along to our customers, our profit margins will be reduced.
- Third-party hardware that we sell to our customers is generally procured from a limited number of suppliers. Thus, we are at risk of shortages, price increases, changes, delays or discontinuations of hardware, which could disrupt our business.
- We are subject to risks associated with general economic and geopolitical conditions, the business cycles of our customers, and changes in the overall level of consumer and commercial spending, which could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- A decline in the use of cards and ACH as payment mechanisms for consumers and businesses or adverse developments in the electronic payment industry in general could adversely affect our business, financial condition and operating results.
- We may not be able to successfully execute our strategy of growth through acquisitions.
- There are certain risks associated with the sale of our Merchant Services Business which was completed in September 2024 and the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business which was completed in May 2025.
- Revenues and profits generated via acquisition may be less than anticipated, the integration process could experience delays or difficulties, and we may fail to uncover all liabilities of acquisition targets through the due diligence process prior to an acquisition, resulting in unanticipated costs, losses or a decline in profits, as well as potential impairment charges.
- We may not be able to successfully manage our intellectual property and we may be subject to infringement claims.
- In a dynamic industry like ours, our success and growth depend on our ability to attract, recruit, retain and develop qualified employees, and if we lose key personnel, or if their reputations are damaged, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected, and proprietary information of our company could be shared with our competitors.

- Our operating results and operating metrics are subject to seasonality and volatility, which could result in fluctuations in our quarterly revenues and operating results or in perceptions of our business prospects.
- We are the subject of various claims and legal proceedings, may become the subject of claims, litigation or investigations and may be a party to regulatory and other proceedings.
- We are exposed to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, which could negatively affect our financial condition and operating results.
- Our international operations subject us to additional risks.
- We are subject to extensive laws and government regulation, the cost of compliance with which can be significant, and our actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations may subject us to penalties and otherwise have an unfavorable impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Any new laws and regulations, industry standards or revisions made to existing laws, regulations or industry standards affecting the electronic payments industry, and the other industries in which we provide services, or our actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations, may have an unfavorable impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Changes in tax laws or their interpretations, or becoming subject to additional U.S., state or local taxes that cannot be passed through to our customers, could negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Changing laws and governmental rules and regulations designed to protect or limit access to or use of personal information could adversely affect our ability to effectively provide our products and services, and actual or perceived failure to comply with such legal and regulatory obligations may negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- The evolving legal, ethical, and regulatory landscape over AI technologies creates uncertainties.
- The ongoing focus on environmental, social and governance practices could increase our costs, harm our reputation and adversely impact our financial results.
- Our indebtedness could adversely affect our financial health and competitive position and we may not be able to secure additional financing on favorable terms, or at all, to meet our future capital needs.
- We are a holding company with no operations of our own, and our principal asset is our controlling membership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC, and we depend on distributions from i3 Verticals, LLC.
- The interests of the other Continuing Equity Owners in our business may conflict with the interests of holders of shares of our Class A common stock.
- We may not be able to realize all or a portion of the tax benefits that are expected to result from future redemptions or exchanges of common units by holders.
- In certain cases, payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement to the Continuing Equity Owners may be accelerated or significantly exceed the actual benefits we realize in respect of the tax attributes subject to the Tax Receivable Agreement.
- In certain circumstances, i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make distributions to us and the Continuing Equity Owners, and the distributions that i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make may be substantial.
- Our failure to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act could have a significant and adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.
- Certain provisions of Delaware law and anti-takeover provisions in our organizational documents could delay or prevent a change of control.
- Holders of our Class A common stock may be diluted by future issuances of preferred stock or additional Class A common stock or common units in connection with our incentive plans, acquisitions or otherwise; future sales of such shares in the public market could lower our stock price.

PART I

Item 1. Business

Our Company

i3 Verticals provides mission-critical enterprise software solutions to public sector entities. These comprehensive cloud-native solutions address a broad range of government functions, including courts and public safety, public administration, utilities, transportation and schools. The Company's mission is to enable state and local governments and related agencies to perform their functions and serve their constituents as effectively and efficiently as possible. With thousands of software installations across all 50 states and Canada, i3 Verticals is a leader in the public sector vertical.

Sale of Merchant Services Business

On September 20, 2024, i3 Verticals, LLC, and i3 Holdings Sub, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC ("Corporation Seller," and collectively with i3 Verticals, LLC, the "Sellers") completed the transactions (such closing, the "Closing") contemplated by that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of June 26, 2024 (the "Merchant Services Purchase Agreement"), by and among i3 Verticals, LLC, Corporation Seller, the Company (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Sellers as set forth in the Purchase Agreement), Payroc Buyer, LLC ("Buyer"), and Payroc WorldAccess, LLC (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Buyer as set forth in the Merchant Services Purchase Agreement), the entry into which Merchant Services Purchase Agreement was previously disclosed in a Current Report on Form 8-K filed by the Company on June 26, 2024. Pursuant to the terms of the Merchant Services Purchase Agreement, the Sellers sold to Buyer the equity interests of certain direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Sellers (the "Merchant Services Acquired Entities") primarily comprising the Company's merchant services business, including its associated proprietary technology (the "Merchant Services Business"), after giving effect to the contribution of certain assets and the assignment of certain liabilities associated with the Merchant Services Business from i3 Verticals, LLC and certain affiliates to the Merchant Services Acquired Entities pursuant to a contribution agreement which was entered into immediately prior to the Closing. Pursuant to the terms of the Merchant Services Purchase Agreement, Buyer paid to Sellers an aggregate purchase price of approximately $439.5 million paid in cash at the Closing, after giving effect to post-closing net working capital, indebtedness and cash adjustments.

Sale of Healthcare RCM Business

On May 5, 2025, i3 Verticals, LLC and i3 Healthcare Solutions, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC ("Seller," and collectively with i3 Verticals, LLC, the "Seller Parties"), completed the sale of the equity interests of certain wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Seller (the "Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities") which owned and operated the Company's healthcare revenue cycle management business, including its associated proprietary technology (the "Healthcare RCM Business"), to Infix, Inc. ("Healthcare RCM Buyer"), a Texas corporation, pursuant to the terms of that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of May 5, 2025, by and among Healthcare RCM Buyer and the Seller Parties (the "Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement;" the transactions contemplated by the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, the "Healthcare RCM Transactions"). In addition, immediately prior to the sale of the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities pursuant to the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, i3 Verticals, LLC and certain of its subsidiaries contributed and/or assigned certain assets and certain liabilities related to the Healthcare RCM Business to the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities. The purchase price payable by Healthcare RCM Buyer to Seller for the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities was $96.3 million, paid in cash at closing, after giving effect to post-closing net working capital, indebtedness and cash adjustments.

Organic Growth

The ability to organically grow revenue over the long term is the result of expanding recurring revenue streams, strategic selection of markets and continued investment in our products.

Approximately 76% of our revenue from continuing operations is considered recurring. We earn most of our revenue from software and related services. We also earn revenue from volume and transaction-based fees for payment processing services, all of which are integrated into our software. Our proprietary payment facilitator platform seamlessly integrates into our software solutions, unlocking additional value.

We focus on solutions in Public Sector markets because of the following characteristics:

- Technologically underserved markets
- Large and growing total addressable markets
- Fragmented competitive landscape
- Ample opportunity for transaction-based revenues
- Insulation from market cycles

With deep integration into our customers' operations, we believe that we are well positioned to conceive and build products that meet their growing needs. Ongoing investment into improving existing platforms and strategically creating new platforms and products is an essential part of our long-term strategy.

Ability to Use Acquisitions to Drive Growth

A core component of our growth strategy includes a disciplined approach to acquisitions of both companies and technology. Our leadership team has decades of experience acquiring and integrating software businesses. Acquisitions have extended our product offerings and capabilities, thereby enhancing our value proposition to customers and increasing our addressable markets. Target businesses are generally founder lead, growing, generating cash flow, and augmenting our existing solutions. Through our proprietary payment facilitator platform, we have scale, pricing and expertise in payments. As a result, we often identify targets who lack integrated payment functionality within their solutions or have under-monetized the opportunity. We maintain a strong pipeline of acquisition targets and regularly evaluate businesses against our acquisition criteria.

Segment Presentation

As a result of the sale of the Merchant Services Business in 2024 and the Healthcare RCM Business in 2025, the results of operations for the Merchant Services Business and Healthcare RCM Business have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented.

After giving effect to these developments, we have one operating segment and reportable segment. We provide mission-critical enterprise software and services solutions to our public sector customers at the state, county, and local levels of public entities. Our solutions deliver end-to-end digital transformation, streamlining complex government operations and enhancing citizen engagement.

For additional information, see Note 19 to our consolidated financial statements and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Markets

We have products and solutions that create an efficient flow of information throughout a variety of public sector entities. We serve customers at both the state and local level and our geographic reach covers most of the United States and some of Canada. Our solutions help our customers provide more responsive and efficient services to their citizens and stakeholders.

We primarily serve the following markets:

- JusticeTech: Product categories include (1) fully integrated digital solutions offering dynamic processes to plan, coordinate, evaluate, record, and provide up to date information within court systems, (2) E-Filing and revenue cycle management solutions for courts and (3) solutions for computer aided dispatch, records management, evidence management, jail management, mobile solutions, and livescan.
- Utilities: Product categories include (1) a digital customer engagement platform, including web, mobile, chat, and voice options, intuitive self-service options and (2) billing and back-office management software solutions and services to enhance enterprise applications, improve customer experience, and increase efficiency of utility operations.
- Public Administration: Product categories include (1) government fund accounting software, (2) digital land records solutions including AI indexing of information, (3) computer assisted mass appraisal solutions, (4) licensing and permitting solutions including automation every step of the application, renewal and payment process and (5) tax and revenue collection management solutions.

- Education: Products include (1) comprehensive solutions for school lunch programs, including meal account management, point of sale, menu planning, nutritional analysis, food inventory and free and reduced meal applications and (2) school event solutions, including ticketing and concessions.
- Transportation: Products include (1) vehicle title and registration software (2) driver's license and permit management software and (3) motor carrier compliance for departments of transportation in the United States and Canada.

We deliver integrated payments with our proprietary payment facilitator platform throughout many of these products. These solutions allow our customers to efficiently process court, tax, registration, utility, school and other payments.

Our Technology

Our team of highly skilled and experienced technologists is dedicated to implementing software products that cater to the diverse and evolving needs of our customers. We develop and refine our technology to ensure that our market-leading solutions solve relevant pain points for our client base. At i3 Verticals, our focus is on delivering agile, scalable, and secure technology platforms to each customer.

Agile Development

Our flexible approach to digital delivery is centered around agility. We prioritize rapid development, continuous improvement, and dynamic responsiveness in our ever-changing environment. This means our customers receive software solutions that evolve with their needs as well as the market. Our product management life cycle ensures our products remain robust and flexible. Product roadmaps drive our investments.

Our development is supported by streamlined back-office technology to increase efficiency. This includes unified systems for team communication, work management, and software delivery reducing dependency on multiple vendors across the enterprise while creating efficiency and reducing expenses. We have been endeavoring to thoughtfully incorporate AI capabilities into our platforms and workflows-enhancing automation, decision-making, and customer experience without adding unnecessary complexity. Together, these initiatives support our commitment to operational efficiency and exceptional service delivery.

Scalable Platforms

We understand that scalability is critical to meeting the growing demands of the digital landscape. Our cloud-first strategy drives solutions that are designed to expand seamlessly, empowering our systems to adapt, grow, and thrive without constraints. New development is always cloud-native SaaS solutions.

We are a scaled partner of both Amazon Web Services ("AWS") and Microsoft Azure ("Azure") cloud services. We have continued to make strong progress in our cloud transformation, with the vast majority of our collocated assets already migrated into the cloud. At the same time, we have consolidated previously separate cloud subscriptions into a unified enterprise platform, improving efficiency, enhancing security, and optimizing cost. Our multi-cloud partnerships further provide flexibility and access to advanced capabilities that set us apart from many competitors.

Secure Solutions

Further strengthening our technology infrastructure, we have centralized cybersecurity measures using fully integrated Microsoft tools, including endpoint detection and response, mobile device management, and identity and access management solutions.

Payment Technology

In addition to our broad suite of enterprise software solutions, we have developed a proprietary payment facilitation platform. We have centralized our payment solutions onto our proprietary gateway, providing us with excellent scale and pricing with our processing partner. Consolidation of the payments platform also reduces our overall PCI scope and increases margins by lowering expenses. Capabilities include:

- integration with customer business management systems,
- integration with EMV/contactless devices,

- unified reporting for our customers across ACH, card, etc.,
- risk management, and
- PCI-compliant security and extensive reporting tools.

We offer our customers a single point of access through our powerful intuitive proprietary core platform. From there we offer a suite of proprietary payment and software solutions spanning brick and mortar locations, web-based and mobile-based payments.

Our payment technology platforms include a unified application programming interface that provides access to ACH processing and payment facilitator merchant processing capabilities. The platform APIs allow access to Europay, Mastercard and Visa (“EMV”) devices using an implementation that shields software providers from the requirements of PCI or payment application data security standard certifications. We also support Paypal and Venmo payments.

Our Sales and Marketing

At i3 Verticals, we prioritize keeping our sales, operations, and marketing activities close to our customers—ensuring every decision is informed by their needs, preferences, and feedback. While our Sales Team members are experts in their primary markets, they sell cross-market to ensure that the customer is getting the solution needed. We have approximately 30 employees devoted to sales and an additional 30 employees in supporting sales roles as of September 30, 2025.

Our corporate marketing team operates as a shared services model within i3 Verticals, working in cooperation with market-embedded RFP and marketing resources. The team sets and executes the strategy for delivering our story through various channels. Additionally, the team works closely with sales staff to keep a pulse on customer needs and adjust quickly when necessary.

Our Operations

Our operations team is uniquely structured to optimize the experience of our customers. These market focused business support teams deliver a scalable support structure that aligns our services with the economic goals of our company. Each operations team is positioned to support the functions of their customer base. Key performance indicators mark their progress toward achieving the goals established by each market. A strong network of shared services, such as marketing, legal, finance and HR, support our individual markets and ensure they are focused on providing best in-class service to our customers.

Our operations team is structured to effectively meet the individual needs of our customers. This includes:

- customer onboarding;
- data conversions and migrations;
- software configurations and integrations;
- customer support and retention;
- customer training and activations;
- contract renewals, billing and financial review;
- credit underwriting and risk management;
- payment facilitator processing support; and
- end-user customer support.

Our technical operations team oversees the execution of development, quality control, delivery and support for our enterprise software solutions and proprietary payment facilitator platform. Products are developed and tested according to the software development lifecycle, composed of iterative backlog refinement, feature prioritization, development and testing with a dedicated focus on planning and execution. Releases are modeled on continuous deployment and added to the live environment on a routine basis. Each application is built with redundancy to foster resiliency and built to be easily managed during a disaster recovery scenario. Our hosted solutions are managed within dedicated environments within AWS and Azure that align with various compliance standards specific to each industry.

Our Competition

We compete with a variety of public sector software providers that have different business models, go-to-market strategies and technical capabilities. We believe the most significant competitive factors in our markets are:

1. Quality, including the ability of our products and solutions to address the specific needs of our customers;
2. Service, including our ability to bring value-added solutions and strong customer support;
3. Trust, including a strong reputation for quality service;
4. Convenience, such as speed in customer onboarding and approving applications;
5. Certainty of execution and delivery;
6. Modernization of legacy systems;
7. Pricing flexibility due to unique funding models;
8. Compliance requirements;
9. Talent retention;
10. Enhanced constituent accessibility; and
11. Cybersecurity and privacy.

Our competitors range from large and well-established companies to smaller, earlier-stage businesses. See “Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business and Industry— The enterprise software industry is competitive. Such competition could adversely affect the revenue we receive, and as a result, our margins, business, financial condition and results of operations.” in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Human Capital

To facilitate talent attraction and retention, we strive to make i3 Verticals a safe and healthy workplace, with opportunities for our employees to grow and develop in their careers, supported by competitive compensation and benefits programs.

The success of our business is fundamentally connected to the well-being of our people. Accordingly, we provide our eligible employees with access to flexible and convenient medical programs intended to meet their needs and the needs of their families. In addition to standard medical coverage, for our domestic employees, we offer dental and vision coverage, health savings and flexible spending accounts, paid time off, flexible work schedules on a case-by-case basis, employee assistance programs, voluntary short term and long-term disability insurance and term life insurance. For our non-U.S. employees, in addition to standard medical coverage, we offer benefits that we believe are consistent with local practices for similarly situated companies.

We provide competitive compensation and benefits programs to help meet the needs of our employees. In addition to salaries, these programs (which vary across our businesses) include bonus opportunities and, for our domestic employees, a 401(k) Plan. We use targeted stock option grants and restricted stock units (“RSUs”) with vesting conditions to facilitate retention of personnel, and we are proud that a large percentage of our workforce owns i3 Verticals shares, RSUs or options to purchase i3 Verticals shares. We believe this dynamic aligns important economic incentives and encourages an entrepreneurial spirit.

We have built a collaborative culture that recognizes and rewards innovation as well as offering employees a variety of opportunities and experiences. We believe that our culture is critical to our success. As of September 30, 2025, 48% of our employees work in one of our 21 offices and 52% of our employees are fully remote or hybrid. We encourage our employees to take advantage of our flexible work arrangements to meet their individual circumstances. We are an acquisitive company and have regularly added new employees and locations because of our acquisition activity. As of November 20, 2025, we had approximately 1,202 employees in 49 states and two countries. No employees are represented by unions. We believe that our employee retention rates are competitive and we think this is a result of strong emphasis on workforce culture in our acquisition process and in our operational decision making.

Seasonality

We have experienced in the past, and may continue to experience, seasonal fluctuations in our revenues as a result of consumer and business spending patterns. The number of business days in a month or quarter also may affect seasonal fluctuations. Certain revenues fluctuate with the fiscal calendars of our customers. Transactional revenue for our Education customers is strongest in August, September, October, January and February, at the start of each semester, and generally weakens throughout the semester, with little revenue in the summer months of June and July. Operating expenses show less seasonal fluctuation, with the result that net income is subject to the same seasonal factors as our revenues. The growth in our business may have partially overshadowed seasonal trends to date, and seasonal impacts on our business may be more pronounced in the future.

Government Regulation

We operate in an increasingly complex legal and regulatory environment. Our business and the products and services that we offer are subject to a variety of federal, state and local laws and regulations and the rules and standards of the payment networks that we utilize to provide our electronic payment services, as more fully described below.

Dodd-Frank Act

The 2010 Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act") and the related rules and regulations have resulted in significant changes to the regulation of the financial services industry. Changes impacting the electronic payment industry include providing merchants with the ability to set minimum dollar amounts for the acceptance of credit cards and to offer discounts or incentives to entice consumers to pay with cash, checks, debit cards or credit cards, as the merchant prefers. The Durbin Amendment to the Dodd-Frank Act provides that the Federal Reserve regulate interchange fees that certain issuers charge merchants for debit transactions and these fees must be "reasonable and proportional" to the cost incurred by the issuer in authorizing, clearing and settling the transactions. Rules released by the Federal Reserve in July 2011 to implement the Durbin Amendment mandate a cap on debit transaction interchange fees for issuers with assets of $10 billion or greater. Federal Reserve approval of a final rule effective October 1, 2021 permit debit card issuers to receive a fraud-prevention adjustment to the interchange fee standards. Rules effective July 2023 contain certain prohibitions on payment network exclusivity and merchant routing restrictions of debit card transactions.

The Dodd-Frank Act also created the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (the "CFPB"), which has assumed responsibility for most federal consumer protection laws of a financial nature, and the Financial Stability Oversight Council, which has the authority to determine whether any non-bank financial company, such as us, should be supervised by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System because it is systemically important to the U.S. financial system. Any new rules or regulations implemented by the CFPB or the Financial Stability Oversight Council or in connection with the Dodd-Frank Act that are applicable to us, or any changes that are adverse to us resulting from litigation brought by third parties challenging such rules and regulations, could increase our cost of doing business or limit permissible activities.

Privacy and Information Security Regulations

We provide services that are subject to privacy laws and regulations of a variety of jurisdictions. Relevant federal privacy laws include the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999, which applies directly to a broad range of financial institutions and indirectly, or in some instances directly, to companies that provide services to financial institutions. These laws and regulations restrict the collection, processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal information, require notice to individuals of privacy practices and provide individuals with certain rights to prevent the use and disclosure of certain nonpublic or otherwise legally protected information. These laws also impose requirements for safeguarding and proper destruction of personal information through the issuance of data security standards or guidelines. Our business also may be subject to the Fair Credit Reporting Act and the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act of 2003, which regulate the use and reporting of consumer credit information and impose disclosure requirements on entities who take adverse action based on information obtained from credit reporting agencies.

All fifty states, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands have enacted data breach notification laws requiring businesses that experience a security breach of their computer databases that contain personal information to notify affected individuals, consumer reporting agencies and governmental agencies. Many states have implemented comprehensive data privacy and security laws. Certain of these laws restrict the ability to collect and utilize certain types of personal information, such as Social Security and driver's license numbers, impose secure disposal requirements for personal data and contain regulations surrounding data protection and information security. For example, Massachusetts requires any business that processes the personal information of a Massachusetts resident to adopt and implement a written information security program. In addition, states are increasingly legislating data protection requirements for a broader list of personal data and are strengthening protections for students' personal information. Illinois regulates the collection of biometric information under its Biometric Information Privacy Act. Texas and Washington have also passed legislation regulating the collection of biometric information, and additional states have legislation pending regarding the collection of biometric data. Additionally, many states have passed comprehensive consumer privacy laws, that are either currently in effect or are set to become effective in the near term including California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia. These laws require companies that process personal information of certain residents of those states to make disclosures to consumers about data practices, grants consumers specific rights to their data, and allow consumers to opt out of certain data sharing activities, and the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (the "CCPA"), as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (the "CPRA"), creates a private right of action for data breaches. In addition, various jurisdictions (both in the U.S. and in foreign jurisdictions) have enacted and/or have been considering laws and regulations applicable to the use of artificial intelligence ("AI") and machine learning applications and tools, particularly on the use of artificial intelligence to facilitate healthcare, education, employment, or hiring decisions.

To the extent we are subject to such legislation, the potential effects on our business are often far-reaching and may require us to modify our data processing practices and policies and to incur substantial costs and expenses in an effort to comply. Such laws often provide for civil penalties or fines for violations. Each privacy law and regulation that applies to us could increase our cost of doing business or limit permissible activities. We are also subject to numerous federal and state laws and regulations related to the privacy and security of health information. See "—Healthcare Regulatory Matters" below.

As an entity that provides services to educational institutions, we are indirectly subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA") or Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment ("PPRA"), and we may not transfer or otherwise disclose or use any personally identifiable information from a student record to another party other than on a basis and in a manner permitted under the statutes. See "Risk Factors—If we violate the FERPA or PPRA, it could result in a material breach of contract with one or more of our Education customers and could harm our reputation. Further, if we disclose student information in violation of FERPA or PPRA, our access to student information could be suspended."

Healthcare Regulatory Matters

While we no longer provide revenue cycle management software to customers in the healthcare industry following the sale of our Healthcare RCM business, we continue to offer enterprise software solutions for a limited number of healthcare-adjacent customers. Participants in the healthcare industry are subject to extensive and complex federal, state and local laws and regulations, including those relating to privacy and security of health and other personal information, interoperability and information blocking, billing and coding for services and fraud and abuse. Although many of these regulatory requirements do not directly apply to our operations, these requirements may affect the businesses of certain of our customers and may impact our services. The potential consequences for violating applicable laws or regulations may include administrative, civil and criminal sanctions and penalties, including exclusion from participation in Medicare, Medicaid and other federal and state healthcare programs.

For example, regulations promulgated pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (collectively "HIPAA"), which establish privacy and security standards that limit the use and disclosure of certain individually identifiable health information, require safeguards to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of such information, and require notifying affected individuals and the government of breaches.

Prior to the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business, we provided billing and coding services, claims processing and other solutions to providers. Medical billing, coding and collection activities that were governed by numerous federal and state laws, regulations, including laws prohibiting false or fraudulent claims, the federal Anti-Kickback Statute ("AKS"), and the Civil Monetary Penalties Law. Although we believe that our business relationships were structured to comply with applicable laws, we cannot provide assurance that regulatory authorities enforcing these laws would determine these financial arrangements complied with applicable laws. In addition, we relied on our customers to provide us with accurate and complete information and to appropriately use the solutions we provided to them, but they may have not always done so.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Regulation

Our business is subject to U.S. federal anti-money laundering laws and regulations, including the Bank Secrecy Act of 1970, as amended by the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001, which we refer to collectively as the "BSA." The BSA, among other things, requires money services businesses to develop and implement risk-based anti-money laundering programs, report large cash transactions and suspicious activity and maintain transaction records. We are also subject to certain economic and trade sanctions programs that are administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") that prohibit or restrict transactions to or from (or transactions dealing with) specified countries, their governments and, in certain circumstances, their nationals, such as those who might be narcotics traffickers and terrorists or terrorist organizations. Similar anti-money laundering, counter terrorist financing and proceeds of crime laws apply to movements of currency and payments through electronic transactions and to dealings with persons specified on lists maintained by organizations similar to OFAC in several other countries and which may impose specific data retention obligations or prohibitions on intermediaries in the payment process. We have developed and continue to enhance compliance programs and policies to monitor and address related legal and regulatory requirements and developments.

Unfair or Deceptive Acts or Practices

We and many of our customers are subject to Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act prohibiting unfair or deceptive acts or practices. In addition, laws prohibiting these activities and other laws, rules and or regulations, including the Telemarketing Sales Act, may directly impact the activities of certain of our customers, and in some cases may subject us, as the customer's payment processor or provider of certain services, to investigations, fees, fines and disgorgement of funds if we are deemed to have aided and abetted or otherwise provided the means and instrumentalities to facilitate the illegal or improper activities of the customer through our services. Various federal and state regulatory enforcement agencies, including the Federal Trade Commission and the states attorneys general, have authority to take action against non-banks that engage in unfair or deceptive acts or practices or violate other laws, rules and regulations and to the extent we are processing payments or providing services for a customer that may be in violation of laws, rules and regulations, we may be subject to enforcement actions and as a result may incur losses and liabilities that may impact our business.

In addition, the CFPB has recently attempted to extend certain provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act that prevent the employment of unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices (“UDAAP”) to payment processors. Though there is still litigation involving whether payment processing companies are subject to these requirements (and the extent of their application), these requirements may apply or be applicable in the future. UDAAPs could involve omissions or misrepresentations of important information to consumers or practices that take advantage of vulnerable consumers, such as elderly or low-income consumers.

Prepaid Products

Prepaid products, such as store gift cards, are subject to various federal and state laws and regulations, which may include laws and regulations related to consumer and data protection, licensing, consumer disclosures, escheat, anti-money laundering, banking, trade practices and competition. The customers who utilize prepaid products and services that we may sell may be subject to these laws and regulations. In the future, if we seek to expand these prepaid card products and services, or as a result of regulatory changes, we may be subject to additional regulation and may be required to obtain additional licenses and registrations which we may not be able to obtain.

The Credit Card Accountability Responsibility and Disclosure Act of 2009 (the “Card Act”) gift card provisions created requirements applicable to general-use prepaid cards, store gift cards and gift certificates. The Card Act, along with the Federal Reserve’s amended Regulation E, created new requirements with respect to general-use prepaid cards, store gift cards and gift certificates. These include restrictions to impose dormancy, inactivity or service fees, expiration date not less than five years from the date of issuance and revised pre-purchase disclosure obligations. Products offered on a prepaid basis may also be subject to the rules and regulations of Visa, Mastercard, Discover and American Express and other payment networks with which our customers and the card issuers do business. The customers who utilize the gift card processing products and services that we may sell are responsible for compliance with all applicable rules and requirements relating to their gift product program.

Additionally, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network of the U.S. Department of the Treasury (“FinCEN”), issued a final rule in July 2011 regarding the applicability of the BSA’s regulations to “prepaid access” products and services. This rulemaking clarifies the anti-money laundering obligations for entities engaged in the provision and sale of prepaid access including prepaid gift cards. We are not registered with FinCEN based on our determination that our current products and services do not constitute a “prepaid program” as defined in the BSA and we are not a “provider” of prepaid access. We may in the future need to register with FinCEN as a “money services business-provider of prepaid access” in accordance with the rule based on changes to our products or services.

Indirect Regulatory Requirements

Certain of our partners are financial institutions that are directly subject to various regulations and compliance obligations issued by the CFPB, the Federal Reserve System, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Administration and other agencies responsible for regulating financial institutions, which includes state financial institution regulators. While these regulatory requirements and compliance obligations do not apply directly to us, many of these requirements materially affect the services we provide to our customers and us overall. The financial institution regulators have imposed requirements on regulated financial institutions to manage their third-party service providers. Among other things, these requirements include performing appropriate due diligence when selecting third-party service providers; evaluating the risk management, information security, and information management systems of third-party service providers; imposing contractual protections in agreements with third-party service providers (such as performance measures, audit and remediation rights, indemnification, compliance requirements, confidentiality and information security obligations, insurance requirements, and limits on liability); and conducting ongoing monitoring, diligence and audits of the performance of third-party service providers. Additionally, certain of our customers are governmental entities, which may be subject to further federal, state or local requirements. Accommodating these requirements applicable to our customers imposes additional costs and risks in connection with both our operations and our financial institution relationships. We expect to expend significant resources on an ongoing basis in an effort to assist our customers in meeting their legal requirements.

Payment Network Rules and Standards

Payment networks establish their own rules and standards that allocate liabilities and responsibilities among the payment networks and their participants. These rules and standards, including the PCI DSS, govern a variety of areas of the payments industry, including how we can process transactions, how consumers and customers may use their cards, how our customers may conduct their business regarding the acceptance of payments (including the types and amounts of fees that can be assessed for the acceptance of payments), the security features of cards, security standards for processing, data security and allocation of liability for certain acts or omissions including liability in the event of a data breach. The payment networks may change these rules and standards from time to time as they may determine in their sole discretion and with or without advance notice to their participants. These changes may be made for any number of reasons, including as a result of changes in the regulatory environment, to maintain or attract new participants, or to serve the strategic initiatives of the networks and may impose additional costs and expenses on or be disadvantageous to certain participants. Changes to these rules and standards could alter or prohibit certain current industry business practices which could impact our ability to provide services to various market segments we service. Participants are subject to audit by the payment networks to ensure compliance with applicable rules and standards. The networks may fine, penalize or suspend the registration of participants for certain acts or omissions or the failure of the participants to comply with applicable rules and standards.

A significant network rule is the “chip and pin” or “chip and signature” card requirement, known as EMV, which was mandated by Visa, Mastercard, American Express and Discover to be supported by payment processors by April 2013 and merchants by October 2015. This mandate set new requirements and technical standards, including requiring integrated point of sale systems to be capable of accepting the more secure “chip” enabled cards that utilize the EMV standard and setting new rules for data handling and security. Processors and customers that do not comply with the mandate or do not use systems that are EMV compliant risk fines and liability for fraud-related charges. We have invested significant resources to ensure our systems’ compliance with the mandate, and to assist our customers in fulfilling their EMV compliance responsibilities.

To provide our electronic payment services, we must be registered with each of the payment networks that we utilize. Because we are not a bank, we are not eligible for primary membership in certain payment networks, including Visa and Mastercard, and are therefore unable to directly access these networks. The operating regulations of certain payment networks, including Visa and Mastercard, require us to be sponsored by a member bank. We are registered with certain payment networks, including Visa and Mastercard, through a sponsor bank. The agreements with our bank sponsor give them substantial discretion in approving certain aspects of our business practices including our solicitation, application and qualification procedures for customers and the terms of our agreements with customers. We are also subject to network operating rules and guidelines promulgated by the National Automated Clearing House Association (“NACHA”) relating to payment transactions we process using the ACH Network. Like the card networks, NACHA may update its operating rules and guidelines at any time and we will be subject to these changes. For example, NACHA’s Micro-Entry Rule to improve the means of account validation was implemented in two stages effective September 16, 2022 and March 17, 2023, and requires originators of ACH transaction to use commercially reasonable fraud detection and to monitor forward and return micro-entry volumes. The NACHA Operating Rules and Guidelines allocate responsibility and liabilities to the various participants in the payment network, including us and our partner financial institutions. NACHA continues to focus on data security and privacy and delegation of responsibilities. We are subject to audit by our partner financial institutions for compliance with the rules and guidelines. Our sponsor financial institutions have substantial discretion in approving certain aspects of our business practices, including the terms of our agreements with our ACH processing customers.

Money Transmitter Regulation

We are subject to various U.S. federal, state, and foreign laws and regulations governing money transmission and the issuance and sale of payment instruments, including various prepaid access products we may sell.

In the United States, each state besides Montana has money transmitter license requirements and many have licenses for issuers of payment instruments and stored value. These states not only regulate and control money transmitters, but they also license entities engaged in the transmission of funds. Many states exercise authority over the operations of our services related to money transmission and payment instruments and, as part of this authority, subject us to periodic examinations. Many states require, among other things, that proceeds from money transmission activity and payment instrument sales be invested in high-quality marketable securities before the settlement of the transactions or otherwise restrict the use and safekeeping of such funds. Such licensing laws may cover matters including regulatory approval of consumer forms, required consumer disclosures, the filing of periodic and updated reports by the licensee and require the licensee to demonstrate and maintain specified levels of net worth. Many states also require money transmitters, issuers of payment instruments and stored value, and their agents to comply with federal and/or state anti-money laundering laws and regulations.

Other Regulation

We are subject to U.S. federal and state unclaimed or abandoned property (escheat) laws which require us to remit to certain government authorities property of others we hold that has been unclaimed for a specified period of time such as account balances due to a customer following discontinuation of its relationship with us. The Housing Assistance Tax Act of 2008 requires certain merchant acquiring entities and third-party settlement organizations to provide information returns for each calendar year with respect to payments made in settlement of electronic payment transactions and third-party payment network transactions occurring in that calendar year. Reportable transactions are also subject to backup withholding requirements.

The foregoing is not an exhaustive list of the laws and regulations to which we are subject and the regulatory framework governing our business is changing continuously. See “Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business and Industry” in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Our Intellectual Property

Certain of our products and services are based on proprietary software and related payment systems solutions. We rely on a combination of copyright, trademark, and trade secret laws, as well as employee and third-party non-disclosure, confidentiality, and contractual arrangements to establish, maintain, and enforce our intellectual property rights in our technology, including with respect to our proprietary rights related to our products and services. In addition, we license technology from third parties that is integrated into some of our solutions.

We own a number of registered federal service marks, including, without limitation, i3 Verticals®, i3 Education®, ImageSoft®, JusticeTech®, TrueSign®, Milestone® and PaySchools®. We also own a number of domain names, including, without limitation, www.i3verticals.com.

Available Information

Our Annual Report on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, Current Reports on Form 8-K, and amendments to reports filed pursuant to Sections 13(a) and 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). We are subject to the informational requirements of the Exchange Act and file or furnish reports, proxy statements and other information with the SEC. The SEC maintains an Internet site that contains reports, proxy and information statements and other information regarding issuers that file electronically with the SEC at www.sec.gov. We also maintain a website at www.i3verticals.com, through which you may access these materials free of charge as soon as reasonably practicable after they are electronically filed with, or furnished to, the SEC. Information contained on our website is not a part of this Annual Report on Form 10-K and the inclusion of our website address in this report is an inactive textual reference only.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Our business faces significant risks and uncertainties. If any of the following risks are realized, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. The following risk factors, some of which contain statements that constitute forward-looking statements, should be read in conjunction with “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and our consolidated financial statements and related notes.

Risks Related to Our Business and Industry

Unauthorized disclosure, destruction or modification of data or disruption of our services or other cybersecurity or technological risks, including as a result of a cybersecurity incident, could expose us to liability, protracted and costly litigation and damage our reputation.

We are responsible both for our own business and to a significant degree for acts and omissions by certain of our partners under the rules and regulations established by the payment networks, such as Visa and Mastercard, Discover and American Express, and the debit networks. We and other third parties collect, process, store and transmit sensitive data, such as names, addresses, social security numbers, credit or debit card numbers and expiration dates, drivers’ license numbers and bank account numbers, and we have ultimate liability to the payment networks and member financial institutions that register us with the payment networks for our failure, or the failure of certain third parties with whom we contract, to protect this data in accordance with payment network requirements. The loss, destruction or unauthorized modification of customer or cardholder data could result in significant fines, sanctions and proceedings or actions against us by the payment networks, governmental bodies, consumers or others, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Any such sanction, fine, proceeding or action could damage our reputation, force us to incur significant expenses in defense of these proceedings, disrupt our operations, distract our management, increase our costs of doing business and may result in the imposition of monetary liability.

We are subject to risk associated with information technology and cybersecurity matters. For example, on June 2, 2021, the State of Louisiana, Division of Administration and a putative class of Louisiana law enforcement districts filed a petition in the 19th Judicial District Court for the Parish of East Baton Rouge against i3-Software & Services, LLC (“S&S”), a subsidiary of the Company located in Shreveport, Louisiana, seeking monetary damages related to a third-party remote access software product used in connection with services provided by S&S to certain Louisiana Parish law enforcement districts and alleged inadequacies in the Company’s cybersecurity practices. For additional information about this litigation, see Note 17 to our consolidated financial statements.

The current cyber threat environment presents increased risk for all companies, in our industry and otherwise, including as a result of cyberattacks as well as ransomware attacks (through which an attacker renders an organization’s computer files inaccessible and demands a payment to return them or reinstate access), malicious software, advanced persistent threats, phishing and other attempts by malicious threat actors, including nation-state actors, ransomware groups and others to access, acquire, use disclose, shut down or manipulate information, systems, databases, processes and people. Like other companies in our industry, our systems are subject to recurring attempts by third parties to access information, manipulate data or disrupt our operations. Although we proactively employ multiple measures to defend our systems against intrusions and attacks and to protect the data we collect, our measures may not prevent unauthorized access or use of sensitive data. In addition, the cybersecurity-related threats that we face may remain undetected for an extended period of time. In addition, the rapid evolution and increased adoption of AI and other emerging technologies also may heighten our cybersecurity risks by making cyberattacks and social engineering more difficult to detect, contain and mitigate.

liability. In addition, a breach of our system or a third-party system upon which we rely may subject us to material losses or liability, including payment network fines, assessments and claims for unauthorized purchases with misappropriated credit, debit or card information, impersonation or other similar fraud claims. A misuse of such data or a cybersecurity breach could harm our reputation and deter our customers and potential customers from using electronic payments generally and our products and services specifically, thus reducing our revenue. In addition, any such misuse or breach could cause us to incur costs to correct the breaches or failures, increase our risk of regulatory scrutiny, subject us to lawsuits and result in the imposition of material penalties and fines under state and federal laws or by the payment networks. These risks may be heightened in connection with employees working from remote work environments, as our dependency on certain service providers, such as video conferencing and web conferencing services, has significantly increased. In addition, to access our network, products and services, customers and other third parties may use personal mobile devices or computing devices that are outside of our network environment and subject to their own security risks. While we maintain insurance coverage that may, subject to policy terms and conditions, cover certain aspects of cyber risks, such insurance coverage may exclude certain types of claims and otherwise be insufficient to cover all losses. A significant cybersecurity breach could also result in payment networks prohibiting us from processing transactions on their networks or the loss of our financial institution sponsorship that facilitates our participation in the payment networks, either of which could materially impede our ability to conduct business. In addition, as cybersecurity threats continue to evolve, we have expended, and expect to continue to expend, significant resources to continue to modify or enhance our protective measures or to investigate and remediate any information security vulnerabilities, but we still might be unable to successfully prevent certain cyberattacks.

Although we generally require that our agreements with third parties who have access to customer data include confidentiality obligations that restrict these parties from using or disclosing any customer data except as necessary to perform their services under the applicable agreements, there can be no assurance that these contractual measures will prevent the unauthorized disclosure of business or customer data, nor can we be sure that such third parties would be willing or able to satisfy liabilities arising from their breach of these agreements. Any failure by such third parties to adequately take these protective measures could result in protracted or costly litigation.

In addition, our agreement with our bank sponsor and applicable payment network requirements require us to take certain protective measures to ensure the confidentiality of business and consumer data. Any failure to adequately comply with these protective measures could result in fees, penalties, litigation or termination of our bank sponsor agreement.

Any significant unauthorized disclosure of sensitive data entrusted to us would cause significant damage to our reputation, impair our ability to attract new integrated technology and may cause parties with whom we already have such agreements to terminate them.

Our software and systems and our third-party providers' software and systems may fail, or our third-party providers may discontinue providing their services or technology generally or to us specifically, which in either case could interrupt our business, cause us to lose business and increase our costs.

Our services are based on software and computing systems that often encounter development delays, and the underlying software may contain undetected errors, viruses or defects. Defects in our software services or errors or delays could result in additional development costs, diversion of technical and other resources from our other development efforts, loss of credibility with current or potential customers, harm to our reputation and exposure to liability claims.

Our systems and operations or those of our third-party technology vendors could be exposed to damage or interruption from, among other things, fire, natural disaster, power loss, telecommunications failure, unauthorized entry, computer viruses, denial-of-service attacks, acts of terrorism, human error, vandalism or sabotage, financial insolvency and similar events. Our property and business interruption insurance may not be adequate to compensate us for all losses or failures that may occur. Likewise, while we have disaster recovery policies and arrangements in place, they have not been tested under actual disasters or similar events. Although we seek to minimize these risks through security measures, controls, back-up data centers and emergency planning, there can be no assurance that such efforts will be successful or effective. Defects in our systems or those of third parties, errors or delays in the processing of payment transactions, telecommunications failures or other difficulties could result in:

- loss of revenues;
- loss of customers;
- loss of customer and cardholder data;
- fines imposed by payment networks or regulators;
- harm to our business or reputation resulting from negative publicity;
- exposure to fraud losses or other liabilities;
- additional operating and development costs; or
- diversion of management, technical and other resources, among other consequences.

We rely on third parties for specific services, software and hardware used in providing our products and services. These third parties, including hosting providers such as AWS, are necessary for our internal business needs and for the delivery of various cloud and other hosted solutions to customers. These hosting providers rely on the uninterrupted operation of data centers and the ability to protect computer equipment and information stored in these data centers against unanticipated failures, intrusions, viruses, acts of terrorism and similar damaging events. If one or more of our hosting providers were unable to support our requirements for an extended period, and we are not able to find an alternative solution in a timely fashion, our customer relationships could be at risk of termination, and our business, financial condition and results of operation could be adversely impacted. In addition, to the extent a third party service provider relies on AI, improper processing of data by those service providers could harm our reputation, business and clients, or expose us to legal liability.

We also rely in part on third parties for the development and access to new technologies, or for updates to existing products and services for which they provide ongoing support. Failure by these third-party providers to devote an appropriate level of attention to our products and services could result in delays in introducing new products or services, or delays in resolving any issues with existing products or services for which third-party providers provide ongoing support. In addition, the daily activities and productivity of our workforce is tied to key vendors, such as video conferencing services and internet providers, consistently delivering their services without material disruption, malicious attacks or other factors.

Some of our solutions contain "open-source" software, and any failure to comply with the terms of one or more of applicable open-source licenses could negatively affect our business.

We use certain software licensed under open-source licenses and may continue to use such software in the future. Some open-source licenses require us to make available source code for modifications or derivative works that we create based upon the open source software, and that we license such modifications or derivative works pursuant to a particular open source license or other license allowing further use by third parties. Some open-source licenses could require us to release the source code of our proprietary software if we combine our proprietary software with the open-source software subject to that license. Additionally, the terms of many open-source licenses have not been interpreted by United States or other courts, and there is a risk that these licenses could be construed in a manner that imposes unanticipated conditions or restrictions on our ability to commercialize our solutions. Using open-source software can also be riskier than using software subject to a more restrictive license because open-source licenses generally do not contain such protections as warranties. Many of the risks associated with using open-source software cannot be eliminated and using such software could adversely affect us.

We have a history of operating losses and will need to generate significant revenues to attain and maintain profitability and positive cash flow and continue our acquisition program.

Since inception in 2012, we have been engaged in growth activities and have made a significant number of acquisitions that have grown our business. This acquisition activity requires substantial capital and other expenditures. While we had net income attributable to i3 Verticals, Inc. in the years ended September 30, 2025 and 2024 as a result of, among other things, the gains associated with the divestitures of our Healthcare RCM Business during fiscal year 2025 and our Merchant Services Business during fiscal year 2024, respectively, we incurred a net loss attributable to i3 Verticals, Inc. in the year ended September 30, 2023 and prior years, and we may continue to incur losses in the future. A substantial portion of our historical revenue growth has resulted from acquisitions. For the year ended September 30, 2025, the incremental impact of revenues attributable to the acquisitions we completed in the 2024 and 2025 fiscal years were $5.9 million, or 2.7% of our total revenues. We expect our cash needs to increase for the next several years as we:

- make additional acquisitions;
- market our products and services;
- expand our customer support and service operations;
- hire additional marketing, customer support and administrative personnel; and
- implement new and upgraded operational and financial systems, procedures and controls.

As a result of these continuing costs and expenses, we need to generate significant revenues to attain and maintain profitability and positive cash flow. If we do not continue to increase our revenues, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

The enterprise software industry is competitive. Such competition could adversely affect the revenue we receive, and as a result, our margins, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Other software providers of payment processing services have established a sizable market share in our public sector markets and service more customers than we do. Our growth will largely depend on our ability to increase our market share.

Our competitors in the enterprise software industry include, among others, Tyler Technologies, Inc., Constellation Software, Inc., Verra Mobility Corp, EverCommerce Inc., Roper Technologies, Inc., Axon Enterprise, Inc., Paymentus Holdings, Inc., Flywire Corporation and Cellebrite DI Ltd.

Many of our competitors may have substantially greater financial, technological, and marketing resources than we have. Accordingly, if these competitors specifically target our business model, they may be able to offer more attractive solutions to our customers. They also may be able to offer and provide products and services that we do not offer. Additionally, larger financial institutions may decide to perform in-house some or all of the services we provide or could provide, which may give them a competitive advantage in the market. There are also a large number of small providers of software services or payment processing services that provide various ranges of services to our customers and our potential customers. This competition may effectively limit the prices we can charge and requires us to control costs aggressively in order to maintain acceptable profit margins. Competition could also result in a loss of customers and greater difficulty attracting new customers. One or more of these factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, we are also subject to risks as a result of changes in business habits of our vendors and customers as they adjust to the competitive marketplace. Because our standing arrangements and agreements with our vendors and customers typically contain no purchase or sale obligations and are terminable by either party upon no or relatively short notice, we are subject to significant risks associated with the loss or change at any time in the business habits and financial condition of key vendors as they adapt to changes in the market.

The development of next-generation solutions that utilize advanced features, including AI and machine learning, may require us to make predictions about the willingness of the markets we serve to adopt such offerings. In connection therewith, we may be required to commit significant resources to maintain the competitiveness of our offerings by investing in such technologies before knowing whether we have correctly predicted market responsiveness to them.

If we cannot keep pace with rapid developments and changes in our industry, the use of our products and services could decline, causing a reduction in our revenues.

The enterprise software market is subject to constant and significant changes. This market is characterized by rapid technological evolution, new product and service introductions, evolving industry standards, changing customer needs and the entrance of non-traditional competitors. To remain competitive, we continually pursue initiatives to develop new products and services to compete in an effective manner. These projects carry risks, such as cost overruns, delays in delivery, performance problems and lack of customer acceptance. In addition, new products and offerings may not perform as intended or generate the business or revenue growth expected. Additionally, we look for acquisition opportunities, investments and alliance relationships with other businesses that will increase our market penetration and enhance our technological capabilities, product offerings and distribution capabilities. Any delay in the delivery of new products and services or the failure to differentiate our products and services or to accurately predict and address market demand could render our products and services less desirable, or even obsolete. Any of the foregoing could have a material and adverse effect on our operating results and financial condition.

The continued growth and development of our software and related services will depend on our ability to anticipate and adapt to changes in consumer behavior. For example, our failure to timely integrate emerging payment methods into our software could cause us to lose traction among our customers, resulting in a corresponding loss of revenue.

Our payment processing technology offerings in connection with our software must also integrate with a variety of network, hardware, mobile and software platforms and technologies. Any failure to deliver an effective, reliable and secure service or any performance issue that arises could result in significant processing or reporting errors or other losses. Our future success will depend in part on our ability to develop or adapt to technological changes and evolving industry standards. If we are unable to develop, adapt to or access technological changes or evolving industry standards on a timely and cost-effective basis, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected.

If we fail to comply with the applicable requirements of the Visa and Mastercard payment networks, those payment networks could seek to fine us, suspend us or terminate our registrations through our bank sponsor.

We do not directly access the payment card networks, such as Visa and Mastercard, that enable our acceptance of credit cards and debit cards, including some types of prepaid cards. Accordingly, we must rely on our bank sponsor or other payment processing providers to process transactions and must pay fees for the services. To provide our payment facilitator services, we are registered through our bank sponsor with the Visa and Mastercard networks. The majority of our payment volume in fiscal year 2025 was attributable to transactions processed on the Visa and Mastercard networks. We, our bank sponsor and many of our customers are subject to complex and evolving payment network rules. The payment networks routinely update and modify requirements applicable to payment facilitators, including rules regulating data integrity, third-party relationships (such as those with respect to our bank sponsor), merchant chargeback standards and Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard ("PCI DSS"). The rules of the card networks are set by their boards, which may be influenced by card issuers, some of which offer competing transaction processing services. The PCI Security Standards Council released fulsome revisions in version 4.0, which has been further updated by version 4.0.1, and includes stronger standards that increase the compliance burden on processors and require additional training, education and support tools for processors to support their merchants.

If we or our bank sponsor fails to comply with the applicable rules and requirements of the Visa or Mastercard payment networks, Visa or Mastercard could suspend or terminate our member registration or certification, which would make it impossible for us to conduct our business on its current scale. Further, our transaction processing capabilities, including with respect to settlement processes, could be delayed or otherwise disrupted, and recurring non-compliance could result in the payment networks seeking to fine us. In addition, card networks and their member financial institutions regularly update, and generally expand, security expectations and requirements related to the security of cardholder data and environment. Under certain circumstances, we are required to report incidents to the card networks within a specified time frame.

We may also be subject to penalties from the payment card networks if we fail to detect that our customers are engaging in activities that are illegal, contrary to the payment card network operating rules, or considered "high-risk." We must either prevent high-risk merchants from using our products and services or register such merchants with the payment card networks and conduct additional monitoring with respect to such merchants. Such penalties could be material and could result in termination of registration or could require changes in our process for registering new customers. This could materially and adversely affect our business.

Under certain circumstances specified in the payment network rules, we may be required to submit to periodic audits, self-assessments or other assessments of our compliance with the PCI DSS. Such activities may reveal that we have failed to comply with the PCI DSS. In addition, even if we comply with the PCI DSS, there is no assurance that we will be protected from a security breach. The termination of our registration with the payment networks, or any changes in payment network or issuer rules that limit our ability to provide payment facilitation services, could have an adverse effect on our payment processing volumes, revenues and operating costs. If we are unable to comply with the requirements applicable to our settlement activities, the payment networks may no longer allow us to provide these services, which would require us to spend additional resources to obtain settlement services from a third-party provider. In addition, if we were precluded from processing Visa and Mastercard electronic payments, we would lose substantially all of our payments-related revenues.

We are also subject to the operating rules of Nacha, a self-regulatory organization which administers and facilitates private-sector operating rules for ACH payments and defines the roles and responsibilities of financial institutions and other ACH network participants. The Nacha Operating Rules impose obligations on us and our partner financial institutions. These obligations include audit and oversight by the financial institutions and the imposition of mandatory corrective action, including termination, for serious violations. If an audit or self-assessment under PCI DSS or Nacha identifies any deficiencies that we need to remediate, the remediation efforts may distract our management team and be expensive and time consuming.

If our bank sponsorship is terminated and we are not able to secure or successfully migrate customer portfolios to a new bank sponsor, we will not be able to conduct our business.

If the bank that sponsors us with the Visa and Mastercard networks stop sponsoring us, we would need to find other financial institutions to provide those services, which could be difficult and expensive. If we were unable to find a replacement financial institution to provide sponsorship, we could no longer provide processing services to affected customers, which would negatively impact our revenues and earnings. Furthermore, our bank sponsor retains substantial discretion in approving certain aspects of our business practices, including our solicitation, application and qualification procedures for customers and the terms of our agreements with customers. Our bank sponsor's discretionary actions could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

If our processing services agreement with Payroc is terminated and we are not able to enter into replacement processing relationship with another party, our ability to provide payment processing services to our affected software customers may be adversely impacted.

In connection with the sale of our Merchant Services Business, we entered into a processing services agreement with Payroc (the "Payroc Processing Agreement"). Under the Payroc Processing Agreement, Payroc agreed to, among other things, process payments for a portion of our software customers in accordance with Payroc's relationships with certain payment processors and sponsor banks. This processing structure for these specific software customers is intended to be temporary, and we expect such customers will eventually transition into our payment facilitation platform. If, however, the Payroc Processing Agreement is terminated and we are unable to enter into a replacement processing relationship with another party on acceptable terms or in a timely fashion, or if Payroc's relationship with its processors or sponsor banks is terminated or significantly modified in fashion that is adverse to us or our customers, our ability to provide payment processing services to our affected software customers may be adversely impacted, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Consolidation in the banking and financial services industry could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Consolidations have been, and continue to be, active in the banking and financial services industry. It is possible that larger financial institutions that result from consolidations will have increased bargaining power when negotiating, which could result in less favorable contractual terms for us. Larger financial institutions resulting from consolidations may also decide to perform in-house some or all of the services we provide or could provide. These foregoing matters could have an adverse effect on our business, result of operations and financial condition.

We have faced, and may in the future face, chargeback liabilities if our customers refuse or cannot reimburse chargebacks resolved in favor of their customers, and we may not accurately anticipate these liabilities.

We have potential liability for chargebacks associated with our customers' processing transactions. In most circumstances, if a billing dispute between a customer and a cardholder is not ultimately resolved in favor of our customer, the disputed transaction is "charged back" to the customer's bank and credited to the account of the cardholder. Anytime our customer is unable to satisfy a chargeback, we are responsible for that chargeback.

If we are unable to collect the chargeback from the customer's account or reserve account (if applicable), or if the customer refuses or is financially unable due to bankruptcy or other reasons to reimburse us for the chargeback, we bear the loss for the amount of the refund paid to the cardholder's bank. While we did not incur material chargeback losses in our 2025 or 2024 fiscal years, any increase in chargebacks not paid by our customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are potentially liable for losses caused by fraudulent card transactions. Card fraud occurs when a customer's customer uses a stolen or counterfeit credit, debit or prepaid card, card number or other credentials to purchase merchandise or services. In a traditional card-present transaction, if the customer swipes the card, receives authorization for the transaction from the card issuing bank and verifies the signature on the back of the card against the paper receipt signed by the customer, the card issuing bank remains liable for any loss. In a fraudulent card-not-present transaction, even if the customer receives authorization for the transaction, the customer is liable for any loss arising from the transaction. Many of our customers transact a substantial percentage of their transactions over the Internet or in response to telephone orders. Because their sales are card-not-present transactions, these customers are more vulnerable to customer fraud than other customers.

Business fraud occurs when a business or organization, rather than a cardholder, knowingly uses a stolen or counterfeit card or card number to record a false sales transaction, or intentionally fails to deliver the merchandise or services sold in an otherwise valid transaction. Business fraud also occurs when employees of businesses change the business demand deposit accounts to their personal bank account numbers, so that payments are improperly credited to the employee's personal account. We have established systems and procedures to detect and reduce the impact of business fraud, but there can be no assurance that these measures are or will be effective. Incidents of fraud could increase in the future. Failure to effectively manage risk and prevent fraud could increase our chargeback liability and other liability, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

On occasion, we experience increases in interchange and sponsorship fees; if we cannot pass these increases along to our customers, our profit margins will be reduced.

We pay interchange fees or assessments to the issuing bank through the card associations for each transaction that is processed using their credit and debit cards. From time to time, the card associations increase the interchange fees that they charge processors and the sponsoring bank. At their sole discretion, our sponsoring bank may pass increases in interchange fees on to us. In addition, our sponsoring bank may seek to increase its sponsorship fees charged to us, all of which are based upon the dollar amount of the payment transactions we process. If we are not able to pass these fee increases along to customers through corresponding increases in our processing fees, our profit margins will be reduced.

Third-party hardware that we sell to our customers is generally procured from a limited number of suppliers. Thus, we are at risk of shortages, price increases, changes, delays or discontinuations of hardware, which could disrupt our business.

Some of our solutions require or benefit from the use of third-party hardware products that we sell to our customers, such as kiosks, payment terminals and point of sale equipment. A number of such products come from limited number of suppliers. Due to our reliance on the products produced by a limited number of suppliers, we are subject to the risk of shortages and long lead times in the supply of certain products. Additionally, various sources of supply-chain risk, including strikes or shutdowns at delivery ports or loss of or damage to our products while they are in transit or storage, intellectual property theft, losses due to tampering, issues with quality or sourcing control, failure by our suppliers to comply with applicable laws and regulation, tariffs or other trade restrictions, or other similar problems could limit or delay the supply of our products or harm our reputation. In the event of a shortage or supply interruption from suppliers, we may not be able to develop alternate sources quickly, cost-effectively, or at all. Any interruption or delay in manufacturing supply, any increases in costs, or the inability to obtain these products from alternate sources at acceptable prices and within a reasonable amount of time, could harm our ability to provide products to our customers.

We are subject to risks associated with general economic and geopolitical conditions, the business cycles of our customers and changes in the overall level of consumer and commercial spending, which could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are exposed to general economic and geopolitical conditions that affect consumer confidence, consumer spending, consumer discretionary income and changes in consumer purchasing habits. In connection therewith, U.S. and international markets have been experiencing uncertain and volatile economic and geopolitical conditions, including from the impacts of military conflict in the Middle East, Russian aggression in Ukraine, tariff and trade-related developments, budgetary and political pressures to reduce government spending, inflationary pressures, elevated interest rate levels, possible recession concerns, and supply chain disruptions.

For example, the U.S. government has imposed tariffs on certain foreign products and has raised the possibility of imposing significant, additional tariff increases, which has resulted in a deterioration of trade relations of the United States with various countries, including Canada. In connection therewith, we have business operations in Canada, and the determination of Canadian governmental authorities or businesses to cancel or not renew contracts, or otherwise reduce business, with U.S. companies as a result of current trade tensions with the United States, as has been advocated by certain Canadian governmental authorities, could adversely impact our financial results.

Additionally, we have a significant number of employees in India who assist us in various respects, primarily in connection with the development of intellectual property. In the event that tensions between India and Pakistan increase, this could limit the ability of these employees to assist us for a significant period of time, disrupt our operations, and otherwise adversely impact our business and financial results.

Further, there is ongoing uncertainty regarding government budget and spending levels as a result of political developments and other factors. In this regard, the current presidential administration has been focused on restructuring and streamlining government agencies and reducing or eliminating regulations and federal government programs and other expenditures, which has also given rise to separate efforts at the state level to reduce government spending. As a result of the fact that a significant portion of our revenue is received from state and local governmental authorities, reductions in government spending at the state and local level could adversely impact our financial results and business.

These conditions make it extremely difficult for us to accurately forecast and plan future business activities. Moreover, if these business, macroeconomic or political conditions continue or worsen, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In addition, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected by outbreaks of illnesses, epidemics or pandemics, climate-related events, including extreme weather events and natural disasters, riots, strikes, civil insurrection or social unrest, terrorist or criminal activities, or other catastrophic events or other political and economic instability.

A decline in the use of cards and ACH as payment mechanisms for consumers and businesses or adverse developments in the electronic payment industry in general could adversely affect our business, financial condition and operating results.

If consumers and businesses do not continue to use cards or ACH as payment mechanisms for their transactions or if the mix of payments among the types of cards and ACH changes in a way that is adverse to us, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Regulatory changes may also result in our customers seeking to charge their customers additional fees for use of credit or debit cards. Additionally, in recent years, increased incidents of security breaches have caused some consumers to lose confidence in the ability of businesses to protect their information, causing certain consumers to discontinue use of electronic payment methods. Security breaches could result in financial institutions canceling large numbers of credit and debit cards, or consumers or businesses electing to cancel their cards following such an incident.

We may not be able to successfully execute our strategy of growth through acquisitions.

Our future growth and profitability depend, in part, upon our continued growth within the markets in which we currently operate. As part of our strategy to expand into new customer bases, we look for acquisition opportunities and partnerships with other businesses that will allow us to increase our market penetration, technological capabilities, product offerings and distribution capabilities.

Although we expect to continue to execute our acquisition strategy:

- we may not be able to identify suitable acquisition candidates or acquire additional assets on favorable terms;
- we may compete with others to acquire assets, which competition may increase, and any level of competition could result in decreased availability or increased prices for acquisition candidates;
- we may compete with others for select acquisitions and our competition may consist of larger, better-funded organizations with more resources and easier access to capital;
- we may experience difficulty in anticipating the timing and availability of acquisition candidates;
- we may not be able to obtain the necessary financing, on favorable terms or at all, to finance any of our potential acquisitions; and
- we may not be able to generate cash necessary to execute our acquisition strategy.

The occurrence of any of these factors could adversely affect our growth strategy.

Growth in our current markets also depends upon our ability to adapt existing technology or develop new technologies to meet the particular needs of new and existing customers. We may not have adequate financial or technological resources to develop effective and secure services that will satisfy the demands of these new customers. Penetrating these new customers in our existing markets may also prove to be more challenging or costly or take longer than we may anticipate. If we fail to increase our penetration into existing markets, we may not be able to continue to grow our revenues and earnings.

There are certain risks associated with the sale of our Merchant Services Business which was completed in September 2024 and the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business which was completed in May 2025.

In September 2024, we completed the sale of our Merchant Services Business, and in May 2025, we completed the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business. There is no assurance that we will be able to realize the anticipated benefits from the disposition of our Merchant Services Business or our Healthcare RCM Business. Moreover, there are post-closing risks associated with the ancillary agreements entered into by us at the closing of each of these businesses. In addition, pursuant to the Merchant Services Purchase Agreement, we agreed to indemnify Payroc with respect to certain matters and we agreed to retain certain liabilities related to the Merchant Services Business, which in any such case could result in liability to us following the closing. We have received, and may in the future receive, indemnification claims from Payroc. We are not able to predict the ultimate outcome of these or future claims that Payroc may assert against us in connection with the sale of our Merchant Services Business, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition. In addition, pursuant to the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, we agreed to indemnify Infix with respect to certain matters, which could result in liability to us following the closing.

As a result of the sales of our Merchant Services Business and Healthcare RCM Business, we are now highly dependent on the success of our remaining Public Sector business.

Revenues and profits generated via acquisition may be less than anticipated, the integration process could experience delays or difficulties, and we may fail to uncover all liabilities of acquisition targets through the due diligence process prior to an acquisition, resulting in unanticipated costs, losses or a decline in profits, as well as potential impairment charges.

In evaluating and determining the purchase price for a prospective acquisition, we estimate the future revenues and profits from that acquisition based largely on historical financial performance. Following an acquisition, we may experience some customer attrition. Should the rate of post-acquisition customer attrition exceed the rate forecasted, the revenues and profits from the acquisition may be less than we estimated, which could result in losses or a decline in profits, as well as potential impairment charges.

We perform a due diligence review of each of our acquisition partners. This due diligence review, however, may not adequately uncover all of the contingent or undisclosed liabilities we may incur as a consequence of the proposed acquisition, exposing us to potentially significant, unanticipated costs, as well as potential impairment charges. An acquisition may also subject us to additional regulatory burdens that affect our business in potentially unanticipated and significantly negative ways.

Integrations that do not occur rapidly and smoothly could divert the attention of management away from other strategic matters, including, but not limited to, acquisitions or product development.

In connection with some acquisitions, we may incur non-recurring severance expenses, restructuring charges or change of control payments. These expenses, charges or payments, as well as the initial costs of integrating the personnel and facilities of an acquired business with those of our existing operations, may adversely affect our operating results during the initial financial periods following an acquisition. In addition, the integration of newly acquired companies may lead to diversion of management attention from other ongoing business concerns.

We may not be able to successfully manage our intellectual property.

Our intellectual property is critical to our future success. We rely on a combination of contractual license rights and copyright, trademark and trade secret laws to establish and protect our proprietary technology. Third parties may challenge, invalidate, circumvent, infringe or misappropriate our intellectual property or the intellectual property of our third-party licensors, or such intellectual property may not be sufficient to permit us to take advantage of current market trends or otherwise to provide competitive advantages, which could result in costly redesign efforts, discontinuance of certain service offerings or other competitive harm. Others, including our competitors, may independently develop similar technology, duplicate our products and services, design around or reverse engineer our intellectual property, and in such cases neither we nor our third-party licensors may be able to assert intellectual property rights against such parties. Further, our contractual license arrangements may be subject to termination or renegotiation with unfavorable terms to us, and our third-party licensors may be subject to bankruptcy, insolvency and other adverse business dynamics, any of which might affect our ability to use and exploit the products licensed to us by these third-party licensors. We may have to litigate to enforce or determine the scope and enforceability of our intellectual property rights (including litigation against our third-party licensors), which is expensive, could cause a diversion of resources and may not prove successful. Moreover, use of AI by our personnel, whether authorized or unauthorized, could increase the risk that our intellectual property and other proprietary information may be unintentionally disclosed. The loss of intellectual property protection or the inability to obtain third-party intellectual property could harm our business and ability to compete.

We may be subject to infringement claims.

We may be subject to costly litigation if our products or services are alleged to infringe upon or otherwise violate a third party's proprietary rights. Third parties may have, or may eventually be issued, patents that could be infringed by our products and services. Any of these third parties could make a claim of infringement against us with respect to our products and services. We may also be subject to claims by third parties for patent infringement, breach of copyright, trademark, license usage or other intellectual property rights. Any claim from third parties may result in a limitation on our ability to use the intellectual property subject to these claims. Additionally, in recent years, individuals and groups have been purchasing intellectual property assets for the sole purpose of making claims of infringement and attempting to extract settlements from companies like ours. Even if we believe that intellectual property related claims are without merit, defending against such claims is resource intensive and expensive and could result in the diversion of the time and attention of our management and employees. Claims of intellectual property infringement also might require us to redesign affected products or services, enter into costly settlement or license agreements, pay costly damage awards for which we may not have insurance, or face a temporary or permanent injunction prohibiting us from marketing or selling certain of our products or services. Even if we have an agreement for indemnification against such costs, the indemnifying party, if any in such circumstances, may be unable to uphold its contractual obligations. If we cannot or do not license the infringed technology on reasonable terms or substitute similar technology from another source, our revenue and earnings could be materially and adversely affected.

If we lose key personnel, or if their reputations are damaged, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected, and proprietary information of our company could be shared with our competitors.

We depend on the ability and experience of a number of our key personnel who have substantial experience with our operations, the rapidly changing payment processing industry and the markets in which we offer our products and services. Many of our key personnel have worked for us for a significant amount of time or were recruited by us specifically due to their experience. It is possible that the loss of the services of one or a combination of our senior executives or key managers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, contractual obligations related to confidentiality and assignment of intellectual property rights may be ineffective or unenforceable, and departing employees may share our proprietary information with competitors in ways that could adversely impact us.

In a dynamic industry like ours, our success and growth depend on our ability to attract, recruit, retain and develop qualified employees.

Our business functions at the intersection of rapidly changing technological, social, economic and regulatory developments that require a wide-ranging set of expertise and intellectual capital. For us to continue to successfully compete and grow, we must attract, recruit, develop and retain the necessary personnel who can provide the needed expertise across the entire spectrum of our intellectual capital needs. While we have a number of key personnel who have substantial experience with our operations, we must also develop our personnel to provide succession plans capable of maintaining continuity in the midst of the inevitable unpredictability of human capital. The market for qualified personnel is competitive, and we may not succeed in recruiting additional personnel or may fail to effectively replace current personnel who depart with qualified or effective successors. Our effort to retain and develop personnel may also result in significant additional expenses, which could adversely affect our profitability. We can make no assurances that qualified employees will continue to be employed or that we will be able to attract and retain qualified personnel in the future. Failure to retain or attract key personnel could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operating results and operating metrics are subject to seasonality and volatility, which could result in fluctuations in our quarterly revenues and operating results or in perceptions of our business prospects.

We have experienced in the past, and expect to continue to experience, seasonal fluctuations in our revenues. The number of business days in a month or quarter also may affect seasonal fluctuations. Certain revenues from our public sector customers fluctuate with the fiscal calendars of our customers. Transactional revenue for our education customers is strongest in August, September, October, January and February, at the start of each semester, and generally weakens throughout the semester, with little revenue in the summer months of June and July. Operating expenses show less seasonal fluctuation, with the result that net income is subject to the same seasonal factors as our revenues. The growth in our business may have partially overshadowed seasonal trends to date, and seasonal impacts on our business may be more pronounced in the future. Volatility in our key operating metrics or their rates of growth could have a negative impact on our financial results and investor perceptions of our business prospects.

We are the subject of various claims and legal proceedings and may become the subject of claims, litigation or investigations which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

In the ordinary course of business, we are the subject of various claims and legal proceedings and may become the subject of claims, litigation or investigations, including commercial disputes and employee claims, such as claims of age discrimination, sexual harassment, gender discrimination, immigration violations or other local, state and federal labor law violations, and from time to time may be involved in governmental or regulatory investigations, audits or similar matters arising out of our current or future business. Any proceedings or claims asserted against us or our management, regardless of merit or eventual outcome, could harm our reputation or the reputation of our management and have an adverse impact on our relationship with our customers and other third parties and could lead to additional related claims. Further, any determination of noncompliance with applicable laws and regulations may result in criminal and/or civil penalties. In light of the potential cost and uncertainty involved in litigation, and the potential disruption to normal business operations, we have in the past and may in the future settle matters even when we believe we have a meritorious defense. Certain claims may seek injunctive relief, which could disrupt the ordinary conduct of our business and operations or increase our cost of doing business. Our insurance or indemnities may not fully cover all claims that may be asserted against us. Furthermore, there is no guarantee that we will be successful in defending ourselves in pending or future litigation or similar matters under various laws. Any judgments or settlements in any pending litigation or future claims, litigation or investigation could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are exposed to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, which could negatively affect our financial condition and operating results.

Our contracts are primarily denominated in U.S. dollars, and therefore, substantially all of our revenue is not subject to foreign currency risk. However, there has been, and may continue to be, significant volatility in global stock markets and foreign currency exchange rates that result in the strengthening of the U.S. dollar against foreign currencies in which we conduct business. The strengthening of the U.S. dollar increases the real cost of our products to our end-customers outside of the United States and may lead to reduced demand for our services. If the U.S. dollar continues to strengthen, this could adversely affect our financial condition and operating results. Our operating expenses incurred outside the United States and denominated in foreign currencies are increasing and are subject to fluctuations due to changes in foreign currency exchange rates. If we are not able to successfully hedge against the risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations, our financial condition and operating results could be adversely affected.

Our international operations subject us to additional risks which could have an adverse effect on our business, operating results, and financial condition.

We employ resources in India, to support our onshore operations. Countries outside of the United States may be subject to relatively higher degrees of political and social instability and may lack the infrastructure to withstand political unrest or natural disasters. The occurrence of natural disasters, pandemics, or political or economic instability in these countries could interfere with work performed by these labor sources or could result in our having to replace or reduce these labor sources. If countries in which we operate experience civil or political unrest or acts of terrorism, our operations in such countries could be materially impaired. For example, India has experienced civil unrest and terrorism and has experienced historical and recent tensions with Pakistan. The occurrence of any of these circumstances could result in disruptions to our resources in India. Our vendors in other countries could potentially shut down suddenly for any reason, including financial problems or personnel issues. Such disruptions could decrease efficiency, increase our costs and have an adverse effect on our business or results of operations.

Further, many foreign data privacy regulations (including India's Digital Personal Data Protection Act) can be more stringent than those in the United States. These laws and regulations are rapidly evolving and changing and could have an adverse effect on our operations. Our obligations and requirements under these laws and regulations are subject to uncertainty in how they may be interpreted by government authorities and regulators. The costs of compliance with, and the other burdens imposed by, these and other laws or regulatory actions may increase our operational costs, affect our customers' willingness to permit us to use and store personal data, prevent us from selling our products or services, and/or affect our ability to invest in or jointly develop products. Failure to comply with these laws may result in governmental enforcement actions, private claims, including class action lawsuits, and damage to our reputation. We may also face audits or investigations by one or more foreign government agencies relating to our compliance with these regulations.

Risks Related to Regulation

We are subject to extensive laws and government regulation, the costs of compliance with which can be significant, and our actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations may subject us to penalties and otherwise have an unfavorable impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to numerous federal and state laws and regulations that affect the public sector enterprise software industry and the other industries in which we provide services. Regulation of our industry has increased significantly in recent years and is constantly evolving. We are also subject to other laws and regulations, including those addressing U.S. financial services, consumer protection, escheat and privacy and information security, among other subjects. The cost of compliance with applicable laws and regulations is high and may increase in the future. Changes to statutes, regulations or industry standards, including interpretation and implementation of statutes, regulations or standards, could increase our cost of doing business or affect the competitive balance. Failure to comply with laws and regulations may result in substantial civil and/or criminal penalties and may otherwise have an adverse effect on our business, including as a result of the limitation, suspension or termination of services provided to, or by, third parties. To the extent these laws and regulations negatively impact the business, operations or financial condition of our customers, our business and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected because, among other matters, our customers could have less capacity to purchase products and services from us, could decide to avoid or abandon certain lines of business, or could seek to pass on increased costs to us by negotiating price reductions. In addition, we could be required to invest a significant amount of time and resources in response to new or changes to existing laws, regulations or oversight, or to modify the manner in which we contract with or provide products and services to our customers; and those laws and regulations could directly or indirectly limit how much we can charge for our services. We may not be able to update our existing products and services, or develop new ones, to satisfy our customers' needs. Any of these events, if realized, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Various laws and regulations, including those in other industries in which we provide services, even if such laws and regulations are not directed at us, may require us to make significant efforts to change our products and services and may require that we incur additional compliance costs and change how we price our products and services to our customers. Implementing new compliance risk mitigation strategies efforts can be significant with the complexity of regulatory requirements, and we are devoting and will continue to devote significant resources to address compliance requirements. Furthermore, regulatory actions may cause changes in business practices by us and other industry participants which could affect how we market, price and distribute our products and services, and which could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, even an inadvertent failure to comply with laws and regulations, as well as rapidly evolving social expectations of corporate fairness, could damage our business or our reputation.

Compliance with the Dodd-Frank Act and other federal and state regulations applicable to our business may increase our compliance costs, limit our revenues and otherwise negatively affect our business.

Since the enactment of the Dodd-Frank Act, there have been substantial reforms to the supervision and operation of the financial services industry, including numerous new regulations that have imposed additional compliance costs and, in some cases, limited revenue sources for us and our financial institution partners and customers. Among other things, the Dodd-Frank Act established the CFPB, which is empowered to conduct rule-making and supervision related to, and enforcement of, federal consumer financial protection laws. The CFPB has issued guidance that applies to “supervised service providers,” which the CFPB has defined to include service providers, like us, to CFPB supervised banks and nonbanks.

In that regard the CFPB July 25, 2024 report entitled The Cost of Electronic Payments in K-12 Schools, the report included discussion on the CFPB’s Fall 2023 edition of their Supervisory Highlights report and a 2014 USDA Policy Memorandum regarding school lunch fees. The CFPB report concluded that certain payment processing practices utilized by the Company and other participants in our industry may violate consumer financial protection laws.

The appearance of being involved in unfair trade practices and violating consumer protection laws when offering payment processing services to our customers could harm our reputation with our customers. Further, compliance with emerging sector-specific regulations may negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations by requiring us to alter our fee structure or payment processing practices.

The CFPB’s focus on these payment processing practices has led to litigation against the Company. For example, on May 16, 2025, Suzanne Hess, individually and on behalf of a putative class of citizens of the State of New York, filed a class action compliant in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Nassau County, against i3 Verticals, LLC and CP-DBS, LLC d/b/a “PaySchools”, a subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC, seeking monetary damages and injunctive relief related to services offered by PaySchools that enable parents, guardians and caregivers to fund lunches for students in certain New York school districts and allegedly unlawful practices by PaySchools related to the fees charged for these school lunch services. For additional information about this litigation, see Note 17 to our consolidated financial statements.

In addition, federal and state agencies have recently proposed or enacted cybersecurity regulations, such as the Cybersecurity Requirements for Financial Services Companies issued by the New York State Department of Financial Services and the Cyber Security Resource Guide for Financial Institutions issued November 2022 by the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council replacing the 2018 Cyber Security Resource Guide. Cybersecurity regulations and guidance are applicable to large bank holding companies and their subsidiaries, as well as to service providers to those organizations. Any new rules and regulations implemented by the CFPB, state or other authorities or in connection with the Dodd-Frank Act could, among other things, slow our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing industry, require us to make significant additional investments to comply with them, redirect time and resources to compliance obligations, modify our products or services or the manner in which they are provided, or limit or change the amount or types of revenue we are able to generate.

Interchange fees, which the payment processor typically pays to the card issuer in connection with credit and debit card transactions, are subject to legal, regulatory and legislative scrutiny. In particular, the Dodd-Frank Act regulates and limits debit card fees charged by certain card issuers and allows businesses and organizations to set minimum dollar amounts for the acceptance of credit cards. Specifically, under the commonly known “Durbin Amendment” to the Dodd-Frank Act, the interchange fees that certain issuers charge businesses and organizations for debit transactions are regulated by the Federal Reserve and must be “reasonable and proportional” to the cost incurred by the issuer in authorizing, clearing and settling the transactions. Rules released by the Federal Reserve in July 2011 to implement the Durbin Amendment mandate a cap on debit transaction interchange fees for card issuers with assets of $10 billion or greater. Effective October 1, 2012, debit card issuers are permitted a fraud-prevention adjustment. Since October 2011, a payment network may not prohibit a card issuer from contracting with any other payment network for the processing of electronic debit transactions involving the card issuer’s debit cards, and card issuers and payment networks may not inhibit the ability of businesses and organizations to direct the routing of debit card transactions over any payment networks that can process the transactions.

Rules implementing the Dodd-Frank Act also contain certain prohibitions on payment network exclusivity and merchant routing restrictions. These restrictions could negatively affect the number of debit transactions processed, and prices charged per transaction, which would negatively affect our business.

If we violate the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA") or Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment ("PPRA"), it could result in a material breach of contract with one or more of our Education customers and could harm our reputation. Further, if we disclose student information in violation of FERPA or PPRA, our access to student information could be suspended.

Our systems and solutions must also comply, in certain circumstances, with FERPA and PPRA, as well as with rapidly emerging state student data privacy laws that require schools to protect student data and to adopt privacy policies which can significantly vary from one state to another. FERPA generally prohibits an educational institution from disclosing personally identifiable information from a student's education records without a parent's consent unless certain statutory exceptions apply. Our school customers and their students disclose to us, and we may store, certain information that originates from or comprises a student education record under FERPA. PPRA puts limits on "survey, analysis or evaluations" that may come into play when schools employ internet-based educational services. Schools are required to develop policies that address, among other things, the collection, disclosure or use of personal information collected from students for the purpose of marketing or selling that information, and can place restrictions on third parties' use of that data. As an entity that provides services to educational institutions, we are indirectly subject to FERPA's and PPRA's privacy requirements, and we may not transfer or otherwise disclose or use any personally identifiable information from a student record to another party other than on a basis and in a manner permitted under the statutes. If we violate FERPA or PPRA, it could result in a material breach of contract with one or more of our customers and could reduce our revenues or harm our reputation. Further, if we disclose student information in violation of FERPA or PPRA, our access to student information could be suspended, thus inhibiting our business operations.

We could be adversely affected by violations of laws and regulations governing participants in the healthcare industry with respect to conduct prior to the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business.

The healthcare industry is governed by extensive and complex laws and regulations at the federal, state and local government levels. These laws and regulations address, among other issues, billing and coding for services and properly handling overpayments, fraud and abuse, and the confidentiality, maintenance, interoperability, exchange and security of health-related and other confidential information. In connection with the healthcare-related operations, including the sale of revenue cycle management software solutions, that we conducted prior to the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business, we could be adversely affected by violations of these laws and regulations. Further, pursuant to the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, we agreed to indemnify Infix with respect to certain matters, which could result in liability to us.

We strived to structure our Healthcare RCM Business to comply with applicable healthcare laws, regulations and other requirements applicable to us directly and to our customers and contractors, but there can be no assurance that we will not be challenged or impacted by enforcement initiatives with respect to conduct occurring prior to the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business. We have been, and in the future may become, involved in governmental investigations, audits, reviews and assessments. Violation of these laws may result in criminal and/or civil penalties, including substantial monetary penalties. Even an unsuccessful challenge by regulatory and other authorities or private whistleblowers could be expensive and time-consuming, could result in loss of business, exposure to adverse publicity and injury to our reputation and could adversely affect our ability to retain and attract customers.

We must comply with laws and regulations prohibiting unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and any failure to do so could materially and adversely affect our business.

We and many of our customers are subject to Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act prohibiting unfair or deceptive acts or practices (referred to as "UDAAP"), provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act that prohibit UDAAP, the Telemarketing Sales Act, the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and other laws, rules and or regulations, which may directly impact the activities of certain of our customers. These rules may subject us, as the electronic payment processor or provider of certain services, to investigations, fees, fines and disgorgement of funds if we are deemed to have improperly aided and abetted or otherwise provided the means and instrumentalities to facilitate the illegal or improper activities of the customer through our services. Various federal and state regulatory enforcement agencies including the Federal Trade Commission and state attorneys general have authority to take action against non-banks that engage in UDAAP, or violate other laws, rules and regulations. To the extent we are processing payments or providing products and services for a customer that may be in violation of laws, rules and regulations, we may be subject to enforcement actions and as a result may incur losses and liabilities that may adversely affect our business.

We could be adversely affected by violations of the FCPA and similar anti-bribery laws of other countries in which we provide services or have employees.

Because of our international operations we could be adversely affected by violations of the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (the "FCPA") and similar anti-bribery laws of other countries in which we provide services or have employees. The FCPA and similar anti-bribery laws generally prohibit companies and their intermediaries from making improper payments to government officials or other third parties for the purpose of obtaining or retaining business or gaining any business advantage. While our policies mandate compliance with these anti-bribery laws, we cannot provide assurance that our internal control policies and procedures always protect us from reckless or criminal acts committed by our employees, contractors or agents. Failure to comply with the FCPA could result in the imposition of civil or criminal fines and penalties and could disrupt our business and adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Numerous other laws affect our business, and any failure to comply with those laws could harm our business.

Our payment facilitator solutions present certain regulatory challenges, principally those relating to money transmitter issues. To address these challenges we, along with our third-party service providers, use structural arrangements designed to prevent us from receiving or controlling customer funds removing our activities from the scope of money transmitter regulations. There can be no assurance that these structural arrangements will remain effective as money transmitter laws continue to evolve or that the applicable regulatory bodies, particularly state agencies, will view our payment facilitator activities as compliant.

Our business may also be subject to the Fair Credit Reporting Act ("FCRA"), which regulates the use and reporting of consumer credit information and imposes disclosure requirements on entities that take adverse action based on information obtained from credit reporting agencies. We could be liable if our practices under the FCRA do not comply with the FCRA or regulations under it.

The Housing Assistance Tax Act of 2008 included an amendment to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), that requires information returns to be made for each calendar year by payment processing entities and third-party settlement organizations with respect to payments made in settlement of electronic payment transactions and third-party payment network transactions occurring in that calendar year. Reportable transactions are also subject to backup withholding requirements. We could be liable for penalties if our information returns are not in compliance with these regulations.

Our public sector case resolution and fund recovery services may be subject to certain laws, rules and regulations applicable to debt collectors, including, federal and state licensing or bonding requirements. Such laws and regulations are extensive and subject to change. Our failure to comply with these requirements, changing interpretations of existing requirements, or adoption of new requirements, could restrict our ability to offer these non-healthcare revenue cycle management services in certain jurisdictions, which would adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition.

Depending on how our products and services evolve, we may be subject to a variety of additional laws and regulations, including those governing money transmission, gift cards and other prepaid access instruments, electronic funds transfers, anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing, restrictions on foreign assets, banking and lending, U.S. Safe Harbor regulations, and import and export restrictions. Additionally, we are contractually required to comply with certain anti-money laundering regulations in connection with our payment processing activities. These regulations are generally governed by the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network ("FinCEN") and the Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"). Our efforts to comply with these laws and regulations could be costly and result in diversion of management time and effort and may still not guarantee compliance. Regulators continue to increase their scrutiny of compliance with these obligations, which may require us to further revise or expand our compliance program, including the procedures we use to verify the identity of our customers, and to monitor transactions. If we are found to be in violation of any such legal or regulatory requirements, we may be subject to monetary fines or other penalties such as a cease and desist order, or we may be required to make product changes, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business and financial results.

Changes in tax laws or their interpretations, or becoming subject to additional U.S., state or local taxes that cannot be passed through to our customers, could negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to extensive tax liabilities, including federal and state and transactional taxes such as excise, sales/use, payroll, franchise, withholding, and ad valorem taxes. Changes in tax laws or their interpretations could increase our tax burden and decrease the amount of revenues we receive, the value of any tax loss carryforwards and tax credits recorded on our balance sheet and the amount of our cash flow, and have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Some of our tax liabilities are subject to periodic audits by the respective taxing authority which could increase our tax liabilities. Furthermore, companies in the payment processing industry, including us, may become subject to incremental taxation in various tax jurisdictions. Taxing jurisdictions have not yet adopted uniform positions on this topic. If we are required to pay additional taxes and are unable to pass the tax expense through to our customers, our costs would increase and our net income would be reduced, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

On July 4, 2025, the One Big Beautiful Bill Act ("OBBBA") was enacted, introducing broad changes to the U.S. tax code, including modifications to federal income tax provisions. The legislation has multiple effective dates, with certain provisions effective in 2025 and others taking effect in later years. The aggregate impact of the OBBBA remains uncertain. We will continue to monitor future developments, including regulatory guidance and interpretations, which could have a material impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Changing laws and governmental rules and regulations designed to protect or limit access to or use of personal information could adversely affect our ability to effectively provide our products and services, and actual or perceived failure to comply with such legal and regulatory obligations may negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition to the standards and requirements discussed previously that are imposed by the card networks and Nacha, governmental bodies in the United States have adopted, or are considering the adoption of, laws and regulations restricting the use, collection, storage, transfer and disposal of, and requiring safeguarding of, personal information. Our operations are subject to certain provisions of these laws. Relevant federal privacy laws include, in addition to FERPA and PPRA described above, the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999, which applies directly to a broad range of financial institutions and indirectly, or in some instances directly, to companies that provide services to financial institutions. The U.S. Children's Online Privacy Protection Act also regulates the collection of information by operators of websites and other electronic solutions that are directed to children under 13 years of age. These laws and regulations restrict the collection, processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal information, require notice to individuals of privacy practices and provide individuals with certain rights to prevent the use and disclosure of protected information. They also impose requirements for safeguarding and proper destruction of personal information through the issuance of data security standards or guidelines. In addition, there are state laws and regulations restricting the ability to collect and utilize certain types of information such as Social Security and driver's license numbers. Certain states impose similar privacy obligations as well as obligations to provide notification of security breaches of computer databases that contain personal information to affected individuals, state officers and consumer reporting agencies and businesses and governmental agencies that own data.

In connection with providing products and services to our customers, we are required by regulations, applicable industry standards, and our contracts with customers and financial institution distribution partners to provide assurances regarding the confidentiality and security of non-public consumer information. These contracts may require periodic audits by independent companies regarding our compliance with applicable standards. The compliance standards relate to the security of our infrastructure, including components and operational procedures designed to safeguard the confidentiality and security of individuals' non-public personal information that our customers share with us. Our ability to maintain compliance with these standards and satisfy these audits will affect our ability to attract, grow and maintain business in the future. If we fail to comply with the laws and regulations relating to data privacy and information security, we could be exposed to legal claims and actions or to regulatory enforcement proceedings and may be subject to substantial civil and/or criminal penalties. In addition, our relationships and reputation could be harmed, which could inhibit our ability to retain existing customers and obtain new customers.

Legal requirements relating to the collection, storage, handling and transfer of personal data continue to evolve at both the federal and state level. For example, the CFPB finalized a rule which went into effect January 17, 2025, that requires certain data providers to make covered data regarding covered financial products and services available to consumers and authorized third parties in an electronic form, subject to a number of requirements.

Many states have introduced or passed comprehensive consumer privacy laws, which may impose varying standards and requirements on our data collection use and processing activities. These laws require companies (regardless of their location) that process personal information of residents of those states make certain disclosures to consumers about data practices, grant consumers specific rights to their data, and allow consumers to opt out of certain data sharing activities. Additionally, the Federal Trade Commission and many state attorneys general are interpreting federal and state consumer protection laws to impose standards for the online collection, use, dissemination and security of data.

Government regulators, industry groups and class action attorneys are increasingly scrutinizing how companies collect, process, use, store, share and transmit personal data. Regulators and courts may expand interpretations of existing laws, thereby further impacting our business. If more restrictive privacy laws or rules and/or inconsistent legal requirements are adopted by authorities in the future on the federal or state level, or regulators' enforcement priorities shift, our compliance costs may increase and our ability to perform due diligence on, and monitor the risk of, our current and potential customers may decrease, which could create liability for us. Many consumer privacy laws provide for civil penalties for violations, and the CCPA and CPRA provide for a private right of action for data breaches that may increase data breach litigation. We may also be exposed to litigation, regulatory fines, penalties or other sanctions if the personal, confidential or proprietary information of our customers is mishandled or misused by any of our suppliers, counterparties or other third parties, or if such third-parties do not have appropriate controls in place to protect such personal, confidential or proprietary information. For additional information on the risks associated with foreign data privacy regulations, see "Our international operations subject us to additional risks which could have an adverse effect on our business, operating results, and financial condition." in Part I, Item 1A of this Form 10-K.

Additionally, if we suffer a data breach, other privacy or cybersecurity regulatory compliance failures or are subject to fines, sanctions or proceedings as a result of actual or perceived compliance failures, or any similar event causing reputational harm, our opportunities for growth may be curtailed, and our potential liability for security breaches may increase, all of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

These laws and regulations may change rapidly, and it is frequently unclear how they apply to our business. Any failure of our products or services to comply with these laws and regulations could result in substantial civil or criminal liability and could, among other things, adversely affect demand for our services, invalidate all or portions of some of our contracts with our customers and financial institution partners, or require us to change or terminate some portions of our business. Further, reform efforts or changing healthcare regulatory requirements may also render our products or services obsolete or may block us from fully realizing or accomplishing our work or from developing new products or services. This may in turn impose additional costs upon us to adapt to the new operating environment or to further develop or modify our products and services. Such healthcare reforms may also make introduction of new products and service costlier or more time-consuming than we currently anticipate. These changes may also prevent our introduction of new products and services or make the continuation or maintenance of our existing products and services unprofitable or impossible.

The evolving legal, ethical and regulatory landscape over AI technologies creates uncertainties.

The development of AI is complex and uncertain, and presents various risks and uncertainties, including as the result of the rapidly evolving legal, ethical and regulatory landscape associated with the use of AI. Our inability to successfully or effectively implement AI initiatives, or other deficiencies or failures in our AI systems or initiatives, could subject us to competitive harm, legal and regulatory risk, and increase our cybersecurity, intellectual property, and privacy risks. Additionally, AI-generated outputs may be misleading, insecure, inaccurate, harmful, or otherwise flawed. Further, if we fail to leverage AI technologies as effectively or rapidly as our peers, our competitiveness and financial results could be adversely impacted.

There is also uncertainty about the extent to which data privacy laws apply to AI technologies, and any delay in addressing those concerns may result in liability or regulatory investigations and fines, as well as harms to our business and reputation. In addition, issues related to intellectual property rights in AI technologies have not been fully addressed by the courts or regulators. As such, to the extent we implement generative AI technologies into our products and/or services, we may face resulting exposure to claims related to copyright infringement or other intellectual property misappropriation.

The ongoing focus on environmental, social and governance (“ESG”) practices could increase our costs, harm our reputation and adversely impact our financial results.

Many investors, customers, environmental activists, the media and governmental and nongovernmental organizations are focused on a variety of ESG matters. At the same time, other stakeholders and governmental authorities have increasingly expressed or pursued opposing views, legislation and investment expectations with respect to ESG initiatives. If we are not effective in addressing ESG matters affecting our business and balancing these evolving views and expectations, which may be conflicting, our reputation may suffer. Moreover, we may experience increased costs in order to develop and execute upon any such ESG strategies, which could have an adverse impact on our business and financial condition.

In addition, this emphasis on ESG matters has resulted and may result in the adoption of new laws and regulations, including new reporting requirements. If we fail to comply with new laws, regulations or reporting requirements, our reputation and business could be adversely impacted.

Risks Related to Our Indebtedness

Our indebtedness could adversely affect our financial health and competitive position.

On May 8, 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC (the “Borrower”), entered into that certain Credit Agreement (as amended, the “2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility”) with the guarantors and lenders party thereto and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent (“JPMorgan”). The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility replaced the prior senior secured credit facility of the Company which was entered into on May 9, 2019 (the “Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility”). Following an amendment to the Credit Facility entered into on May 5, 2025, as described below, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility provides for aggregate commitments of $400 million in the form of a senior secured revolving credit facility (the “Revolver”). Borrowings under the Revolver will be made, at the Borrower’s option, at the Adjusted Term SOFR rate or the base rate, plus, in each case, an applicable margin. The Adjusted Term SOFR rate will be the rate of interest per annum equal to the Term SOFR rate (based upon an interest period of one, three or six months), plus 0.10%, plus an applicable margin of 2.00% to 3.00% (2.00% at September 30, 2025). The Adjusted Term SOFR rate shall not be less than 0% in any event. The base rate is a fluctuating rate of interest per annum equal to the highest of (a) the greater of the federal funds rate or the overnight bank funding rate, plus ½ of 1%, (b) Wall Street Journal prime rate and (c) the Adjusted Term SOFR rate for an interest period of one month, plus 1%, plus an applicable margin of 1.00% to 2.00% (1.00% at September 30, 2025). The base rate shall not be less than 1% in any event. As of September 30, 2025, we had no borrowings outstanding under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility. Although we may enter into interest rate swap agreements in the future, we and our subsidiaries are exposed to interest rate increases on the floating portion of our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility that are not covered by interest rate swaps, to the extent we have indebtedness outstanding. For additional information about our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Liquidity and Capital Resources” in Part II, Item 7 of this Annual Report on Form 10-K, and “Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosure About Market Risk” in Part II, Item 7A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

To service our debt and any additional debt we may incur in the future, we need to generate cash. Our ability to generate cash is subject, to a certain extent, to our ability to successfully execute our business strategy, including acquisition activity, as well as general economic, financial, competitive, regulatory and other factors beyond our control. Although we currently expect that our cash flow from operations, current cash and cash equivalents and available borrowing capacity under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility will be sufficient to fund our operations and planned expenditures and to service our debt obligations for at least the next twelve months, there can be no assurance that our business will be able to generate sufficient cash flow from operations or that future borrowings or other financing will be available to us in an amount sufficient to enable us to service our debt and fund our other liquidity needs. To the extent we are required to use our cash flow from operations or the proceeds of any future financing to service our debt instead of funding working capital, capital expenditures, acquisition activity or other general corporate purposes, we will be less able to plan for, or react to, changes in our business, industry and in the economy generally. This will place us at a competitive disadvantage compared to our competitors that have less debt. There can be no assurance that we will be able to refinance any of our debt on commercially reasonable terms or at all, or that the terms of that debt will allow any of the above alternative measures or that these measures would satisfy our scheduled debt service obligations. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow to repay or refinance our debt on favorable terms, it could significantly adversely affect our financial condition and the value of our outstanding debt. Our ability to restructure or refinance our debt will depend on the condition of the capital markets and our financial condition. Any refinancing of our debt could be at higher interest rates and may require us to comply with more onerous covenants, which could further restrict our business operations.

In addition, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility contains, and any agreements evidencing or governing other future debt may contain, certain restrictive covenants that limit our ability, among other things, to engage in certain activities that are in our long-term best interests, including our ability to:

- incur liens on property, assets or revenues;
- incur or assume additional debt or amend our debt and other material agreements;
- declare or make distributions and redeem or repurchase equity interests, including making repurchases of Class A common stock pursuant to our share repurchase program, or issue preferred stock;
- prepay, redeem or repurchase debt;
- make investments;
- enter into any sale-and-leaseback of property;
- engage in certain business activities; and
- engage in mergers and asset sales.

The restrictive covenants in our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility also require us to maintain specified financial ratios. While we have not previously breached and are not in breach of any of these covenants, there can be no guarantee that we will not breach these covenants in the future. Our ability to comply with these covenants and restrictions may be affected by events and factors beyond our control. Our failure to comply with any of these covenants or restrictions could result in an event of default under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility. An event of default would permit the lending banks under the facility to take certain actions, including terminating all outstanding commitments and declaring all amounts outstanding under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility to be immediately due and payable, including all outstanding borrowings, accrued and unpaid interest thereon, and all other amounts owing or payable with respect to such borrowings and any terminated commitments. In addition, the lenders would have the right to proceed against the collateral we granted to them, which includes substantially all of our assets.

We may not be able to secure additional financing on favorable terms, or at all, to meet our future capital needs.

In the future, we may require additional capital to respond to business opportunities, challenges, acquisitions or unforeseen circumstances, and may determine to engage in equity or debt financings or enter into credit facilities or refinance existing debt for other reasons. We may not be able to timely secure additional debt or equity financing on favorable terms, or at all. As discussed above, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility contains restrictive covenants that limit our ability to incur additional debt and engage in other capital-raising activities. Any debt financing we obtain in the future could involve covenants that further restrict our capital raising activities and other financial and operational matters, which may make it more difficult for us to operate our business, obtain additional capital and pursue business opportunities, including potential acquisitions. Furthermore, if we raise additional funds by issuing equity or convertible debt or other equity-linked securities, our then-existing stockholders could suffer significant dilution. If we are unable to obtain adequate financing or financing on terms satisfactory to us, when we require it, our ability to continue to grow or support our business and to respond to business challenges could be significantly limited.

Risks Related to Our Organizational Structure and Our Company

We are a holding company with no operations of our own, and our principal asset is our controlling membership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC. Accordingly, we depend on distributions from i3 Verticals, LLC to pay our taxes and other expenses.

We are a holding company with no operations of our own and currently have no significant assets other than our ownership of common units of i3 Verticals, LLC. We currently have no independent means of generating revenue. Consequently, our ability to obtain operating funds depends upon distributions from i3 Verticals, LLC. Furthermore, i3 Verticals, LLC is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and, as such, is not itself subject to U.S. federal income tax. Instead, its net taxable income is generally allocated to its members, including us, pro rata according to the number of membership interests each member owns. Accordingly, we incur income taxes on our proportionate share of any net taxable income of i3 Verticals, LLC in addition to expenses related to our operations, and our ability to obtain funds to pay these income taxes currently depends upon distributions from i3 Verticals, LLC. We intend to cause i3 Verticals, LLC to distribute cash to us in an amount at least equal to the amount necessary to cover our respective tax liabilities, if any, with respect to our allocable share of the net income of i3 Verticals, LLC and to cover cash dividends on our Class A common stock, if any, we declare, and purchases of Class A common stock pursuant to our share repurchase program, as well as any payments due under the Tax Receivable Agreement (the "Tax Receivable Agreement" or "TRA") by and among i3 Verticals, Inc., i3 Verticals, LLC and each of the holders, other than i3 Verticals, Inc., of common units in i3 Verticals, LLC (the "Continuing Equity Owners").

To the extent that we need funds to pay our taxes or other liabilities or to fund our operations, and i3 Verticals, LLC is restricted from making distributions to us under applicable agreements under which it is bound, including its financing agreements, laws or regulations, does not have sufficient cash to make these distributions or is otherwise unable to provide such funds, we may have to borrow funds to meet these obligations and operate our business, and our liquidity and financial condition could be materially adversely affected. To the extent that we are unable to make payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement for any reason, such payments will be deferred and will accrue interest until paid.

The interests of the other Continuing Equity Owners in our business may conflict with the interests of holders of shares of our Class A common stock.

The Continuing Equity Owners, who collectively hold approximately 27% of the combined voting power of our common stock as of November 20, 2025, may receive payments from us under the Tax Receivable Agreement upon a redemption or exchange of their common units in i3 Verticals, LLC, including the issuance of shares of our Class A common stock upon any such redemption or exchange. As a result, the interests of the Continuing Equity Owners, including some members of our Board of Directors, may conflict with the interests of holders of shares of our Class A common stock. For example, the Continuing Equity Owners may have different tax positions from us in relation to whether and when we enter into a change of control transaction, dispose of assets, whether and when we incur new or refinance existing indebtedness, and whether and when we should terminate the Tax Receivable Agreement and accelerate our obligations thereunder. In addition, the structuring of future transactions may take into consideration tax or other considerations of the Continuing Equity Owners even in situations where no similar considerations are relevant to the Company itself.

We may not be able to realize all or a portion of the tax benefits that are expected to result from future redemptions or exchanges of common units by holders.

Our organizational structure, including the Tax Receivable Agreement, confers certain benefits upon the Continuing Equity Owners that will not benefit the holders of our Class A common stock to the same extent as it will benefit the Continuing Equity Owners. Under the Tax Receivable Agreement, we are entitled to retain (a) 15% of the U.S. federal and state income tax savings we realize as a result of increases in tax basis created by any future redemptions or exchanges of common units held by our equity holders that are parties to the Tax Receivable Agreement for shares of our Class A common stock or cash for the tax years following a redemption or exchange covered by the Tax Receivable Agreement, and (b) all of the U.S. federal and state income tax savings we realize from such redemptions or exchanges for tax periods ending after those covered by the Tax Receivable Agreement. Our ability to realize, and benefit from, these tax savings depends on several assumptions, including that we will earn sufficient taxable income each year during the period over which the deductions arising from any such basis increases and payments are available and that there are no adverse changes in applicable law or regulations. If our actual taxable income were insufficient or there were adverse changes in applicable law or regulations, we may be unable to realize all or a portion of these expected benefits, and our cash flows and stockholders' equity could be negatively affected.

In certain cases, payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement to the Continuing Equity Owners may be accelerated or significantly exceed the actual benefits we realize in respect of the tax attributes subject to the Tax Receivable Agreement.

The Tax Receivable Agreement provides that upon certain mergers, asset sales, other forms of business combinations or other changes of control or if, at any time, we elect an early termination of the Tax Receivable Agreement, then our obligations, or our successor's obligations, under the Tax Receivable Agreement to make payments thereunder would be based on certain assumptions, including an assumption that we would have sufficient taxable income to fully use all potential future tax benefits that are subject to the Tax Receivable Agreement.

As a result of the foregoing, (a) we could be required to make payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement that are greater than the specified percentage of the actual benefits we ultimately realize in respect of the tax benefits that are subject to the Tax Receivable Agreement and (b) if we elect to terminate the Tax Receivable Agreement early, we would be required to make an immediate cash payment equal to the present value of the anticipated future tax benefits that are the subject of the Tax Receivable Agreement, which payment may be made significantly in advance of the actual realization, if any, of such future tax benefits. In these situations, our obligations under the Tax Receivable Agreement could have a substantial negative impact on our liquidity and could have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing certain mergers, asset sales, other forms of business combinations or other changes of control. We may need to incur debt to finance payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement to the extent our cash resources are insufficient to meet our obligations under the Tax Receivable Agreement as a result of timing discrepancies or otherwise. There can be no assurance that we will be able to fund or finance our obligations under the Tax Receivable Agreement.

In certain circumstances, i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make distributions to us and the Continuing Equity Owners, and the distributions that i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make may be substantial.

Funds used by i3 Verticals, LLC to satisfy its tax distribution obligations may not be available for reinvestment in our business. As a result of potential differences in the amount of net taxable income allocable to us and to the Continuing Equity Owners, as well as the use of an assumed tax rate in calculating i3 Verticals, LLC's distribution obligations, we may receive distributions significantly in excess of our tax liabilities and obligations to make payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement, such as in connection with the 2025 LLC Tax Distribution described below.

In this regard, i3 Verticals, LLC made a tax distribution to the Company and the Continuing Equity Owners in January 2025 (the "2025 LLC Tax Distribution") related to the taxable income associated with the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services Business completed in September 2024 that was anticipated to be recognized for 2024 federal income tax purposes by members of i3 Verticals, LLC. The 2025 LLC Tax Distribution resulted in the Company holding cash in excess of the Company's tax liabilities, its obligation to make payments under its tax receivables agreement, and any other expected liabilities of the Company. Thereafter, on January 23, 2025, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC effected certain recapitalization actions in order to reduce excess cash held at the Company following this 2025 LLC Tax Distribution. For additional information regarding the 2025 LLC Tax Distribution and recapitalization actions, see Note 18 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report.

Our Board of Directors will determine the appropriate uses for excess cash which may be held by the Company following any future tax distributions, which may include, among other uses, after giving effect to the payment of obligations under the Tax Receivable Agreement, effecting a recapitalization transaction similar to the recapitalization transaction associated with the 2025 LLC Tax Distribution as described above, and/or approving the payment of a cash dividend on our Class A common stock. While our Board may choose to take any such actions, our Board is not required to do so, and to the extent, for example, such excess cash balances continue to be held by the Company, the Continuing Equity Owners would benefit from any value attributable to such accumulated cash balances as a result of their ownership of Class A common stock following a redemption or exchange of their common units.

Our failure to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act could have a significant and adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

We are subject to a requirement, pursuant to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the “Sarbanes-Oxley Act”), to conduct an annual review and evaluation of our internal control over financial reporting and furnish a report by management on, among other things, our assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting each fiscal year beginning with the year following our first annual report required to be filed with the SEC. Ensuring that we have adequate internal control over financial reporting in place so that we can produce accurate financial statements on a timely basis is a costly and time-consuming effort that must be evaluated frequently. Establishing and maintaining these internal controls is and will continue to be costly and may divert management’s attention.

When evaluating our internal control over financial reporting, we may identify material weaknesses that we may not be able to remediate in time to meet the applicable deadline imposed upon us for compliance with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. In addition, if we fail to achieve and maintain the adequacy of our internal control over financial reporting, as such standards are modified, supplemented or amended from time to time, we may not be able to ensure that we can conclude, on an ongoing basis, that we have effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. We cannot be certain as to the timing of completion of our evaluation, testing and any remediation actions or the impact of the same on our operations. If we have not adequately implemented or complied with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, we may be subject to sanctions or investigation by regulatory authorities, such as the SEC, or suffer other adverse regulatory consequences, including penalties for violation of Nasdaq rules. As a result, there could be a negative reaction in the financial markets due to a loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements. A loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements also could occur if we or our independent registered public accounting firm were to report one or more material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting. In addition, we may be required to incur costs in improving our internal control system, including the costs of the hiring of additional personnel. Any such action could negatively affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows and could also lead to a decline in the price of our Class A common stock.

Certain provisions of Delaware law and anti-takeover provisions in our organizational documents could delay or prevent a change of control.

Certain provisions of Delaware law and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws may have an anti-takeover effect and may delay, defer, or prevent a merger, acquisition, tender offer, takeover attempt, or other change of control transaction that a stockholder might consider in its best interest, including those attempts that might result in a premium over the market price for the shares held by our stockholders.

These provisions provide for, among other things:

- prohibiting the use of cumulative voting for the election of directors;
- advance notice for nominations of directors by stockholders and for stockholders to include matters to be considered at our annual meetings; and
- certain limitations on convening special stockholder meetings.

In addition, while we have opted out of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the “DGCL”), our amended and restated certificate of incorporation contains similar provisions providing that we may not engage in certain “business combinations” with any “interested stockholder” for a three-year period following the time that the stockholder became an interested stockholder, unless:

- prior to such time, our board of directors (“Board of Directors”) approved either the business combination or the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder;
- upon consummation of the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of the votes of our voting stock outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding certain shares; or
- at or subsequent to that time, the business combination is approved by our Board of Directors and by the affirmative vote of holders of at least 66 2/3% of the votes of our outstanding voting stock that is not owned by the interested stockholder.

Generally, a “business combination” includes a merger, asset or stock sale or other transaction resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder. Subject to certain exceptions, an “interested stockholder” is a person who, together with that person’s affiliates and associates, owns, or within the previous three years owned, 15% or more of the votes of our outstanding voting stock. For purposes of this provision, “voting stock” means any class or series of stock entitled to vote generally in the election of directors.

Under certain circumstances, this provision will make it more difficult for a person who would be an “interested stockholder” to effect various business combinations with our company for a three-year period. This provision may encourage companies interested in acquiring our company to negotiate in advance with our Board of Directors because the stockholder approval requirement would be avoided if our Board of Directors approves either the business combination or the transaction that results in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder. These provisions also may have the effect of preventing changes in our Board of Directors and may make it more difficult to accomplish transactions that stockholders may otherwise deem to be in their best interests.

These provisions in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws may discourage, delay or prevent a transaction involving a change in control of our company that is in the best interest of our minority stockholders. Even in the absence of a takeover attempt, the existence of these provisions may adversely affect the prevailing market price of our Class A common stock if they are viewed as discouraging future takeover attempts. These provisions could also make it more difficult for stockholders to nominate directors for election to our Board of Directors and take other corporate actions.

We may issue shares of preferred stock in the future, which could make it difficult for another company to acquire us or could otherwise adversely affect holders of our Class A common stock, which could depress the price of our Class A common stock.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation authorizes us to issue one or more series of preferred stock. Our Board of Directors has the authority to determine the preferences, limitations and relative rights of the shares of preferred stock and to fix the number of shares constituting any series and the designation of such series, without any further vote or action by our stockholders. Our preferred stock can be issued with voting, liquidation, dividend and other rights superior to the rights of our Class A common stock. The potential issuance of preferred stock may delay or prevent a change in control of us, discourage bids for our Class A common stock at a premium to the market price, and materially and adversely affect the market price and the voting and other rights of the holders of our Class A common stock.

Risks Related to Ownership of Our Class A Common Stock

The Continuing Equity Owners own common units in i3 Verticals, LLC, and the Continuing Equity Owners have the right to redeem their common units in i3 Verticals, LLC pursuant to the terms of the limited liability company agreement of i3 Verticals, LLC (the "LLC Agreement") for shares of Class A common stock or cash.

As of September 30, 2025, we have an aggregate of 126,016,875 shares of Class A common stock authorized but unissued, including 8,381,681 shares of Class A common stock issuable, at our election, upon redemption of common units of i3 Verticals, LLC that are held by the Continuing Equity Owners. Subject to certain restrictions contained in the LLC Agreement, the Continuing Equity Owners are entitled to have their common units redeemed from time to time at each of their options (subject in certain circumstances to time-based and service-based vesting requirements and other limitations) for newly-issued shares of our Class A common stock on a one-for-one basis or a cash payment equal to a volume weighted average market price of one share of Class A common stock for each Common Unit redeemed, in each case, in accordance with the terms of the LLC Agreement. At our election, however, we may effect a direct exchange by i3 Verticals, Inc. of such Class A common stock or such cash, as applicable, for such common units in lieu of redemption. The Continuing Equity Owners may exercise such redemption right for as long as their common units remain outstanding. We have also entered into a Registration Rights Agreement pursuant to which the shares of Class A common stock issued to certain Continuing Equity Owners upon such redemption and the shares of Class A common stock issued to certain Continuing Equity Owners in connection with the Reorganization Transactions will be eligible for resale registration, subject to certain limitations set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement.

We cannot predict the size of future issuances of our Class A common stock or the effect, if any, that future issuances and sales of shares of our Class A common stock may have on the market price of our Class A common stock. Sales or distributions of substantial amounts of our Class A common stock, including shares issued in connection with an acquisition, or the perception that such sales or distributions could occur, may cause the market price of our Class A common stock to decline.

Holders of our Class A common stock may be diluted by future issuances of preferred stock or additional Class A common stock or common units in connection with our incentive plans, acquisitions or otherwise; future sales of such shares in the public market, or the expectations that such sales may occur, could lower our stock price.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation authorizes us to issue shares of our Class A common stock and options, rights, warrants and appreciation rights relating to our Class A common stock for the consideration and on the terms and conditions established by our Board of Directors in its sole discretion. We could issue a significant number of shares of Class A common stock in the future in connection with investments or acquisitions. Any of these issuances could dilute our existing stockholders, and such dilution could be significant. Moreover, such dilution could have a material adverse effect on the market price for the shares of our Class A common stock.

The future issuance of shares of preferred stock with voting rights may adversely affect the voting power of the holders of shares of our Class A common stock, either by diluting the voting power of our Class A common stock if the preferred stock votes together with the common stock as a single class, or by giving the holders of any such preferred stock the right to block an action on which they have a separate class vote, even if the action were approved by the holders of our shares of our Class A common stock.

The future issuance of shares of preferred stock with dividend or conversion rights, liquidation preferences or other economic terms favorable to the holders of preferred stock could adversely affect the market price for our Class A common stock by making an investment in the Class A common stock less attractive. For example, investors in the Class A common stock may not wish to purchase Class A common stock at a price above the conversion price of a series of convertible preferred stock because the holders of the preferred stock would effectively be entitled to purchase Class A common stock at the lower conversion price, causing economic dilution to the holders of Class A common stock.

Sales of shares of our Class A common stock in connection with the Registration Rights Agreement, or the prospect of any such sales, could materially affect the market price of our Class A common stock and could impair our ability to raise capital through future sales of equity securities.

In connection with the completion of our IPO, we entered into a Registration Rights Agreement with certain Continuing Equity Owners. Any sales in connection with the Registration Rights Agreement, or the prospect of any such sales, could materially and adversely impact the market price of our Class A common stock and could impair our ability to raise capital through future sales of equity securities.

In the future, we may also issue additional securities if we need to raise capital, including, but not limited to, in connection with acquisitions, which could constitute a material portion of our then-outstanding shares of Class A common stock.

Cybersecurity Program

We maintain a cybersecurity program that implements required controls for all Company businesses, with day-to-day management and implementation often conducted independently due to our decentralized operating model. While cybersecurity technologies and implementation may differ based on the needs and risk profile of each individual business, we implement standards at the enterprise level and provide centralized oversight work to ensure alignment and consistency. Our cybersecurity team deploys an array of capabilities to ensure the availability, integrity, and confidentiality of key business systems, supported by centrally monitored cyber tools and managed services.

Our cybersecurity programs operate in service of the following express principles:

- Identify: Intended to ensure that our IT team has a comprehensive understanding of our systems and data environment to effectively manage security risks to key assets, data, and services.
- Protect: Implementing controls and safeguards that allow employees to work securely and with confidence, which are intended to enable the continued delivery of essential business services. Our program follows guidelines from the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), Center for Internet Security (CIS), Cloud Service Alliance (CSA), Payment Card Industry (PCI), HIPAA and applicable privacy regulations, and select programs are subject to continuous oversight through ongoing SOC 2 compliance audits.
- Detect: Utilizing both external and internal resources to perform continuous assessments and penetration testing throughout the year on the Company's key business systems, including an annual review to verify our compliance with the Payment Card Industries Data Security Standards (PCI DSS). We deploy systems, capabilities, and processes designed to detect cybersecurity events as early as possible to ensure the resilience of our systems and our ability to identify threats.
- Respond & Recover: Equipping the Company with the necessary capabilities to take immediate and effective action against detected threats. Our incident response plan has a structured escalation process for managing and reporting cybersecurity incidents, starting with initial detection and local management review, escalating to enterprise-level teams, and potentially reaching the Audit Committee of the Company's Board of Directors, if the incident is deemed material.
- Awareness: Promoting ongoing user awareness and training so that all employees understand their role in managing cybersecurity risks. Mandatory new hire and annual security and privacy training is provided to all employees, including automated monthly phishing campaigns to educate staff on identifying and reporting phishing threats.

- Third Parties: Processes designed to identify and manage cybersecurity risks associated with our use of third-party providers. These include cybersecurity due diligence efforts, targeted risk oversight, monitoring and mitigation efforts and contractual protections, as necessary.

We utilize both external and internal resources to perform assessments and penetration testing throughout the year on the Company's key business systems, including an annual review to verify our compliance with the Payment Card Industries Data Security Standards (PCI DSS). Additionally, we engage consulting firms and other third parties to conduct evaluations of our security controls, including penetration testing and independent audits, and to advise the Company's Audit Committee, and our management team on cybersecurity matters.

While we have experienced cyber threats and incidents, we have not (whether directly or indirectly, including through our third-party vendors, or customers or other business relations) been subject to a cybersecurity event of which we are aware that has had a material impact on us, including our business strategy, financial condition or results of operations. However, despite our security measures, there is no assurance that we, or the third parties with which we interact, will not experience a cybersecurity incident in the future that materially impacts us. For additional information regarding the risks to us associated with cybersecurity incidents and cybersecurity or technological risks, see "Unauthorized disclosure, destruction or modification of data or disruption of our services or other cybersecurity or technological risks, including as a result of a cybersecurity incident, could expose us to liability, protracted and costly litigation and damage our reputation." included in Part I, Item 1A of this Form 10-K.

We maintain a cybersecurity insurance policy that provides coverage in connection with cybersecurity incidents. However, such insurance coverage may exclude certain types of claims or otherwise be insufficient to cover all costs and damages associated with cybersecurity incidents, and (to the extent that costs and damages are otherwise covered) are subject to applicable deductibles.

Governance

While the Company's Board of Directors has the ultimate responsibility for risk management, the Board has designated the Audit Committee as being primarily responsible for certain specific categories of risk oversight matters, including the oversight of the Company's privacy, data and cybersecurity risk exposures, such as the steps management has taken to monitor and mitigate such exposures and protect against threats to the Company's information systems and security. Our cybersecurity risk management processes are integrated into our overall risk management system.

At a management level, the Company's cybersecurity risk management program is led by our Chief Technology Officer (CTO), who reports to the Company's President and regularly briefs him on developments that impact the program. Our CTO brings over twenty years of executive leadership experience, providing sponsorship for cybersecurity programs and compliance efforts. He has worked to promote a culture of strong IT governance and organizational resilience, collaborating with subject matter experts to advance cybersecurity initiatives and compliance. His hands-on experience integrating security-focused practices as part of technology governance and risk management ensures we prioritize risk management and robust protection of our digital assets. Our Senior Vice President of Technology, Compliance, and Security Services ("SVP-TCSS"), reporting to the CTO, oversees our cybersecurity practices and leads a skilled team of security professionals. With over twenty years of experience spanning cybersecurity, technology, and data privacy, our SVP-TCSS collaborates with these dedicated security teams to develop and implement organization-wide cybersecurity strategies. Additionally, our IT security team comprises individuals who hold relevant cybersecurity experience and industry certifications aligned to their roles, ensuring a comprehensive approach to risk management and protection.

Our incident response plan outlines controls and procedures for cybersecurity incidents. This plan includes a cybersecurity incident command team that to conducts initial assessments of incidents. If an incident meets defined criteria, it is reviewed by senior IT security members. The leadership team evaluates the potential impact and the need for public disclosure, and if necessary, escalates the incident to executive management, the Audit Committee, and/or the Board of Directors.

On a quarterly basis, the Company's CTO reports to the Audit Committee regarding the Company's cybersecurity program, including the status of ongoing proactive efforts to improve the Company's cybersecurity risk profile. The CTO also reports to the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis regarding remediation activities, if any, along with related security metrics, in connection with any areas where cybersecurity threats have been identified.

Item 2. Properties

Our corporate headquarters is in Nashville, Tennessee where we lease approximately 16,000 square feet of office space under a lease that expires in 2027. We also lease approximately 34,000 square feet of office space in Piney Flats, Tennessee; 18,000 square feet of office space in Sulphur Springs, Texas and 15,000 square feet of office space in Houston, Texas. We own approximately 15,000 square feet of office space in Vadodara, India which is used to support our employees and business operations, including technology development. We also lease properties located within various geographic regions in which we conduct business, including Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada, Ohio, South Carolina and Wisconsin. Additionally, we own property in Arizona. Our properties include office spaces used for support, operational, sales, management and administrative purposes.

For leases that are scheduled to expire during the next 12 months, we may negotiate new lease agreements, renew existing lease agreements, exercise any respective options to extend the existing lease agreements, or use alternate facilities. We believe our facilities are adequate for our needs and believe that we should be able to renew any of our existing leases or secure similar property without an adverse impact on our operations.

Sales of Unregistered Securities

During the three months ended September 30, 2025, we issued an aggregate of 81,523 shares of Class A common stock to certain members of i3 Verticals, LLC in exchange for an equivalent number of shares of Class B common stock and Common Units held by such members pursuant to the terms of the i3 Verticals, LLC Limited Liability Company Agreement. These shares were issued in reliance on an exemption from registration pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933. All other sales of unregistered securities during the year ended September 30, 2025, have been previously disclosed in either a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q or a Current Report on Form 8-K.

Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

Share Repurchase Program

On August 8, 2024, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a share repurchase program for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company was authorized to repurchase up to $50.0 million of outstanding shares of our Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases) (the "Prior Share Repurchase Program"). Pursuant to the Prior Share Repurchase Program, the Company was authorized to make repurchases of our Class A Common Stock in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. The terms of the Prior Share Repurchase Program provided that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class A common stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC redeemed for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The Prior Share Repurchase Program terminated on August 8, 2025.

The Company repurchased 1,573,881 shares of Class A Common Stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program at an average price of $23.86 per share and an aggregate repurchase amount (inclusive of commissions and excise taxes) of $38.0 million during the year ended September 30, 2025, prior to the termination of such program as set forth above. The shares of Class A Common Stock purchased during this period represent the total number of shares of Class A Common Stock purchased under the Prior Share Repurchase Program since its adoption. The repurchased shares were cancelled and retired, resulting in a permanent reduction in both the number of shares outstanding and the Company's total stockholders' equity.

On August 7, 2025, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a new share repurchase program (the "New Share Repurchase Program") for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company may repurchase up to $50.0 million of outstanding shares of Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases). This New Share Repurchase Program replaced the Prior Share Repurchase Program which terminated on August 8, 2025, as described above.

The New Share Repurchase Program will terminate on the earlier of September 30, 2026, or when the maximum dollar amount under the authorization has been expended. Pursuant to the New Share Repurchase Program, repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. In addition, any repurchases under the New Share Repurchase Program are subject to prevailing market conditions, liquidity and cash flow considerations, applicable securities laws requirements (including under Rule 10b-18 and Rule 10b5-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as applicable), compliance with contractual restrictions under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, and other factors. The terms of the New Share Repurchase Program provide that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class A common stock under the New Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC will redeem for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The New Share Repurchase Program does not require the Company to acquire any particular amount of shares of Class A common stock, and may be extended, modified, suspended or discontinued at any time at our discretion.

The Company did not repurchase any shares of Class A Common Stock under the New Share Repurchase Program during the three months ended September 30, 2025, and the remaining total available authorization under the New Share Repurchase Program as of September 30, 2025, was $50.0 million.

Dividends

We have never declared or paid a cash dividend on our Class A common stock. In addition, under our certificate of incorporation, holders of our Class B common stock are not entitled to participate in any cash dividends declared by our Board of Directors. We intend to retain any earnings to finance the growth and development of our business and do not currently expect to declare or pay any cash dividends, provided that, as described above, our Board of Directors will determine the appropriate uses for any excess cash held by the Company following tax distributions made by i3 Verticals, LLC to its members, including the Company. A possible use for such excess cash may be the payment of a cash dividend on our Class A common stock. For additional information, see the discussion in our risk factors under Part I, Item 1A of this Form 10-K under "In certain circumstances, i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make distributions to us and the Continuing Equity Owners, and the distributions that i3 Verticals, LLC will be required to make may be substantial." Our Board of Directors reviews our dividend policy from time to time and may declare dividends (whether special dividends or otherwise) at its discretion. Additionally, our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility (as defined below) places restrictions on the payment of dividends by the Company. For further discussion of the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, see Item 7. "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operation - Liquidity and Capital Resources."

Executive Overview

After giving effect to the sale of our Healthcare RCM Business on May 5, 2025, as described below, the Company provides mission-critical enterprise software solutions to its public sector customers. These comprehensive cloud-native solutions address a broad range of government functions, including courts, transportation, utilities, revenue and schools. The Company's mission is to enable state and local governments and related agencies to serve their constituents in an effective and efficient manner. With thousands of software installations across all 50 states and Canada, i3 Verticals is a leader in the public sector vertical.

Prior to the disposition of the Healthcare RCM Business, we had two operating segments and reportable segments, a Public Sector segment and a Healthcare Segment, as reflected in the Company's consolidated financial statements for the three and six months ended March 31, 2025, included in the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for these periods filed on May 9, 2025. After giving effect to the disposition of the Healthcare RCM Business, the Company determined that it had one operating segment and one reportable segment as of June 30, 2025, and accordingly has updated its segment presentation to reflect this determination. See Note 19 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information.

Economic Trends

Inflationary pressures, elevated interest rate levels, monetary policy, and the current geopolitical situation (including the military conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine), tariff and trade-related developments, and budgetary and political pressures to reduce government spending are causing broad economic uncertainty and could potentially cause new, or exacerbate existing, economic challenges that may impact us. For example, we have business operations in Canada, and the determination of Canadian governmental authorities or businesses to cancel or not renew contracts, or otherwise reduce business, with U.S. companies as a result of current trade tensions with the United States, as has been advocated by certain Canadian governmental authorities, could adversely impact our financial results. The future magnitude, duration and effects of these macroeconomic and geopolitical conditions are difficult to predict, and as such we are unable to predict the extent of the potential effect of these conditions on our financial results.

Liquidity

At September 30, 2025, we had $66.7 million of cash and cash equivalents and $400.0 million of available capacity under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, subject to our financial covenants. As of September 30, 2025, we were in compliance with these covenants with a consolidated interest coverage ratio and total leverage ratio 96.8x, and 0.0x, respectively. For additional information about our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, see the section entitled "Liquidity and Capital Resources" below.

Divestitures

Sale of Healthcare RCM Business

On May 5, 2025, i3 Verticals, LLC, and i3 Healthcare Solutions, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC ("Healthcare RCM Seller," and collectively with i3 Verticals LLC, the "Healthcare RCM Seller Parties"), completed the sale of the equity interests of certain wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Healthcare RCM Seller (the "Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities") which owned and operated the Company's healthcare revenue cycle management business, including its associated proprietary technology (the "Healthcare RCM Business"), to Infix, Inc. ("Healthcare RCM Buyer"), a Texas corporation, pursuant to the terms of that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of May 5, 2025, by and among Healthcare RCM Buyer and the Healthcare RCM Seller Parties (the "Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement;" the transactions contemplated by the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, the "Healthcare RCM Transactions"). In addition, immediately prior to the sale of the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities pursuant to the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, i3 Verticals, LLC and certain of its subsidiaries contributed and/or assigned certain assets and certain liabilities related to the Healthcare RCM Business to the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities. The purchase price payable by Healthcare RCM Buyer to Healthcare RCM Seller for the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities was $96.3 million, paid in cash at closing, after giving effect to post-closing net working capital, indebtedness and cash adjustments. The Healthcare RCM Business contributed $22.5 million of revenue for the year ended September 30, 2025.

As a result of the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, the results of operations for the Healthcare RCM Business have been reclassified as discontinued operations in our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented. Refer to Note 2 to additional information.

Sale of Merchant Services Business

On September 20, 2024, i3 Verticals, LLC, and i3 Holdings Sub, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC (“Corporation Seller,” and collectively with i3 Verticals, LLC, the “Sellers”) completed the transactions (such closing, the “Closing”) contemplated by that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of June 26, 2024 (the “Purchase Agreement”), by and among i3 Verticals, LLC, Corporation Seller, the Company (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Sellers as set forth in the Purchase Agreement), Payroc Buyer, LLC (“Buyer”), and Payroc WorldAccess, LLC (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Buyer as set forth in the Purchase Agreement), the entry into which Purchase Agreement was previously disclosed in a Current Report on Form 8-K filed by the Company on June 26, 2024. Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, the Sellers sold to Buyer the equity interests of certain direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Sellers (the “Merchant Services Acquired Entities”) primarily comprising the Company’s merchant services business, including its associated proprietary technology (the “Merchant Services Business”), after giving effect to the contribution of certain assets and the assignment of certain liabilities associated with the Merchant Services Business from i3 Verticals, LLC and certain affiliates to the Merchant Services Acquired Entities pursuant to a contribution agreement which was entered into immediately prior to the Closing. Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, Buyer paid to Sellers an aggregate purchase price of approximately $439.5 million paid in cash at closing, after giving effect to post-closing net working capital, indebtedness and cash adjustments.

As a result of the sale of the Merchant Services Business, the results of operations for the Merchant Services Business have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented. Refer to Note 2 to additional information.

Acquisitions

A core component of our growth strategy includes a disciplined approach to acquisitions of companies and technology, evidenced by numerous platform acquisitions and tuck-in acquisitions since our inception in 2012. Our acquisitions have increased the number of businesses and organizations to whom we provide solutions and augmented our existing proprietary payment facilitator platform and software solutions and capabilities.

Acquisitions during the year ended September 30, 2025

On April 1, 2025, the Company completed the acquisition of a business to expand the Company’s Public Sector utility billing software offerings. Total purchase consideration was $10.3 million, including $9.0 million in cash funded by proceeds from the Company’s revolving credit facility and $1.3 million in the acquisition date estimated fair value of contingent cash consideration (the final amount of such contingent cash payment of up to $5.0 million is dependent upon achievement of specified financial performance targets, as defined in the purchase agreement).

During the year ended September 30, 2025, we also completed the acquisition of certain assets of a business to expand our customer footprint. Total purchase consideration was $2.0 million in cash funded from cash on hand.

Acquisitions during the year ended September 30, 2024

On August 1, 2024, we completed the acquisition of a business to expand our Public Sector permitting and licensing software offerings. Total purchase consideration was $18.0 million in cash funded by the proceeds from our revolving credit facility, the issuance of 311,634 shares of our Class A common stock in a private placement, and $2.0 million in the acquisition date estimated fair value of contingent cash consideration (the final amount of such contingent cash payment of up to of up to $22.0 million is dependent upon achievement of specified financial performance targets, as defined in the purchase agreement).

During the year ended September 30, 2024, we also completed the acquisition of one other business to expand our software offerings. Total purchase consideration was $1.3 million, including $1.1 million in cash funded by the proceeds from our revolving credit facility and $0.2 million in the acquisition date estimated fair value of contingent cash consideration (the final amount of such contingent cash payment of up to of up to $0.8 million is dependent upon achievement of specified financial performance targets, as defined in the purchase agreement).

Our Revenue and Expenses

Revenues

We generate revenue from software and related services revenue, including the sale of subscriptions, recurring services, ongoing support, licenses, and installation and implementation services specific to software. We also generate revenue from volume-based payment processing fees (“discount fees”) that we provide to our customers directly through our software. Volume-based fees represent a percentage of the dollar amount of each credit or debit transaction processed. Revenues are also derived from a variety of fixed transaction or service fees, including authorization fees, convenience fees, statement fees, annual fees and fees for other miscellaneous services, such as handling chargebacks.

Interchange and network fees. Interchange and network fees consist primarily of pass-through fees that make up a portion of discount fee revenue. These include assessment fees payable to card associations, which are a percentage of the processing volume we generate from Visa and Mastercard. These fees are presented net of revenue.

Expenses

Other costs of services. Other costs of services include costs directly related to our software and related services. Additionally, other costs of services include costs directly attributable related to payment processing services such as processing and bank sponsorship. Losses resulting from chargebacks against a customer are included in other cost of services. Residual payments to our distribution partners and the cost of equipment sold is also included in cost of services. Amortization arising from capitalized software development is not included in other cost of services. Other costs of services are recognized at the time the related revenue is recognized. Following the disposal of our Merchant Services Business in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2024, our core business has been providing software solutions. Given the change in our business model following the sale of our Merchant Services Business, we reclassified certain expenses to better align with the primary industry in which we operate. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2025, we revised our presentation of certain expenses in the consolidated statements of operations from selling, general and administrative expenses to other costs of services. We reclassified personnel costs related to installation of our software, conversion of client data, training client personnel, customer support activities and various other services provided directly to customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services. We also reclassified certain hosting and related software costs for directly supporting our customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services. Refer to Note 3 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

Selling, general and administrative. Selling, general and administrative expenses include certain salaries and other employment costs, professional services, internal technology expenses, rent and utilities and other operating costs. Salaries and other employment costs within selling, general and administrative include individuals associated with shared services, product development and maintenance, sales and other functions. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2025, following the disposal of our Merchant Services Business, we revised our presentation of certain expenses in the consolidated statements of operations from selling, general and administrative expenses to other costs of services. Refer to Note 3 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation expense consists of depreciation on our investments in property, equipment and computer hardware and software. Depreciation expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the asset. Amortization expense for acquired intangible assets and internally developed software is recognized straight-line, which we consider materially consistent with a proportional cash flow method. Amortization expense for internally developed software is recognized over the estimated useful life of the asset. The useful lives of contract-based intangible assets are equal to the terms of the agreement.

Interest expense. Our interest expense consists of interest on our outstanding indebtedness under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, our Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility and, prior to their maturity, the Exchangeable Notes, and amortization of or write offs of debt issuance costs.

How We Assess Our Business

As a result of the sale of the Merchant Services Business in 2024 and the Healthcare RCM Business in 2025, the results of operations for the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated statements of operations for all periods presented.

After giving effect to these developments, as further described above, the Company has one operating segment and reportable segment.

After giving effect to the sale of the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business as noted above, the Company provides mission-critical enterprise software and services solutions to its public sector customers. These comprehensive solutions cover a broad range of applications, including cloud native enterprise software, all of which enable state and local governments and related agencies to serve their constituents in an efficient and seamless manner.

Key Performance Indicators

We evaluate our performance through various meters, including the following key performance indicators:

- Annualized recurring revenue ("ARR");
- Adjusted EBITDA margin

ARR is the annualized revenue derived from recurring sources where we have an ongoing contract with our customers. We believe revenue from recurring sources is a strategic priority. ARR is comprised of software-as-a-service ("SaaS") arrangements, transaction-based software-revenue, software maintenance, recurring software-based services, payments revenue and other recurring revenue sources within the quarter. The sum of these revenue categories is multiplied by four to calculate ARR. ARR excludes revenue that is not recurring or is one-time in nature.

We believe this metric provides useful information to investors by providing visibility regarding the ongoing revenue potential of our business model and providing a clearer picture of our sustainable revenue base. Further, our management uses ARR as a metric because it helps us to assess the health and trajectory of our business. We believe that focusing on ARR can orient our sales and operations management towards long-term, reliable revenue growth. This focus on recurring revenue is particularly relevant for businesses operating under a subscription model, where customer retention and contract renewals play a significant role in long-term financial performance.

ARR does not have a standardized definition and is therefore unlikely to be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. It should be reviewed independently of revenue and it is not a forecast. Additionally, ARR does not take into account seasonality. The active contracts at the end of a reporting period used in calculating ARR may or may not be extended or renewed by our customers. ARR from continuing operations for the three months ended September 30, 2025 and 2024 was $165.3 million and $151.4 million, respectively, representing a period-to-period growth rate of 9.2%.

Adjusted EBITDA margin is used by the Company to measure operating performance and for purposes of making decisions. Adjusted EBITDA margin for any particular period is adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of revenue for such period. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as earnings adjusted to exclude interest, tax, depreciation, amortization, stock-compensation expense, non-cash changes in the fair value of contingent consideration, M&A-related expenses, and certain other adjustments that management believes are not reflective of our underlying operations. Adjusted EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA margin are non-GAAP financial measures.

Results of Operations

As a result of the sale of the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business, the historical results of these two disposed businesses have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated financial statements. Prior period results of operations and balance sheet information have been recast to reflect this presentation, and the discussion below relates to our continuing operations after giving effect to the reclassification for the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business as discontinued operations.

1. Refer to Note 3 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

Revenue

Revenue increased $21.9 million, or 11.5%, to $213.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $191.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. This increase included incremental revenue from acquisitions completed during the completed during the years ended September 30, 2025, and 2024, of $5.9 million. The remaining increase was primarily driven by an increase of $11.4 million in recurring revenues, an increase of $2.6 million in software license revenue and an increase of $2.0 million in professional services revenue.

Other Costs of Services

Other costs of services increased $6.1 million, or 10.0%, to $66.6 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $60.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. This increase was primarily driven by an increase in internal and external personnel costs of $3.4 million and an increase in software costs of $2.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased $13.9 million, or 13.8%, to $114.7 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $100.8 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. This increase was driven by an increase in internal and external personnel costs of $6.8 million as well as an increase in M&A-related expenses of $4.6 million, which increased primarily due to activity that is for non-recurring expenses for which we are reimbursed through the transition services agreements with Infinx and Payroc, the employee leasing arrangement with Infinx, and the processing services agreement with Payroc, and for which revenue is recognized in other income. Additional increases were driven by an increase in internal-use software costs of $1.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024.

Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization increased $2.3 million, or 9.2%, to $27.9 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $25.6 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. Amortization expense increased $2.4 million to $25.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $23.0 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 primarily due to an increase in capitalized software project releases, driving an increase in amortization expense, and amortization expense recorded for intangible assets and capitalized software acquired from current year and prior year acquisitions. Depreciation expense decreased $0.1 million to $2.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $2.6 million for the year ended September 30, 2024.

Change in Fair Value of Contingent Consideration

Change in fair value of contingent consideration to be paid in connection with acquisitions was a charge of $0.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 related to adjustments to the expected present value of consideration to be paid for earnouts. The change in fair value of contingent consideration for the year ended September 30, 2024 was a charge of $22 thousand.

Interest Expense

Interest expense decreased $27.0 million, or 92.1%, to $2.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $29.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. The decrease reflects a lower average outstanding debt balance for the year ended September 30, 2025, as compared to the year ended September 30, 2024.

Other Income

Other income was $9.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2025, compared to other income of $3.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. Other income for the year ended September 30, 2025 reflects income from the transition services agreement and employee leasing arrangement entered into at the closing of the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business of $5.3 million, income from the transition services agreement and processing services agreement entered into at the closing of the sale of the Merchant Services Business of $1.4 million, interest income generated from cash held at financial institutions of $1.7 million, income of $0.5 million relating to adjustments of liabilities under our Tax Receivable Agreement related to the remeasurement of the underlying deferred tax asset for change in income tax rates and a gain on disposal of property and equipment of $0.6 million related to the sale of a building purchased through previous acquisitions. Other income for the year ended September 30, 2024 reflects $1.2 million relating to adjustments of liabilities under our Tax Receivable Agreement related to the remeasurement of the underlying deferred tax asset for change in income tax rates and the gain on the Exchangeable Note Repurchases and $2.3 million relating to the gain on Warrant Unwinds, net of the loss on Note Hedge Unwinds, partially offset by a $0.1 million loss on the sale of a building purchased through acquisition.

Provision for (Benefit from) Income Taxes

The provision for income taxes increased to a provision of $5.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 as compared to a $5.5 million benefit from income taxes for the year ended September 30, 2024. Our effective tax rate of 48% for the year ended September 30, 2025 differs from the federal statutory rate of 21% primarily due to the tax structure of the Company, valuation allowance activity, stock compensation and state tax expense. The income of majority-owned i3 Verticals, LLC is not taxed at the entity-level. i3 Verticals, Inc. is subject to federal, state and local income taxes with respect to its allocable share of any taxable income of i3 Verticals, LLC and is taxed at the prevailing corporate tax rates.

Net income from discontinued operations, net of income taxes

We had $20.9 million in net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the year ended September 30, 2025 as compared to $191.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2024. See Note 2 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information and detail on the financial results of discontinued operations.

The net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the for the year ended September 30, 2025 reflects the gain on the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business of $26.0 million and seven months of business activity for the Healthcare RCM Business, including revenue of $22.5 million, operating expenses of $25.1 million and a provision for income taxes of $1.6 million. The net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the year ended September 30, 2024 reflects the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services Business of $205.6 million and a complete year of business activity for both the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business, including revenue of $185.0 million, operating expenses of $158.3 million and a provision for income taxes of $41.1 million.

1. Refer to Note 3 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

Revenue

Revenue increased $1.6 million, or 0.8%, to $191.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $189.7 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. This increase included incremental revenue from acquisitions completed during the years ended September 30, 2024, and 2023, of $2.4 million. The increase was also driven by an increase of $8.4 million in recurring revenues, which was offset by a decrease of $4.9 million in software license revenue and decrease of $4.6 million in professional services revenue.

Other Costs of Services

Other costs of services increased $5.7 million, or 10.4%, to $60.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $54.8 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. This increase was primarily driven by an increase in software costs of $2.7 million, an increase $1.6 million in processing expenses and an increase in internal and external personnel costs of $1.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from the year ended September 30, 2023.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $5.2 million, or 4.9%, to $100.8 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $106.0 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. This decrease was principally driven by a decrease in internal and external personnel costs of $7.9 million which was partially offset by an increase in M&A-related expenses of $2.0 million, which increased primarily due to costs related to the sale of the Merchant Services Business, and an increase in internal-use software costs of $0.8 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from the year ended September 30, 2023.

Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization increased $2.2 million, or 9.6%, to $25.6 million for the year ended year ended September 30, 2024 from $23.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. Amortization expense increased $1.9 million to $23.0 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $21.1 million for the year ended September 30, 2023 primarily due to an increase in capitalized software project releases, driving an increase in amortization expense. Depreciation expense increased $0.3 million to $2.6 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $2.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2023.

Change in Fair Value of Contingent Consideration

Change in fair value of contingent consideration to be paid in connection with acquisitions was a charge of $22 thousand for the year ended September 30, 2024 related to adjustments to the expected present value of consideration to be paid for earnouts. The change in fair value of contingent consideration for the year ended September 30, 2023 was a charge of $10.0 million.

Interest Expense

Interest expense increased $4.1 million, or 16.5%, to $29.3 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $25.1 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. The increase reflected a higher average interest rate and a higher average outstanding debt balance for the year ended September 30, 2024, as compared to the year ended September 30, 2023.

Other income

Other income was $3.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2024, compared to other income of $1.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. Other income for the year ended September 30, 2024 reflects $1.2 million relating to adjustments of liabilities under our Tax Receivable Agreement related to the remeasurement of the underlying deferred tax asset for change in income tax rates and the gain on the Exchangeable Note Repurchases and $2.3 million relating to the gain on Warrant Unwinds, net of the loss on Note Hedge Unwinds, partially offset by a $0.1 million loss on the sale of a building purchased through acquisition. Other income for the year ended September 30, 2023 reflects $0.9 million relating to adjustments of liabilities under our Tax Receivable Agreement related to the remeasurement of the underlying deferred tax asset for changes in estimated income tax rates and $0.3 million contingent consideration received for an investment that was sold in a prior year.

Benefit from Income Taxes

The benefit from income taxes increased $2.0 million to $5.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 as compared to $3.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. Our effective tax rate of 25% for the year ended September 30, 2024 differs from the federal statutory rate of 21% primarily due to the tax structure of the Company, valuation allowance activity and state tax expense. The income of majority-owned i3 Verticals, LLC is not taxed at the entity-level. i3 Verticals, Inc. is subject to federal, state and local income taxes with respect to its allocable share of any taxable income of i3 Verticals, LLC and is taxed at the prevailing corporate tax rates.

Net income from discontinued operations, net of income taxes

We had $191.2 million in net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the year ended September 30, 2024 from $22.2 million for the year ended September 30, 2023. See Note 2 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information and detail on the financial results of discontinued operations.

The net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the year ended September 30, 2024 included the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services business of $205.6 million, partially offset by the provision for income taxes of $41.1 million. Both the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 included a complete year of business activity for both the Merchant Services Business and the Healthcare RCM Business. The year ended September 30, 2024 included revenue of $185.0 million and operating expenses of $158.3 million. The net income from discontinued operations, net of income tax, for the year ended September 30, 2023 included revenue of $180.6 million, operating expenses of $153.4 million and a provision for income taxes of $2.3 million.

Seasonality

We have experienced in the past, and may continue to experience, seasonal fluctuations in our revenues as a result of consumer and business spending patterns. The number of business days in a month or quarter also may affect seasonal fluctuations. Certain revenues fluctuate with the fiscal calendars of our customers. Transactional revenue for our Education customers is strongest in August, September, October, January and February, at the start of each semester, and generally weakens throughout the semester, with little revenue in the summer months of June and July. Operating expenses show less seasonal fluctuation, with the result that net income is subject to the same seasonal factors as our revenues. The growth in our business may have partially overshadowed seasonal trends to date, and seasonal impacts on our business may be more pronounced in the future.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We have historically financed our operations and working capital through net cash from operating activities. As of September 30, 2025, we had $66.7 million of cash and cash equivalents and available borrowing capacity of $400.0 million under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, subject to the financial covenants. We usually minimize cash balances by making payments on our revolving line of credit to minimize borrowings and interest expense. As of September 30, 2025, we had no borrowings outstanding under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility. For additional information about our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, see the section entitled "— 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility" below.

Our primary cash needs are to fund working capital requirements, make capital expenditures and otherwise invest in our technology infrastructure, fund acquisitions and related contingent consideration, make scheduled principal and interest payments on our outstanding indebtedness, pay tax distributions to members of i3 Verticals, LLC as discussed below, and make repurchases of shares of Class A common stock under our share repurchase program as discussed below. We consistently have positive cash flow provided by operations and expect that our cash flow from operations, current cash and cash equivalents and available borrowing capacity under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility will be sufficient to fund our cash needs as described above for at least the next twelve months and foreseeable future. Our growth strategy includes acquisitions. We expect to fund acquisitions through a combination of cash on hand, net cash from operating activities, borrowings under our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility and through the issuance of equity and debt securities. As a holding company, we depend on distributions or loans from i3 Verticals, LLC to access funds earned by our operations. The covenants contained in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility may restrict i3 Verticals, LLC's ability to provide funds to i3 Verticals, Inc.

Our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, as amended, requires us to maintain a consolidated interest coverage ratio not less than 3.0 to 1.0 and total leverage ratio not exceeding 5.0 to 1.0. As of September 30, 2025, we were in compliance with these covenants with a consolidated interest coverage ratio and total leverage ratio of 96.8x and 0.0x, respectively, and expect to remain in compliance with these covenants over the next twelve months. Although we believe our liquidity position remains strong, there can be no assurance that we will be able to raise additional funds, in the form of debt or equity, or to amend our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility on terms acceptable to us, if at all, even if we determined such actions were necessary in the future.

In January 2025, i3 Verticals, LLC, a pass-through entity in which the Company holds a majority ownership interest, made a tax distribution (the "LLC Tax Distribution") to the Company and the other members of i3 Verticals, LLC (the "Continuing Equity Owners") related to the taxable income associated with the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services Business completed in September 2024 that was anticipated to be recognized for 2024 federal income tax purposes by members of i3 Verticals, LLC. As a result of differences in the amount of net taxable income allocable to the Company and to the Continuing Equity Owners and the higher assumed tax rate of the Continuing Equity Owners than the tax rate of the Company, this LLC Tax Distribution resulted in the Company holding cash in excess of the Company's tax liabilities, its obligation to make payments under its tax receivables agreement, and any other expected liabilities of the Company. Thereafter, on January 23, 2025, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC effected certain recapitalization actions in order to reduce excess cash held at the Company following this LLC Tax Distribution. For additional information regarding the ownership interest of the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC and the capitalization of i3 Verticals, LLC, see Note 1 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report. For additional information regarding these recapitalization transactions, see Note 18 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements contained in this report.

Cash Flows

The discussion of our cash flows that follows does not include the impact of any adjustments to remove the Merchant Services Business or Healthcare RCM Business as discontinued operations and is stated on a total company consolidated basis. The following table presents a summary of cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities for the following comparative periods.

Year Ended September 30, 2025 Compared to Year Ended September 30, 2024

	Year ended September 30,
	2025	2024
	(in thousands)
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 5,694	$ 48,409
Net cash provided by investing activities	$ 76,456	$ 396,150
Net cash used in financing activities	$ (104,414)	$ (367,362)

Cash Flow from Operating Activities

Net cash provided by operating activities decreased $42.7 million to $5.7 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $48.4 million for the year ended September 30, 2024.

Our net income changed from $175.1 million to $26.5 million for the year ended September 30, 2024 to 2025. Net income for the year ended September 30, 2024 included the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services Business of $205.6 million. Net income for the year ended September 30, 2025 included the gain on the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business of $26.0 million. Additionally, there was $27.0 million less interest expense during the year ended September 30, 2025 as compared to the year ended September 30, 2024. Net of these amounts and other non-cash adjustments to net income, net income contributed an additional $21.3 million in cash flows from operating activities for the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024.

Net income contributions were primarily offset by reductions in net operating assets and liabilities of $64.0 million for the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024. Income taxes and other liabilities related to the sale of the Merchant Services Business in September 2024 were accrued in fiscal year 2024, but paid during the year ended September 30, 2025, driving most of the reductions in net operating assets and liabilities.

Cash Flow from Investing Activities

Net cash provided by investing activities decreased $319.7 million to $76.5 million provided by investing activities for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $396.2 million provided by investing activities for the year ended September 30, 2024. The largest drivers of the decrease in cash provided by investing activities was the difference in proceeds from the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business which contributed $96.1 million during the year ended September 30, 2025 compared to $435.1 million in proceeds from the sale of the Merchant Services Business during the year ended September 30, 2024, causing a net decrease of $339.0 million in cash provided by investing activities. This was partially offset by a $8.1 million reduction in cash paid for acquisitions (net of cash acquired), a decrease of $5.4 million in expenditures for purchases of residual buyouts, a decrease of $3.8 million for expenditures for capitalized software and a decrease of $1.0 million for expenditures for property and equipment for the year ended September 30, 2025 compared to the year ended September 30, 2024.

Cash Flow from Financing Activities

Net cash used in financing activities decreased $262.9 million to $104.4 million used in financing activities for the year ended September 30, 2025 from $367.4 million provided by financing activities for the year ended September 30, 2024. The decrease in net cash used in financing activities was driven by a decrease in net borrowings on the revolving credit facility of $272.5 million during the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024. The decrease was also related to the $87.8 million in payments for repurchases of Exchangeable Notes during the year ended September 30, 2024. Partially offsetting these decreases in cash used by financing activities, during the year ended September 30, 2025, we used cash from financing activities for multiple purposes for which we did not use cash from financing activities during the year ended September 30, 2024, including payments of $37.6 million for repurchases of Class A common stock, payments of $26.2 million to extinguish the Exchangeable Notes and payments of $10.0 million for required distributions to members under the Tax Receivable Agreement. Additionally, the decrease in net cash used in financing activities was due to an increase of $24.2 million in payments for required distributions on behalf of members for tax obligations and an increase in payments for employees' tax withholdings from net settled stock option exercises and RSU releases of $3.6 million during the year ended September 30, 2025 from the year ended September 30, 2024.

Year Ended September 30, 2024 Compared to Year Ended September 30, 2023

For a discussion of the cash flows for the year ended September 30, 2024 compared to the year ended September 30, 2023, refer to Part II, Item 7. "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Liquidity and Capital Resources" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2024, which was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on November 25, 2024.

2023 Senior Secured Revolving Credit Facility

On May 8, 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC (the "Borrower"), entered into that certain Credit Agreement (as amended by the first amendment dated June 26, 2024, and the second amendment dated May 5, 2025, the "2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility") with the guarantors and lenders party thereto and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent ("JPMorgan"). The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility replaced the prior senior secured credit facility of the Company which was entered into on May 9, 2019 (the "Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility"). As amended by the Second Amendment described below, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility provides for aggregate commitments of $400.0 million in the form of a senior secured revolving credit facility (the "Revolver"). In addition, on February 11, 2025, the Borrower entered into a letter agreement with the administrative agent and the lenders under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility providing the Borrower with a one-time consent to an earlier reduction in the pricing of the revolving loans than what is otherwise permitted by the terms of the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility. Such reduction became effective as of September 27, 2024, which is the date that the Borrower paid down the outstanding balance of the revolving loans with proceeds of the sale of the Merchant Services Business and achieved a consolidated total net leverage ratio of less than 2.0 to 1.0, instead of November 26, 2024, which is the date that the Borrower delivered its compliance certificate for the fiscal quarter ending September 30, 2024. Further, on May 5, 2025, the Borrower entered into a second amendment (the "Second Amendment") to the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility to permit the Healthcare RCM Transactions. The Second Amendment also permanently reduced the aggregate lender commitments under the Revolver from $450.0 million to $400.0 million.

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility provides that the Borrower has the right to seek additional commitments to provide additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments in an aggregate principal amount up to, as of any date of determination, the sum of (i) the greater of $100.0 million and 100% of the Borrower's consolidated EBITDA (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) for the most recently completed four quarter period, plus (ii) the amount of certain prepayments of certain indebtedness, so long as, among other things, after giving pro forma effect to the incurrence of such additional borrowings and any related transactions, the Borrower's consolidated interest coverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) would not be less than 3.0 to 1.0 and the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) would not exceed 5.0 to 1.0. As of September 30, 2025, the Borrower's consolidated interest coverage ratio was 96.8x and total leverage ratio was 0.0x.

The provision of any such additional amounts under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments are subject to certain additional conditions and the receipt of certain additional commitments by existing or additional lenders. The lenders under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility are not under any obligation to provide any such additional term loan facilities or revolving credit commitments.

The proceeds of the Revolver, together with proceeds from any additional amounts under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments, may only be used by the Borrower to (i) finance working capital, capital expenditures and other lawful corporate purposes, (ii) finance permitted acquisitions (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) and (iii) to refinance certain existing indebtedness.

Borrowings under the Revolver will be made, at the Borrower's option, at the Adjusted Term SOFR rate or the base rate, plus, in each case, an applicable margin.

The Adjusted Term SOFR rate will be the rate of interest per annum equal to the Term SOFR rate (based upon an interest period of one, three or six months), plus 0.10%, plus an applicable margin of 2.00% to 3.00% (2.00% at September 30, 2025). The Adjusted Term SOFR rate shall not be less than 0% in any event.

The base rate is a fluctuating rate of interest per annum equal to the highest of (a) the greater of the federal funds rate or the overnight bank funding rate, plus ½ of 1%, (b) Wall Street Journal prime rate and (c) the Adjusted Term SOFR rate for an interest period of one month, plus 1%, plus an applicable margin of 1.00% to 2.00% (1.00% at September 30, 2025). The base rate shall not be less than 1% in any event.

The applicable margin is based upon the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility), as reflected in the schedule below:

Consolidated Total Net Leverage Ratio	Commitment Fee	Letter of Credit Fee	Term Benchmark Loans	Base Rate Loans
> 3.0 to 1.0	0.30 %	3.00 %	3.00 %	2.00 %
> 2.5 to 1.0 but < 3.0 to 1.0	0.25 %	2.50 %	2.50 %	1.50 %
> 2.0 to 1.0 but < 2.5 to 1.0	0.20 %	2.25 %	2.25 %	1.25 %
< 2.0 to 1.0	0.15 %	2.00 %	2.00 %	1.00 %

In addition to paying interest on outstanding principal under the Revolver, the Borrower will be required to pay a commitment fee equal to the product of between 0.15% and 0.30% (the applicable percentage depending on the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio as reflected in the schedule above, 0.15% at September 30, 2025) times the actual daily amount by which $400.0 million (as of the effectiveness of the Second Amendment) exceeds the total amount outstanding under the Revolver and available to be drawn under all outstanding letters of credit.

The Borrower will be permitted to voluntarily reduce the unutilized portion of the commitment amount and repay outstanding loans under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, whether such amounts are issued under the Revolver or under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit facilities, at any time without premium or penalty.

In addition, if the total amount borrowed under the Revolver exceeds $400.0 million (as of the effectiveness of the Second Amendment) at any time, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility requires the Borrower to prepay such excess outstanding amounts.

All obligations under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility are unconditionally guaranteed by the Company, and each of the Company's existing and future direct and indirect material, wholly owned domestic subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions. The obligations are secured by first-priority security interests in substantially all tangible and intangible assets of the Borrower, the Company and each subsidiary guarantor, in each case whether owned on the date of the initial borrowings or thereafter acquired.

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility places certain restrictions on the ability of the Borrower, the Company and their subsidiaries to, among other things, incur debt and liens; merge, consolidate or liquidate; dispose of assets; enter into hedging arrangements; make certain restricted payments; undertake transactions with affiliates; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; make certain investments; prepay or modify the terms of certain indebtedness; and modify the terms of certain organizational agreements.

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility contains customary events of default, including payment defaults, breaches of representations and warranties, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to other material indebtedness, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, material judgments, certain events with respect to employee benefit plans, invalidity of loan documents and certain changes in control.

As of September 30, 2025, we were in compliance with these covenants, with a consolidated interest coverage ratio and total leverage ratio of 96.8x and 0.0x, respectively.

Exchangeable Notes

On February 18, 2020, i3 Verticals, LLC issued $138.0 million aggregate principal amount of its 1.0% Exchangeable Notes due February 15, 2025. Prior to their maturity, the Exchangeable Notes bore interest at a fixed rate of 1.0% per year, payable semiannually in arrears on February 15 and August 15 of each year, beginning on August 15, 2020. The Exchangeable Notes were exchangeable into cash, shares of the Company's Class A common stock, or a combination thereof, at i3 Verticals, LLC's election, provided that in September 2022, the Company made the irrevocable election to settle the principal portion of its Exchangeable Notes only in cash. As of August 15, 2024, the Exchangeable Notes became exchangeable by the holders thereof at any time until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date. The net proceeds from the sale of the Exchangeable Notes were approximately $132.8 million after deducting discounts and commissions to the certain initial purchasers and other estimated fees and expenses. i3 Verticals, LLC used a portion of the net proceeds of the Exchangeable Notes offering to pay down outstanding borrowings under the Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility in connection with the effectiveness of the operative provisions of the amendment to the Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility and to pay the cost of the Note Hedge Transactions.

On December 21, 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC entered into agreements to repurchase a portion of its Exchangeable Notes pursuant to privately negotiated transactions with a limited number of holders of the Exchangeable Notes (the "Exchangeable Note Repurchases"). The Exchangeable Note Repurchases were completed on January 18, 2024, and the Company paid $87.4 million to repurchase $90.8 million in aggregate principal amount of its Exchangeable Notes and to repay approximately $0.4 million in accrued interest on the repurchased portion of the Exchangeable Notes. The Exchangeable Note matured and were repaid in full on February 15, 2025, and we paid $26.4 million in satisfaction of the outstanding principal and accrued interest in connection therewith.

For additional information, see Note 11 to our consolidated financial statements.

Material Cash Requirements

The following table summarizes our material cash requirements as of September 30, 2025, including those related to leases and borrowings:

Material Cash Requirements (in thousands)	Payments Due by Period
	Total	Less than 1 year	1 to 3 years	3 to 5 years	More than 5 years
Contract minimum fees <sup>(1)</sup>	15,857	7,953	7,696	74	134
Facility leases <sup>(2)</sup>	5,544	2,185	2,147	1,106	106
2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility and related interest <sup>(3)</sup>	1,564	600	964	—	—
Contingent consideration <sup>(4)</sup>	3,571	82	3,489	—	—
Total	$ 26,536	$ 10,820	$ 14,296	$ 1,180	$ 240

1. We have contractual obligations primarily for third-party technology services and licenses. Certain agreements are fixed for the duration of the contracts and may require us to pay minimum fees.
2. In addition to the facility leases presented, we have $69 thousand in short-term leases. These payments will be made within the next twelve months.
3. We estimated interest payments through the maturity of our 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility by applying the unused fee rate of 0.15% in effect as of September 30, 2025.
4. In connection with certain of our acquisitions, we may be obligated to pay the seller of the acquired entity certain amounts of contingent consideration as set forth in the relevant purchasing documents, whereby additional consideration may be due upon the achievement of certain specified financial performance targets. i3 Verticals, Inc. accounts for the fair values of such contingent payments in accordance with the Level 3 financial instrument fair value hierarchy at the close of each subsequent reporting period. The acquisition-date fair value of contingent consideration is valued using a Monte Carlo simulation. i3 Verticals, Inc. subsequently reassesses such fair value based on probability estimates with respect to the acquired entity's likelihood of achieving the respective financial performance targets.

Potential payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement are not reflected in this table. See “—Tax Receivable Agreement” below.

Share Repurchase Program

On August 8, 2024, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a share repurchase program for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company was authorized to repurchase up to $50.0 million of outstanding shares of our Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases) (the "Prior Share Repurchase Program"). Pursuant to the Prior Share Repurchase Program, the Company was authorized to make repurchases of our Class A Common Stock in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. The terms of the Prior Share Repurchase Program provided that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class A common stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC redeemed for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The Prior Share Repurchase Program terminated on August 8, 2025.

The Company repurchased 1,573,881 shares of Class A Common Stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program at an average price of $23.86 per share and an aggregate repurchase amount (inclusive of commissions and excise taxes) of $38.0 million during the year ended September 30, 2025, prior to the termination of such program as noted above. The shares of Class A Common Stock purchased during this period represent the total number of shares of Class A Common Stock purchased under the Prior Share Repurchase Program since its adoption. The repurchased shares were cancelled and retired, resulting in a permanent reduction in both the number of shares outstanding and the Company's total stockholders' equity.

On August 7, 2025, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a new share repurchase program (the "New Share Repurchase Program") for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company may repurchase up to $50 million of outstanding shares of Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases). This New Share Repurchase Program replaced the Prior Share Repurchase Program which terminated on August 8, 2025, as described above.

The New Share Repurchase Program will terminate on the earlier of September 30, 2026, or when the maximum dollar amount under the authorization has been expended. Pursuant to the New Share Repurchase Program, repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. In addition, any repurchases under the New Share Repurchase Program will be subject to prevailing market conditions, liquidity and cash flow considerations, applicable securities laws requirements (including under Rule 10b-18 and Rule 10b5-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as applicable), compliance with contractual restrictions under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, and other factors. The terms of the New Share Repurchase Program provide that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class A common stock under the New Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC will redeem for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The New Share Repurchase Program does not require the Company to acquire any particular amount of shares of Class A common stock, and may be extended, modified, suspended or discontinued at any time at our discretion.

The Company did not repurchase any shares of Class A Common Stock under the New Share Repurchase Program during the three months ended September 30, 2025, and the remaining total available authorization under the New Share Repurchase Program as of September 30, 2025, was $50.0 million.

Tax Receivable Agreement

We are a party to a Tax Receivable Agreement with i3 Verticals, LLC and each of the Continuing Equity Owners, as described in Note 13 of our consolidated financial statements. As a result of the Tax Receivable Agreement, we have been required to establish a liability in our consolidated financial statements. That liability, which will increase upon the redemptions or exchanges of Common Units for our Class A common stock, generally represents 85% of the estimated future tax benefits, if any, relating to the increase in tax basis associated with the Common Units we received as a result of the reorganization transactions entered into in connection with our IPO and other redemptions or exchanges by holders of Common Units. If this election is made, the accelerated payment will be based on the present value of 100% of the estimated future tax benefits and, as a result, the associated liability reported on our consolidated financial statements may be increased. We expect that the payments required under the Tax Receivable Agreement will be substantial. The actual increase in tax basis, as well as the amount and timing of any payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement, will vary depending upon a number of factors, including the timing of redemptions or exchanges by the holders of Common Units, the price of our Class A common stock at the time of the redemption or exchange, whether such redemptions or exchanges are taxable, the amount and timing of the taxable income we generate in the future and the tax rate then applicable as well as the portion of our payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement constituting imputed interest. We intend to fund the payment of the amounts due under the Tax Receivable Agreement out of the cash savings that we actually realize in respect of the attributes to which Tax Receivable Agreement relates.

As of September 30, 2025, the total amount due under the Tax Receivable Agreement was $34.9 million, of which $2.7 million was recorded in accrued expenses and other current liabilities and $32.2 million was recorded in long-term tax receivable agreement obligations as of September 30, 2025. Payments to the Continuing Equity Owners related to exchanges through September 30, 2025 will range from approximately $0 to $5.4 million per year and are expected to be paid over the next 22 years. The amounts recorded as of September 30, 2025, approximate the current estimate of expected tax savings and are subject to change after the filing of the Company's U.S. federal and state income tax returns. Future payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement with respect to subsequent exchanges would be in addition to these amounts.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements and related disclosures in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and the Company's discussion and analysis of its financial condition and operating results requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Note 3, "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the notes to the accompanying consolidated financial statements in Part II, Item 8 of this Form 10-K describes the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of the Company's consolidated financial statements. Estimates include, but are not limited to, the value of purchase consideration paid and identifiable assets acquired and assumed in acquisitions, goodwill and intangible asset impairment review, determination of performance obligations for revenue recognition, loss reserves, assumptions used in the calculation of equity-based compensation and in the calculation of income taxes, and certain tax assets and liabilities as well as the related valuation allowances.

Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Below is a summary of our critical accounting policies and estimates for which the nature of management's assumptions are material due to the levels of subjectivity and judgment necessary to account for highly uncertain matters or the susceptibility of such matters to change, and for which the impact of the estimates and assumptions on financial condition or operating performance is material.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to receive in exchange for those products or services. We earn revenues from the following sources:

- Software and related services — Includes software as a service ("SaaS"), transaction-based fees, ongoing software maintenance and support, software licenses and other professional services related to our software offerings;
- Proprietary payments — Includes volume-based payment processing fees ("discount fees") and other related fixed transaction or service fees; and
- Other — Includes sales of equipment, non-software related professional services, bundled performance obligations for software sales and equipment leasing and other revenues.

Our software agreements with customers can include multiple performance obligations such as licenses, installation, training, consulting, development of custom software, hosting, or support and maintenance. We account for each performance obligation separately and use significant judgment to assess whether these obligations are distinct or should be combined. Contracts with professional services, such as training or installation, are evaluated to determine if the customer can benefit from these services independently, whether they can be provided by other available resources, or whether they are separately identifiable from other contract promises. For agreements that involve our readily available software, we recognize revenue when control of the software license transfers to the customer, provided the software is distinct. Readily available software is considered distinct if it can be integrated with minimal customizations, used by the customer upon installation, and if remaining services, such as training, are not highly interdependent or interrelated with the product's functionality.

The timing of revenue recognition for our SaaS revenue is determined by the nature of the underlying performance obligation. For SaaS offerings, right to access license sales (which are symbolic intellectual property) and license support services, revenue is generally recognized evenly over the contractual period, starting from the date the service is made available to customers, which is considered over time revenue recognition. Conversely, revenue from on-premise perpetual or right to use license sales (which are functional intellectual property) is recognized at the point in time when the software is made available for customer download or use. Some contracts include termination for convenience clauses, allowing either the Company, the customer, or both parties to terminate the agreement at any time or upon providing a specified notice period, without incurring any penalties. Not all contracts with our customers are standardized, and because of that we use significant judgment to determine whether the performance obligations in question will be satisfied at a point-in-time versus over time.

The timing of revenue recognition for professional services revenue is determined by the structure of the contract, and whether it is billed based on time and materials or milestone. For contracts that involve significant software production, modification, or customization, we recognize revenue over time and in accordance to ASC 606, which may vary depending on the specific facts and circumstances of each contract. In instances in which the contract is non-cancellable or we have a right to pay for work performed to date, we recognize revenue by measuring the estimated percent complete. This method best reflects the transfer of control to the customer as costs are incurred. These projects vary in duration but can be extended for long periods and may require revisions to revenue recognition. Any changes to estimated contract costs are recorded when determined. When performance obligations are distinct, the fee allocated to each obligation is analyzed separately. Revenue recognition for time and materials is determined by resources utilized at contracted rates.

Contingent Consideration in Acquisitions

On occasion, we may have acquisitions that include contingent consideration. Accounting for business combinations requires us to estimate the fair value of any contingent purchase consideration at the acquisition date. Where relevant, the fair value of material contingent consideration included in an acquisition is calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation as well as a discounted cash flow analysis.

The contingent consideration is revalued each period until it is settled. Management reviews the historical and projected performance of each acquisition with contingent consideration and uses an income probability method to revalue the contingent consideration. The revaluation requires management to make certain assumptions and represent management's best estimate at the valuation date. The probabilities are determined based on a management review of the expected likelihood of triggering events that would cause a change in the contingent consideration paid. For example, if management's forecasted performance for an acquisition increased, we would have anticipated a higher probability of contingent consideration being paid on the acquisition and would have recorded additional losses from the change in fair value of contingent consideration. Conversely, if management's forecasted performance for an acquisition decreased, we would have anticipated a higher probability of contingent consideration being paid on the acquisition and would have recorded a gain from change in fair value of contingent consideration. As of September 30, 2025, the fair value of contingent consideration recorded is $3.6 million, with maximum contingent consideration payout of $27.7 million dependent upon achievement of specified financial performance targets, as defined in the purchase agreements.

Goodwill

We test goodwill for impairment at least annually, absent some triggering event that would require an interim impairment assessment. Absent any impairment indicators, we perform our goodwill impairment testing as of July 1 each year.

In our goodwill impairment review, we use significant estimates and assumptions that include the identification of reporting units, assigning assets and liabilities to reporting units, assigning goodwill to reporting units and determining the fair value of each reporting unit. Our assessment of qualitative factors involves significant judgments about expected future business performance and general market conditions. Our qualitative assessment also includes evaluating the extent to which each reporting unit's fair value exceeded its carrying value in prior quantitative tests, as well as any events or circumstances that could affect the fair value of the reporting unit. If, based on this assessment, we conclude that it is not more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, no further testing is required. In connection with our impairment assessment process, from time to time, we perform quantitative assessments of our reporting units in order to support our qualitative assessments.

A quantitative assessment is performed if the qualitative assessment results in a more-likely-than-not determination or if a qualitative assessment is not performed. In a quantitative assessment, the fair value of each reporting unit is determined based on a combination of techniques, including the present value of future cash flows, applicable multiples of competitors and multiples from sales of like businesses, and requires management to make estimates and assumptions regarding discount rates, growth rates and our future long-term business plans.

Changes in any of these estimates or assumptions could materially affect the determination of fair value and the associated goodwill impairment charge for each reporting unit. For example, if management's forecasted earnings decreased for a reporting unit, we may have recorded an impairment loss for that reporting unit. For each of our reporting units, the calculated fair values substantially exceeded carrying values as of our most recent quantitative impairment test date, which was performed on July 1, 2024.

We have determined that we have two reporting units as of the date of the most recent annual goodwill impairment test on July 1, 2025. In the year ended September 30, 2025, based on the qualitative assessment, there were not any indicators that would indicate that it is more likely than not that a reporting unit's carrying value exceed the fair value.

Related Parties

Transactions involving related parties cannot be presumed to be carried out at an arm's length basis, as the requisite conditions of competitive, free-dealing markets may not exist. A description of related-party transactions is provided in Note 18 in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

Refer to Note 3, "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the notes to the accompanying consolidated financial statements for further discussion.

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Interest Rate Risk

As of September 30, 2025, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, as amended, consisted of a $400 million revolving credit facility, together with an option to increase the revolving credit facility and/or obtain incremental term loans in an additional principal amount of up to, as of any date of determination, the greater of $100 million and 100% of consolidated EBITDA (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) for the most recently completed four quarter period (subject to the receipt of additional commitments for any such incremental loan amounts).

As of September 30, 2025, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility accrued interest at Term SOFR (based upon an interest period of one, three or six months), plus 0.10%, plus an applicable margin of 2.00% to 3.00% (2.00% at September 30, 2025), or the base rate (defined as the highest of (a) the greater of the federal funds rate or the overnight bank funding rate, plus ½ of 1%, (b) Wall Street Journal prime rate and (c) the Adjusted Term SOFR rate for an interest period of one month, plus 1%), plus an applicable margin of 1.00% to 2.00% (1.00% at September 30, 2025), in each case depending upon the consolidated total leverage ratio, as defined in the agreement. Interest is payable at the end of the selected interest period, but no less frequently than quarterly. Additionally, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility requires us to pay unused commitment fees of 0.15% to 0.30% (0.15% as of September 30, 2025) on any undrawn amounts under the revolving credit facility and letter of credit fees of up to 3.00% on the maximum amount available to be drawn under each letter of credit issued under the agreement. The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility requires maintenance of certain financial ratios on a quarterly basis as follows: (i) a minimum consolidated interest coverage ratio of 3.0 to 1.0 (ii) a maximum total leverage ratio of 5.0 to 1.0.

As of September 30, 2025, we were in compliance with these covenants, and there was $400.0 million available for borrowing under the revolving credit facility, subject to the financial covenants.

As of September 30, 2025, we had no borrowings outstanding under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility. An increase or decrease in the interest rate applicable to the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility would not have had a material impact on the results of the business.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

As a result of our international operations, we are also exposed to foreign currency exchange rate risks. Because our international operations are not yet material to our consolidated results of operations, a 10% change in foreign currency exchange rates would not have had a material impact on our consolidated results of operations, financial position, or cash flows for the twelve months ended September 30, 2025.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the shareholders and the Board of Directors of i3 Verticals, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of i3 Verticals, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in equity, and cash flows, for each of the three years in the period ended September 30, 2025, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended September 30, 2025, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of September 30, 2025, based on criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission and our report dated November 21, 2025, expressed an unqualified opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Critical Audit Matter

The critical audit matter communicated below is a matter arising from the current-period audit of the financial statements that was communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that (1) relates to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matter below, providing a separate opinion on the critical audit matter or on the accounts or disclosures to which it relates.

Revenue Recognition – Software and Related Services Contracts – Refer to Note 3 to the Financial Statements

Critical Audit Matter Description

The Company offers software and related services to customers, and arrangements related to such revenue may contain multiple performance obligations such as software as a service, transaction-based services, ongoing software maintenance and support, software licenses and other professional services related to the software offerings. The Company recognizes revenue upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

The revenue recognition accounting conclusions for software and related services contracts require significant judgment in the areas of:

- For agreements that include multiple performance obligations, assessing whether performance obligations are distinct or should be combined.
- Evaluating whether performance obligations will be satisfied at a point-in-time versus over time.
- Allocation of the transaction price at inception of the arrangement to multiple performance obligations.

We identified revenue recognition for significant software and related services contracts entered into during the fiscal year 2025 as a critical audit matter because of the significant judgments applied by management. This required a high degree of auditor judgment and an increased extent of effort when performing audit procedures to evaluate whether revenue was recognized to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those goods or services.

How the Critical Audit Matter Was Addressed in the Audit

Our audit procedures related to the Company's revenue recognition for significant software and related services contracts entered into during fiscal year 2025 include the following, among others:

- We tested the operating effectiveness of controls related to the identification of distinct performance obligations, determination of whether such performance obligations are satisfied over time or at a point in time, and allocation of the standalone selling prices.
- We evaluated management's significant accounting policies related to revenue recognition for reasonableness.
- We selected a sample of contracts and performed the following procedures:
  - Obtained and examined customer source documents and the contract for each selection, including master agreements and related amendments to evaluate if relevant contractual terms have been considered by management.
  - Sent confirmations to customers regarding key contract terms that impact revenue recognition.
  - Evaluated management's application of their accounting policy and tested revenue recognition for specific performance obligations by comparing management's conclusions to the underlying contract, master agreement, and any related amendments, if applicable.
  - Evaluated management's conclusions related to whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time.

- Tested the mathematical accuracy of management's calculations of revenue recognized in the financial statements.
- Evaluated the reasonableness of management's estimate of standalone selling prices for products and services that are not sold separately by performing the following:
  - Assessing the appropriateness of the Company's methodology and mathematical accuracy of the determined standalone selling prices.
  - Testing the completeness and accuracy of the source data utilized in management's calculations.

“Healthcare RCM Business”), to Infix, Inc. (“Healthcare RCM Buyer”), a Texas corporation, pursuant to the terms of that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of May 5, 2025, by and among Healthcare RCM Buyer and the Healthcare RCM Seller Parties (the “Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement;” the transactions contemplated by the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, the “Healthcare RCM Transactions”). In addition, immediately prior to the sale of the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities pursuant to the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, i3 Verticals, LLC and certain of its subsidiaries contributed and/or assigned certain assets and certain liabilities related to the Healthcare RCM Business to the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities. The purchase price payable by Healthcare RCM Buyer to Healthcare RCM Seller for the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities was $96,252, paid in cash at closing, after giving effect to post-closing net working capital, indebtedness and cash adjustments.

At the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement, the Company entered into a transition services agreement with Infix (“Infix TSA”), pursuant to which, among other things, the Company or affiliates thereof are providing certain information technology and operational transition services to Infix for a period of time after the closing, and an employee leasing agreement with Infix (“Infix ELA”), pursuant to which the Company leased employees of the Healthcare RCM Business to Infix for a limited period of time following the closing in accordance with the terms thereof. The obligations under the Infix TSA are anticipated to be completed in the first quarter of fiscal 2026. In addition, the Infix ELA terminated in accordance with its terms on July 31, 2025. Revenue earned under the Infix TSA and Infix ELA are reported in other income and expenses incurred for which the Company is reimbursed through the Infix TSA and Infix ELA are reported in selling, general and administrative expenses within the Company’s consolidated statements of operations. Income under the Infix TSA and Infix ELA during the year ended September 30, 2025 was $5,250.

Aggregate costs incurred related to the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business during the year ended September 30, 2025 that were not considered incremental direct costs to transact the sale, were approximately $1,332 and were expensed as incurred. These costs were primarily incurred during the third fiscal quarter of the fiscal year ended September 30, 2025 and include fees for third-party advisory, consulting, legal and professional services, as well as other items associated with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business. The expenses are reflected within selling, general and administrative expenses within the Company’s consolidated statements of operations.

Merchant Services Business Divestiture

During the year ended September 30, 2024, the Company made the strategic decision to discontinue a significant segment of its operations constituting its Merchant Services Business (as defined below). In this regard, on September 20, 2024, i3 Verticals, LLC, and i3 Holdings Sub, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC (“Corporation Seller,” and collectively with i3 Verticals, LLC, the “Sellers”) completed the transactions (such closing, the “Closing”) contemplated by that certain Securities Purchase Agreement dated as of June 26, 2024 (the “Purchase Agreement”), by and among i3 Verticals, LLC, Corporation Seller, the Company (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Sellers as set forth in the Purchase Agreement), Payroc Buyer, LLC (“Buyer”), and Payroc WorldAccess, LLC (solely for the purpose of providing a guaranty of the obligations of Buyer as set forth in the Purchase Agreement). Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, the Sellers sold to Buyer the equity interests of certain direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Sellers (the “Merchant Services Acquired Entities”) primarily comprising the Company’s merchant services business, including its associated proprietary technology (the “Merchant Services Business”), after giving effect to the contribution of certain assets and the assignment of certain liabilities associated with the Business from i3 Verticals, LLC and certain affiliates to the Merchant Services Acquired Entities pursuant to a contribution agreement which was entered into immediately prior to the Closing (collectively, the “Transactions”). Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, Buyer paid to Sellers an aggregate purchase price of approximately $439,516, payable in cash at the Closing, after giving effect to post-closing purchase price adjustments. The Merchant Services Business comprised the Company’s entire former Merchant Services segment and a small portion of the Company’s former Software and Services segment.

In connection with the closing of the Transactions, the Company entered into a Transition Services Agreement, pursuant to which, among other things, the Company or affiliates thereof provide certain information technology and operational transition services to Payroc for a period of time after the closing, and a Processing

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Change in presentation of certain costs to other costs of services

Following the disposal of the Company's Merchant Services Business in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company's core business has been providing software solutions. Given the change in the Company's business model following the sale of our Merchant Services Business, the Company reclassified certain expenses to better align with the primary industry in which it operates. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2025, the Company revised its presentation of certain expenses in the Consolidated Statements of Operations from selling, general and administrative expenses to other costs of services. The Company reclassified personnel costs related to installation of the Company's software, conversion of client data, training client personnel, customer support activities and various other services provided directly to customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services. The Company also reclassified certain hosting and related software costs for directly supporting the Company's customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services.

Comparative amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation. This change has no impact on the Consolidated Balance Sheets, Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows or Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity.

This change has no impact on the total operating expenses or earnings per share as illustrated below. The following tables present the effects of the change in presentation within the Consolidated Statements of Operations:

Principles of Consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiary companies. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, the Company considers cash on hand, checking accounts, and savings accounts to be cash and cash equivalents. At times, the balance in these accounts may exceed federal insured limits. Cash equivalents are defined as financial instruments readily transferable into cash with an original maturity less than 90 days.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash represents funds held in escrow related to acquisitions or held-on-deposit with the processing bank pursuant to agreements to cover potential merchant losses. It is presented as long-term assets on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets since the related agreements extend beyond the next twelve months. Following the adoption of Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2016-18, Statement of Cash Flows: Restricted Cash (Topic 230), the Company includes restricted cash along with the cash and cash equivalents balance for presentation in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Settlement Assets and Obligations

Settlement assets and obligations result when funds are temporarily held or owed by the Company on behalf of merchants, consumers, schools, and other institutions. Timing differences, interchange expenses, merchant reserves and exceptional items cause differences between the amount received from the card networks and the amount funded to counterparties. These balances arising in the settlement process are reflected as settlement assets and obligations on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. With the exception of merchant reserves, settlement assets or settlement obligations are generally collected and paid within one to four days. Settlement assets and settlement obligations were both $411 as of September 30, 2025 and $632 as of September 30, 2024, respectively.

Accounts Receivable and Credit Policies

Accounts receivable include amounts due from the sales of the Company's technology solutions to its customers, ongoing transition activities with Infix and Payroc related to the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business and Merchant Services Business, respectively, and other receivables from third parties. The carrying amount of accounts receivable is reduced by an allowance for doubtful accounts, if necessary, which reflects management's best estimate of the amounts that will not be collected. The allowance is estimated based on management's knowledge of its customers, historical loss experience and existing economic conditions. Accounts receivable and the allowance are written-off when, in management's opinion, all collection efforts have been exhausted. The Company's allowance for doubtful accounts was $687 and $452 as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively; however, actual write-offs may exceed estimated amounts. In connection with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, $212 at September 30, 2024 of the Company's allowance for doubtful were classified as "Current assets held for sale" in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and were not included in these amounts.

Inventories

Inventories consist of point-of-sale equipment to be sold to customers and are stated at the lower of cost, determined on a weighted average or specific basis, or net realizable value. Inventories were $2,516 and $2,423 at September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively, and are included within prepaid expenses and other current assets on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost or, if acquired through a business combination or an asset acquisition, fair value at the date of acquisition. Depreciation and amortization are provided over the assets' estimated useful lives (or, if obtained in connection with a business acquisition, over their estimated remaining useful lives) using the straight-line method, except for leasehold improvements, which are depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets or the lease term.

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are expensed when incurred. Expenditures for renewals or betterments are capitalized. Management reviews long-lived assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Company recognizes impairment when the sum of undiscounted estimated future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset is less than the carrying value of the asset. There were no impairment charges from continuing operations during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Capitalized Software

Development costs for software to be sold or leased to customers are capitalized once technological feasibility of the software product has been established. Costs incurred prior to establishing technological feasibility are expensed as incurred. Technological feasibility is established when the Company has completed a detailed program design and has determined that a product can be produced to meet its design specifications, including functions, features and technical performance requirements. Capitalization of costs ceases when the product is generally available to customers. Software development costs are amortized using the greater of the straight-line method or the usage method over its estimated useful life, which is generally estimated to be three years.

Additionally, development costs for software to be used internally or for SaaS products sold to customers is capitalized under similar guidance as discussed above. Once the software product is in the application development stage, costs are required to be capitalized. Costs incurred during the preliminary product phase or post implementation stage are expensed as incurred. Overhead, general and administrative, and training costs are not capitalized.

Software development costs may become impaired in situations where development efforts are abandoned due to the viability of a planned project becoming doubtful or due to technological obsolescence of a planned software product. Management evaluates the remaining useful lives and carrying values of capitalized software at least annually or when events and circumstances warrant such a review, to determine whether significant events or changes in circumstances indicate that impairment in value may have occurred. To the extent estimated net realizable values, which are estimated to equal future undiscounted cash flows, exceed the carrying value, no impairment is necessary. If estimated net realizable values are less than the carrying values, an impairment charge is recorded. There were no impairment charges from continuing operations during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

Identifiable software technology intangible assets resulting from acquisitions are amortized using the straight-line method over periods not exceeding their remaining estimated useful lives. GAAP requires that intangible assets with estimated useful lives be amortized over their respective estimated useful lives to their residual values, and reviewed for impairment. Acquisition technology intangibles' net book values are included in capitalized software, net in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Amortization expense related to capitalized software is recorded within depreciation and amortization on the consolidated statements of operations.

Acquisitions

Business acquisitions have been recorded using the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 805, Business Combinations ("ASC 805"), and, accordingly, the purchase price has been allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair value as of the date of acquisition. Where relevant, the fair value of contingent consideration included in an acquisition is calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation as well as a discounted cash flows analysis. The fair value of customer relationships and non-compete assets acquired is identified using the Income Approach. The fair values of trade names and internally-developed software acquired are identified using the Relief from Royalty Method. After the purchase price has been allocated, goodwill is recorded to the extent the total consideration paid for the acquisition, including the acquisition date fair value of contingent consideration, if any, exceeds the sum of the fair values of the separately identifiable acquired assets and assumed liabilities. Acquisition costs for business combinations are expensed when incurred and recorded in selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

Acquisitions not meeting the accounting criteria to be accounted for as a business combination are accounted for as an asset acquisition. An asset acquisition is recorded at its purchase price, inclusive of acquisition costs, which is allocated among the acquired assets and assumed liabilities based upon their relative fair values at the date of acquisition.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The operating results of an acquisition are included in the consolidated statements of operations from the date of such acquisition. Acquisitions completed during the year ended September 30, 2025 contributed $1,587 and $684 of revenue and net income, respectively, to the results in the Company's consolidated statements of operations for the year then ended.

Goodwill

In accordance with ASC 350, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other, the Company tests goodwill for impairment for each reporting unit on an annual basis in the fourth quarter, or when events or circumstances indicate the fair value of a reporting unit is below its carrying value.

The Company's goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired in business combinations. The goodwill generated from the business combinations is primarily related to the value placed on the employee workforce and expected synergies. Judgment is involved in determining if an indicator or change in circumstances relating to impairment has occurred. Such changes may include, among others, a significant decline in expected future cash flows, a significant adverse change in the business climate, and unforeseen competition.

The Company has the option of performing a qualitative assessment of impairment to determine whether any further quantitative testing for impairment is necessary. The option of whether or not to perform a qualitative assessment is made annually and may vary by reporting unit. Factors the Company considers in the qualitative assessment include general macroeconomic conditions, industry and market conditions, cost factors, overall financial performance of the Company's reporting units, events or changes affecting the composition or carrying amount of the net assets of its reporting units, sustained decrease in its share price, and other relevant entity specific events. If the Company determines not to perform the qualitative assessment or if it determines, on the basis of qualitative factors, that the fair value of the reporting unit is more likely than not less than the carrying value, then the Company performs a quantitative test for that reporting unit. The fair value of each reporting unit is compared to the reporting unit's carrying value, including goodwill. If the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value, the Company recognizes an impairment equal to the excess carrying value, not to exceed the total amount of goodwill allocated to that reporting unit.

For a discussion of the estimation methodology, the qualitative factors considered when performing a qualitative assessment and the significance of various inputs, please see the subheading below titled "Use of Estimates."

The Company has determined that it has two reporting units as of the date of the most recent annual goodwill impairment test on July 1, 2025. In the year ended September 30, 2025, based on the qualitative assessment, there were not any indicators that would indicate that it is more likely than not that a reporting unit's carrying value exceed the fair value. For each of the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023 the Company determined that none of its reporting units were impaired.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets include acquired customer relationships, trademarks, trade names, website development costs and non-compete agreements. Customer relationships represent the fair value of customer relationships purchased by the Company.

The Company amortizes definite lived identifiable intangible assets using a method that reflects the pattern in which the economic benefits of the intangible asset are expected to be consumed or otherwise utilized. The estimated useful lives of the Company's customer-related intangible assets approximate the expected distribution of cash flows, whether straight-line or accelerated, generated from each asset. The useful lives of contract-based intangible assets are equal to the terms of the agreement.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Management evaluates the remaining useful lives and carrying values of long-lived assets, including definite lived intangible assets, at least annually, or when events and circumstances warrant such a review, to determine whether significant events or changes in circumstances indicate that a change in the useful life or impairment in value may have occurred. There were no impairment charges during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

Lease Expense

Leases are recorded in accordance with ASC 842, Leases ("ASC 842"). The Company elected the accounting policy practical expedients for all classes of underlying assets to (i) combine associated lease and non-lease components in a lease arrangement as a combined lease component and (ii) exclude recording short-term leases as right-of-use assets on the consolidated balance sheets.

At contract inception the Company determines whether an arrangement is, or contains a lease, and for each identified lease, evaluates the classification as operating or financing. Leased assets and obligations are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of fixed lease payments to be made over the term of the lease. Renewal and termination options are factored into determination of the lease term only if the option is reasonably certain to be exercised. The Company's leases do not provide a readily determinable implicit interest rate and the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate to measure the lease liability and corresponding right-of-use asset. The incremental borrowing rate is a fully collateralized rate that considers the Company's credit rating, market conditions and the term of the lease. The Company accounts for all components in a lease arrangement as a single combined lease component.

Operating lease cost is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Total lease costs include variable lease costs, which are primarily comprised of the consumer price index adjustments and other changes based on rates, such as costs of insurance and property taxes. Variable payments are expensed in the period incurred and not included in the measurement of lease assets and obligations.

Income Taxes

i3 Verticals, Inc. is taxed as a corporation and pays corporate federal, state and local taxes on income allocated to it from i3 Verticals, LLC based on i3 Verticals, Inc.'s economic interest in i3 Verticals, LLC. i3 Verticals, LLC's members, including the Company, are liable for federal, state and local income taxes based on their share of i3 Verticals, LLC's pass-through taxable income. i3 Verticals, LLC is not a taxable entity for federal income tax purposes, but is subject to and reports entity level tax in both Tennessee and Texas. In addition, certain subsidiaries of i3 Verticals, LLC are corporations that are subject to state and federal income taxes.

The amount provided for state income taxes is based upon the amounts of current and deferred taxes payable or refundable at the date of the consolidated financial statements as a result of all events recognized in the financial statements as measured by the provisions of enacted tax laws.

Under GAAP, a tax position is recognized as a benefit only if it is "more likely than not" that the tax position would be sustained in a tax examination, with a tax examination being presumed to occur. The amount recognized is the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized on examination. For tax positions not meeting the "more likely than not" test, no tax benefit is recorded. The Company reports a liability for unrecognized tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. The Company recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as part of income tax expense. See additional discussion in Note 13.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Valuation of Contingent Consideration

On occasion, the Company may have acquisitions which include contingent consideration. Accounting for business combinations requires the Company to estimate the fair value of any contingent purchase consideration at the acquisition date. For a discussion of the estimate methodology and the significance of various inputs, please see the subheading below titled "Use of Estimates." Changes in estimates regarding the fair value contingent purchase consideration are reflected as adjustments to the related liability and recognized within operating expenses in the consolidated statements of operations. Short and long-term contingent liabilities are presented within accrued expenses and other current liabilities and other long-term liabilities on the Company's consolidated balance sheets, respectively.

Classification of Financial Instruments

The Company classifies certain financial instruments issued as either equity or as liabilities. Determination of classification is based upon the underlying properties of the instrument. See specific discussion regarding the nature of instruments issued, the presentation on the consolidated financial statements and the related valuation method applied in Notes 11, 15, and 16.

Revenue Recognition and Deferred Revenue

Revenue is recognized as each performance obligation is satisfied, in accordance with ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). The Company accrues for rights of refund, processing errors or penalties, or other related allowances based on historical experience. The Company utilized the portfolio approach practical expedient within ASC 606-10-10-4 Revenue from Contracts with Customers—Objectives and the significant financing component practical expedient within ASC 606-10-32-18 Revenue from Contracts with Customers—The Existence of a Significant Financing Component in the Contract in performing the analysis.

The Company's revenue from continuing operations for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023 is derived from the following sources:

- Software and related services — Includes software as a service ("SaaS"), transaction-based fees, ongoing software maintenance and support, software licenses and other professional services related to the Company's software offerings;
- Proprietary payments — Includes volume-based payment processing fees ("discount fees") and other related fixed transaction or service fees; and
- Other — Includes sales of equipment, non-software related professional services, bundled performance obligation for software sales and equipment leasing and other revenues.

Revenues from the Company's software are recognized when the related performance obligations are satisfied. Sales of software licenses are categorized into one of two categories of intellectual property in accordance with ASC 606, functional or symbolic. The key distinction is whether the license represents a right to use (functional) or a right to access (symbolic) intellectual property. The Company generates sales of one-time software licenses, which is functional intellectual property, and right to access license sales, which are symbolic intellectual property. Revenue from functional intellectual property is recognized at a point in time, when control of the software license transfers to the customer, while revenue from symbolic intellectual property is recognized over time, as control transfers to the customer. The Company also generates revenue from maintenance services related to these software licenses, which is recognized over the term of the agreement. The Company also offers access to its software under software-as-a-service ("SaaS") arrangements, which represent services arrangements, and under which customers do not have the right to take possession of the software. Revenue from SaaS arrangements is recognized over time, over the term of the agreement. Contracts with professional services, such as training or installation, are evaluated to determine if the customer can benefit from these services independently, whether they can be provided by other available resources, or whether they are separately identifiable from other contract promises.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Discount fees represent a percentage of the dollar amount of each credit or debit transaction processed or a specified per transaction amount, depending on the card type. The Company frequently enters into agreements with customers under which the customer engages the Company to provide both payment authorization services and transaction settlement services for all of the cardholder transactions of the customer, regardless of which issuing bank and card network to which the transaction relates. The Company's core performance obligations are to stand ready to provide continuous access to the Company's payment authorization services and transaction settlement services in order to be able to process as many transactions as its customers require on a daily basis over the contract term. These services are stand ready obligations, as the nature of the promise is to stand ready to process an undetermined quantity of transactions. Under a stand-ready obligation, the Company's performance obligation is defined by each time increment rather than by the underlying activities satisfied over time based on days elapsed. Because the service of standing ready is substantially the same each day and has the same pattern of transfer to the customer, the Company has determined that its stand-ready performance obligation comprises a series of distinct days of service. Discount fees are recognized each day based on the volume or transaction count at the time the merchants' transactions are processed.

The Company follows the requirements of ASC 606-10-55 Revenue from Contracts with Customers—Principal versus Agent Considerations, which states that the determination of whether a company should recognize revenue based on the gross amount billed to a customer or the net amount retained is a matter of judgment that depends on the facts and circumstances of the arrangement. The determination of gross versus net recognition of revenue requires judgment that depends on whether the Company controls the good or service before it is transferred to the merchant or whether the Company is acting as an agent of a third party. The assessment is provided separately for each performance obligation identified. Under its agreements, the Company incurs interchange and network pass-through charges from the third-party card issuers and card networks, respectively, related to the provision of payment authorization services. The Company has determined that it is acting as an agent with respect to these payment authorization services, based on the following factors: (1) the Company has no discretion over which card issuing bank will be used to process a transaction and is unable to direct the activity of the merchant to another card issuing bank, and (2) interchange and card network rates are pre-established by the card issuers or card networks, and the Company has no latitude in determining these fees. Therefore, revenue allocated to the payment authorization performance obligation is presented net of interchange and card network fees paid to the card issuing bank and card network, respectively, for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

With regards to the Company's discount fees, generally, where the Company has control over merchant pricing, merchant portability, credit risk and ultimate responsibility for the merchant relationship, revenues are reported at the time of sale equal to the full amount of the discount charged to the merchant, less interchange and network fees.

Revenues are also derived from a variety of transaction fees, which are charged for transacting on our proprietary payment facilitator platform and software solutions, and fees for other miscellaneous services. Revenues derived from such fees are recognized in the time the transactions occur and when there are no further performance obligations remaining to be satisfied. Revenue from the sale of equipment, is recognized upon transfer of ownership to the customer, after which there are no further performance obligations remaining to be satisfied.

Arrangements may contain multiple performance obligations, such as payment authorization services, transaction settlement services, hardware, software products, SaaS, maintenance, and professional installation and training services. Revenues are allocated to each performance obligation based on the standalone selling price of each good or service. The selling price for a deliverable is based on standalone selling price, if available, the adjusted market assessment approach, estimated cost plus margin approach, or residual approach. The Company establishes estimated selling price, based on the judgment of the Company's management, considering internal factors such as margin objectives, pricing practices and controls, customer segment pricing strategies and the product life cycle. In arrangements with multiple performance obligations, the Company applies significant judgement in determining the allocation of the transaction price at inception of the arrangement and uses the standalone selling prices for the majority of the Company's revenue recognition.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Revenues from sales of the Company's hardware and software elements are recognized when each performance obligation has been satisfied which has been determined to be upon the delivery of the product. Revenues derived from service fees are recognized over time in accordance with our satisfaction of our performance obligations. Revenue from bundled performance obligations for software sales and equipment leasing is recognized over time as a single performance obligation. Lease income is recognized in accordance with ASC 842 and the leased equipment is classified as fixed assets and depreciated over its useful life. The Company's professional services, including training, installation, and repair services are recognized as revenue as these services are performed.

ASC 606 provides various optional practical expedients. The Company elected the use of the practical expedient relating to the disclosure of remaining performance obligations within a contract and will not disclose remaining performance obligations for contracts (i) with an original expected duration of one year or less or (ii) in which revenue from the satisfaction of the performance obligations is recognized in the amounts invoiced in accordance with ASC 606-10-55-18. The Company also has additional contracts with an original expected duration of greater than one year for which revenue had not yet been recognized. These contracts do not allow for termination for convenience, which reduces the risks related to future revenue recognition. However, the transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations related to these contracts is not considered useful to the users of the financial statements due to the exclusion of certain revenue based on the aforementioned practical expedients as well as other external circumstances such as customers being subject to annual budget approval for continued funding of contracts.

The tables below present a disaggregation of the Company's revenue from contracts with customers for continuing operations by product. The Company's products are defined as follows:

- Software and related services — Includes SaaS, transaction-based fees, ongoing software maintenance and support, software licenses, and other professional services related to the Company's software offerings;
- Proprietary payments — Includes discount fees and other related fixed transaction or service fees; and
- Other — Includes sales of equipment, non-software related professional services, bundled performance obligations for software sales and equipment leasing and other revenues.

	Year ended September 30,
	2025	2024	2023
Software and related services revenue	$ 149,044	$ 131,916	$ 134,391
Proprietary payments revenue	54,058	50,073	46,521
Other revenue	10,056	9,243	8,769
Total revenue	$ 213,158	$ 191,232	$ 189,681

The tables below present a disaggregation of the Company's revenue from contracts with customers from continuing operations by timing of transfer of goods or services. The Company's revenue included in each category are defined as follows:

- Revenue earned over time — Includes SaaS, sales of software sold as symbolic intellectual property, professional services, ongoing support, discount fees, or other stand-ready obligations; and
- Revenue earned at a point in time — Includes software licenses sold as functional intellectual property, equipment, or point in time service fees that are not stand-ready obligations.

	Year ended September 30,
	2025	2024	2023
Revenue earned over time	$ 193,532	$ 176,722	$ 170,435
Revenue earned at a point in time	19,626	14,510	19,246
Total revenue	$ 213,158	$ 191,232	$ 189,681

Contract Assets

The Company bills for certain software and related services sales and fixed fee professional services upon pre-determined milestones in the contracts. Therefore, the Company may have contract assets other than trade accounts receivable for performance obligations that are partially completed, which would typically represent consulting services provided before a milestone is completed in a contract. Additionally, contract assets also include software licenses sold as a right to use license but paid for under a non-cancellable subscription model. Under this structure, the license revenue is recognized upfront while a portion of the revenue is unbilled. Unbilled amounts associated with these professional services and software licenses sold under the subscription model are presented as accounts receivable as the Company has an unconditional right to payment for services performed.

As of September 30, 2025 and September 30, 2024, the Company's contract assets from contracts with customers was $9,211 and $8,680, respectively.

Contract Liabilities

Deferred revenue represents amounts billed to customers by the Company for services contracts. Payment is typically collected at the start of the contract term. The initial prepaid contract agreement balance is deferred. The balance is then recognized as the services are provided over the contract term. Deferred revenue that is expected to be recognized as revenue within one year is recorded as short-term deferred revenue and the remaining portion is recorded as other long-term liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets. The terms for most of the Company's contracts with a deferred revenue component are one year. Substantially all of the Company's deferred revenue is anticipated to be recognized within the next year.

The following table presents the changes in deferred revenue as of and for the years ended September 30, 2025 and 2024:

Balance at September 30, 2023	$ 32,253
Deferral of revenue	39,018
Recognition of unearned revenue	(32,115)
Balance at September 30, 2024	39,156
Deferral of revenue	37,691
Recognition of unearned revenue	(38,361)
Balance at September 30, 2025	$ 38,486

Costs to Obtain and Fulfill a Contract

The Company capitalizes incremental costs to obtain new contracts and contract renewals and amortizes these costs on a straight-line basis as an expense over the benefit period, which is generally the expected customer life, unless a commensurate payment is not expected at renewal. As of September 30, 2025 and 2024, the Company had $1,412 and $857 of capitalized contract costs, which relate to commissions paid to employees and agents as well as other incentives given to customers to obtain new sales, included within "Other assets" on the consolidated balance sheets. The Company recorded expense from continuing operations related to these costs for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023 of $293, $92 and $46 respectively.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The Company expenses sales commissions as incurred for the Company's sales commission plans that are paid on recurring monthly revenues, portfolios of existing customers, or have a substantive stay requirement prior to payment.

Other Cost of Services

Other costs of services from continuing operations include costs directly related to the Company's software and related services. Additionally, other costs of services include costs directly attributable to payment processing services such as processing and bank sponsorship. Losses resulting from chargebacks against a customer are included in other cost of services. Residual payments to the Company's distribution partners and the cost of equipment sold is also included in cost of services. Amortization arising from capitalized software development is not included in other cost of services. Other costs of services are recognized at the time the related revenue is recognized. Following the disposal of the Company's Merchant Services Business in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company's core business has been providing software solutions. Given the change in the Company's business model following the sale of the Merchant Services Business, the Company has reclassified certain expenses to better align with the primary industry in which it operates. During the first quarter of fiscal year 2025, the Company revised its presentation of certain expenses in the consolidated statements of operations from selling, general and administrative expenses to other costs of services. The Company reclassified personnel costs related to installation of the Company's software, conversion of client data, training client personnel, customer support activities and various other services provided directly to customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services. The Company also reclassified certain hosting and related software costs for directly supporting the Company's customers from selling, general and administrative to other costs of services. Refer to Note 3 for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

The Company accounts for all governmental taxes associated with revenue transactions on a net basis.

Selling, General and Administrative

Selling general and administrative expenses from continuing operations include certain salaries and other employment costs, professional services, internal technology expenses, rent and utilities and other operating costs. Salaries and other employment costs within selling, general and administrative include individuals associated with shared services, product development and maintenance, sales and other functions. Following the disposal of the Company's Merchant Services Business in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company's core business has been providing software solutions. Given the change in the Company's business model following the sale of the Merchant Services Business, the Company has reclassified certain expenses to better align with the primary industry in which it operates. Advertising expense from continuing operations was $2,482, $2,375 and $3,165 for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Equity-based Compensation

The Company accounts for grants of equity awards to employees in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation. This standard requires compensation expense to be measured based on the estimated fair value of the share-based awards on the date of grant and recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which is generally the vesting period.

Equity-based compensation from continuing operations was $15,232, $15,396 and $20,864 for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included in other cost of services and selling, general and administrative expenses in the Consolidated Statements of Operations.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements and related disclosures in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Such estimates include, but are not limited to, the value of purchase consideration paid and identifiable assets acquired and assumed in acquisitions, goodwill and intangible asset impairment review, determination of performance obligations for revenue recognition, loss reserves, assumptions used in the calculation of equity-based compensation and in the calculation of income taxes, and certain tax assets and liabilities as well as the related valuation allowances. The Company bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Segment Information

The Company has identified its Chief Executive Officer as the Company's Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM"). The Company's CODM reviews discrete financial information on a consolidated basis for purposes of allocating resources and evaluating financial performance which is based on consolidated information about our revenues, income from operations, and other key financial data. All significant operating decisions are made by analyzing the Company as a single operating segment and as a result, the Company has determined that it operates as a single reportable segment. See Note 19 to the Company's consolidated financial statements for additional information.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements*Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280)—Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures ("ASU 2023-07"). ASU 2023-07 improves interim disclosure requirements for segment reporting, including clarifications regarding the measure of profit and loss used to assess segment performance and the allocation of resources. Further, it enhances the disclosures for reporting segment expenses and will require the Company to report significant expenses regularly provided by the chief operating decision maker. The amendment will require companies to disclose a more granular level of information with regards to segment reporting to further enhance the transparency of what specified amounts are included within each segment. The amendments in ASU 2023-07 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. The Company has adopted ASU 2023-07 effective October 1, 2024. The adoption of ASU 2023-07 did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements, as the changes only include additional disclosures related to the Company's reportable segment. See Note 19 to the Company's consolidated financial statements for additional information regarding segment reporting.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740)—Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU 2023-09"). ASU 2023-09 will provide improvements to the income tax disclosures primarily related to the income taxes paid and rate reconciliation, and how legislation changes may affect future capital allocation and cash flow forecasts. The amendment is intended to improve the consistency in which companies provide tax information, and will further increase the transparency of related tax risks and operational opportunities. The amendments in ASU 2023-09 are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. The Company will not be required to adopt ASU 2023-09 until October 1, 2025. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of ASU 2023-09 on the Company's financial statement disclosures.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU No. 2024-03, Income Statement—Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40) ("ASU 2024-03"). ASU 2024-03 will require companies to disaggregate, within the notes to the financial statements, certain expenses presented on the face of the financial statements to enhance transparency and help investors better understand an entity's performance.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The amendment will specifically require that an entity disclose the amounts related to purchases of inventory, employee compensation, depreciation and intangible asset amortization. Entities will also be required to provide a qualitative description of the amounts remaining in relevant expense captions that are not separately disaggregated quantitatively, disclose the total amount of selling expenses and, in annual reporting periods, provide a definition of what constitutes selling expenses. The amendments in ASU 2024-03 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027, with early adoption permitted. The Company will not be required to adopt ASU 2024-03 until October 1, 2027. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of ASU 2024-03 on the Company's financial statement disclosures.

In September 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-06, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other—Internal-Use-Software (Subtopic 350-40): Targeted Improvements to the Accounting for Internal-Use Software ("ASU 2025-06"). ASU 2025 removes the prescriptive software development "project stages" and requires capitalization of software costs once (1) management authorizes and commits funding and (2) completion and use are probable. Entities must evaluate significant development uncertainty related to technological innovations or performance requirements. The amendments also require Subtopic 360-10 disclosures for all capitalized internal-use software costs and clarify that intangible asset disclosures under Subtopic 350-30 are not required. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim periods within those annual reporting periods, with early adoption permitted. The Company will not be required to adopt ASU 2025-06 until October 1, 2028. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of ASU 2025-06 on the Company's financial statement disclosures.

4. CREDIT RISK AND OTHER CONCENTRATIONS

The Company places its cash with high credit quality financial institutions which provide Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance. The Company performs periodic evaluations of the relative credit standing of these institutions and does not expect any losses related to such concentrations.

No single customer accounted for more than 10% of the Company's revenue from continuing operations during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023. The Company believes that the loss of any single customer would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

The Company uses a third party payment processor, which facilitates the majority of our proprietary payments revenues from continuing operations for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024, and 2023.

On February 18, 2020, i3 Verticals, LLC issued $138,000 aggregate principal amount of 1.00% Exchangeable Senior Notes due 2025 (the "Exchangeable Notes") in a private placement to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The Company received approximately $132,762 in net proceeds from the sale of the Exchangeable Notes, as determined by deducting estimated offering expenses paid to third-parties from the aggregate principal amount.

i3 Verticals, LLC issued the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to an Indenture, dated as of February 18, 2020, among i3 Verticals, LLC, the Company and U.S. Bank Trust Company National Association, as trustee (the "Indenture").

The Exchangeable Notes bore interest at a fixed rate of 1.00% per year, payable semiannually in arrears on February 15 and August 15 of each year, beginning on August 15, 2020. In accordance with the terms of the Indenture, as of August 15, 2024, the Exchangeable Notes became exchangeable at the option of the holders at any time until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date. The Exchangeable Notes matured and the remaining principal balance was repaid in full on February 15, 2025, as further described below.

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2020, we repurchased $21,000 in aggregate principal amount of Exchangeable Notes in open market purchases. In addition, on December 21, 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC entered into agreements to repurchase an additional portion of its Exchangeable Notes pursuant to privately negotiated transactions with a limited number of holders of the Exchangeable Notes (the "Exchangeable Note Repurchases"). The repurchase payments were determined by the Company's average stock price over the 15 trading-day measurement period ended January 16, 2024. The closing of the Exchangeable Note Repurchases occurred on January 18, 2024, and the Company paid $87,391 to repurchase $90,777 in aggregate principal amount of its Exchangeable Notes and to repay approximately $386 in accrued interest on the repurchased portion of the Exchangeable Notes. The Company wrote off $926 of debt issuance costs in connection with the repurchase transactions. These repurchases resulted in a decrease in the Company's total leverage ratio, and following the completion of the repurchases of these Exchangeable Notes, approximately $26,223 in aggregate principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes remained outstanding, with terms unchanged. The Company recorded a gain on retirement of debt of $2,397 due to the estimated acquisition price exceeding the net carrying amount of the repurchased portion of the Exchangeable Notes, adjusted for unamortized debt issuance costs and costs and third-party fees related to the transaction.

Upon maturity of the Exchangeable Notes in February 2025, we paid $26,223 for the remaining principal balance and $131 in accrued interest.

Exchangeable Note Hedge Transactions

On February 12, 2020, concurrently with the pricing of the Exchangeable Notes, and on February 13, 2020, concurrently with the exercise by the initial purchasers of their right to purchase additional Exchangeable Notes, i3 Verticals, LLC entered into exchangeable note hedge transactions with respect to Class A common stock (the "Note Hedge Transactions") with certain financial institutions (collectively, the "Counterparties"). The Note Hedge Transactions cover, subject to anti-dilution adjustments substantially similar to those applicable to the Exchangeable Notes, the same number of shares of Class A common stock that initially underlie the Exchangeable Notes in the aggregate and are exercisable upon exchange of the Exchangeable Notes. The Note Hedge Transactions were intended to reduce potential dilution to the Class A common stock upon any exchange of the Exchangeable Notes. The Note Hedge Transactions expired upon the maturity of the Exchangeable Notes. The Note Hedge Transactions were separate transactions, entered into by i3 Verticals, LLC with the Counterparties, and were not part of the terms of the Exchangeable Notes. Holders of the Exchangeable Notes did not have any rights with respect to the Note Hedge Transactions. i3 Verticals, LLC used approximately $28,676 of the net proceeds from the offering of the Exchangeable Notes (net of the premiums received for the warrant transactions described below) to pay the cost of the Note Hedge Transactions.

The Note Hedge Transactions do not require separate accounting as a derivative as they meet a scope exception for certain contracts involving an entity's own equity. The premiums paid for the Note Hedge Transactions have been included as a net reduction to additional paid-in capital within stockholders' equity.

In December 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC received $250 from the Counterparties to terminate the portion of the Note Hedge Transactions corresponding to the Exchangeable Notes that were repurchased in fiscal year 2020. Also in December 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC entered into agreements with the Counterparties to terminate the portion of the Note Hedge Transactions corresponding to the Exchangeable Note Repurchases. On January 18, 2024, in connection with the Exchangeable Note Repurchases, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC terminated the corresponding portions of the Note Hedge Transactions ("Note Hedge Unwinds"), and i3 Verticals, LLC received $987 for the sale of the Note Hedge Unwinds and recorded a loss on the sale of the Note Hedge Unwinds of $245.

The Note Hedge Transactions expired in February 2025 upon the maturity and payment in full of the Exchangeable Notes.

Warrant Transactions

On February 12, 2020, concurrently with the pricing of the Exchangeable Notes, and on February 13, 2020, concurrently with the exercise by the initial purchasers of their right to purchase additional Exchangeable Notes, the Company entered into warrant transactions to sell to the Counterparties warrants (the "Warrants") to acquire, subject to customary adjustments, up to initially 3,376,391 shares of Class A common stock in the aggregate at an initial exercise price of $62.88 per share. The Company offered and sold the Warrants in reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. The Warrants expired over a 90 trading day period that began on May 15, 2025.

The Warrants were separate transactions, entered into by the Company with the Counterparties, and were not part of the terms of the Exchangeable Notes. Holders of the Exchangeable Notes did not have any rights with respect to the Warrants. The Company received approximately $14,669 from the offering and sale of the Warrants. The Warrants do not require separate accounting as a derivative as they meet a scope exception for certain contracts involving an entity's own equity. The premiums paid for the Warrants have been included as a net increase to additional paid-in capital within stockholders' equity.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

In December 2023, the Company paid $119 to the Counterparties to terminate the portion of the Warrants corresponding to the Exchangeable Notes that were repurchased in fiscal year 2020. Also in December 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC entered into agreements with the Counterparties to terminate the portion of the Warrants corresponding to the Exchangeable Note Repurchases. On January 18, 2024, in connection with the Exchangeable Note Repurchases, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC terminated the corresponding portions of the Warrants ("Warrant Unwinds"), and the Company paid $433 for the repurchase of the Warrant Unwinds and recorded a gain on the repurchase of the Warrant Unwinds of $105.

2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility

On May 8, 2023, i3 Verticals, LLC (the "Borrower"), entered into that certain Credit Agreement (as amended, the "2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility") with the guarantors and lenders party thereto and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent ("JPMorgan"). The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility replaced the prior senior secured credit facility of the Company which was entered into on May 9, 2019 (the "Prior Senior Secured Credit Facility"). Following an amendment to the Credit Facility entered into on May 5, 2025, as described below, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility provides for aggregate commitments of $400,000 in the form of a senior secured revolving credit facility (the "Revolver").

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility provides that the Borrower has the right to seek additional commitments to provide additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments in an aggregate principal amount up to, as of any date of determination, the sum of (i) the greater of $100,000 and 100% of the Borrower's consolidated EBITDA (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) for the most recently completed four quarter period, plus (ii) the amount of certain prepayments of certain indebtedness, so long as, among other things, after giving pro forma effect to the incurrence of such additional borrowings and any related transactions, the Borrower's consolidated interest coverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) would not be less than 3.0 to 1.0 and the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) would not exceed 5.0 to 1.0. As of September 30, 2025, the Borrower's consolidated interest coverage ratio was 96.8x and total leverage ratio was 0.0x.

The provision of any such additional amounts under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments are subject to certain additional conditions and the receipt of certain additional commitments by existing or additional lenders. The lenders under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility are not under any obligation to provide any such additional term loan facilities or revolving credit commitments.

The proceeds of the Revolver, together with proceeds from any additional amounts under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit commitments, may only be used by the Borrower to (i) finance working capital, capital expenditures and other lawful corporate purposes, (ii) finance permitted acquisitions (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility) and (iii) to refinance certain existing indebtedness.

Borrowings under the Revolver will be made, at the Borrower's option, at the Adjusted Term SOFR rate or the base rate, plus, in each case, an applicable margin.

The Adjusted Term SOFR rate will be the rate of interest per annum equal to the Term SOFR rate (based upon an interest period of one, three or six months), plus 0.10%, plus an applicable margin of 2.00% to 3.00% (2.00% at September 30, 2025). The Adjusted Term SOFR rate shall not be less than 0% in any event.

The base rate is a fluctuating rate of interest per annum equal to the highest of (a) the greater of the federal funds rate or the overnight bank funding rate, plus ½ of 1%, (b) Wall Street Journal prime rate and (c) the Adjusted Term SOFR rate for an interest period of one month, plus 1%, plus an applicable margin of 1.00% to 2.00% (1.00% at September 30, 2025). The base rate shall not be less than 1% in any event.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The applicable margin is based upon the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio (as defined in the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility), as reflected in the schedule below:

Consolidated Total Net Leverage Ratio	Commitment Fee	Letter of Credit Fee	Term Benchmark Loans	Base Rate Loans
> 3.0 to 1.0	0.30 %	3.00 %	3.00 %	2.00 %
> 2.5 to 1.0 but < 3.0 to 1.0	0.25 %	2.50 %	2.50 %	1.50 %
> 2.0 to 1.0 but < 2.5 to 1.0	0.20 %	2.25 %	2.25 %	1.25 %
< 2.0 to 1.0	0.15 %	2.00 %	2.00 %	1.00 %

In addition to paying interest on outstanding principal under the Revolver, the Borrower will be required to pay a commitment fee equal to the product of between 0.15% and 0.30% (the applicable percentage depending on the Borrower's consolidated total net leverage ratio as reflected in the schedule above, 0.15% at September 30, 2025) times the actual daily amount by which $400,000 exceeds the total amount outstanding under the Revolver and available to be drawn under all outstanding letters of credit.

The Borrower will be permitted to voluntarily reduce the unutilized portion of the commitment amount and repay outstanding loans under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, whether such amounts are issued under the Revolver or under the additional term loan facilities or additional revolving credit facilities, at any time without premium or penalty.

In addition, if the total amount borrowed under the Revolver exceeds $400,000 at any time, the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility requires the Borrower to prepay such excess outstanding amounts.

All obligations under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility are unconditionally guaranteed by the Company, and each of the Company's existing and future direct and indirect material, wholly owned domestic subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions. The obligations are secured by first-priority security interests in substantially all tangible and intangible assets of the Borrower, the Company and each subsidiary guarantor, in each case whether owned on the date of the initial borrowings or thereafter acquired.

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility places certain restrictions on the ability of the Borrower, the Company and their subsidiaries to, among other things, incur debt and liens; merge, consolidate or liquidate; dispose of assets; enter into hedging arrangements; make certain restricted payments; undertake transactions with affiliates; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; make certain investments; prepay or modify the terms of certain indebtedness; and modify the terms of certain organizational agreements.

The 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility contains customary events of default, including payment defaults, breaches of representations and warranties, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to other material indebtedness, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, material judgments, certain events with respect to employee benefit plans, invalidity of loan documents and certain changes in control.

On May 5, 2025, i3 LLC entered into that certain Second Amendment to Credit Agreement (the "Amendment"), which amended the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, with the guarantors and the lenders party thereto and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent.

The Amendment provided for certain amendments to the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility, including amendments that permitted and accommodated the execution of the Healthcare RCM Purchase Agreement and the consummation of the Healthcare RCM Transactions. The Amendment also permanently reduced the aggregate lender commitments under the Company's revolving line of credit from $450,000 to $400,000.

Debt issuance costs

The Company incurred $256, $930 and $3,079 in debt issuance costs during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The Company's debt issuance costs are being amortized over the related term of the debt using the straight-line method, which is not materially different than the effective interest rate method, and are presented within other assets in the consolidated balance sheets. The amortization of debt issuance costs is included in interest expense and amounted to approximately $961, $1,175 and $1,514 during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. In connection with the replacement of our prior Senior Secured Credit Facility (which was replaced by the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility), the Company recorded a debt extinguishment charge of $203 during the year ended September 30, 2023, for the write-off of deferred financing costs, which was recorded in interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations. In connection with the Second Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company recorded $295 during the year ended September 30, 2025, for the write-off of debt issuance costs, which was recorded in interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

12. STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY*Share Repurchase Program

On August 8, 2024, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a share repurchase program for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company was authorized to repurchase up to $50,000 of outstanding shares of our Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases) (the "Prior Share Repurchase Program"). Pursuant to the Prior Share Repurchase Program, the Company was authorized to make repurchases of our Class A Common Stock in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. The terms of the Prior Share Repurchase Program provided that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class A common stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC redeemed for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The Prior Share Repurchase Program terminated on August 8, 2025.

The Company repurchased 1,573,881 shares of Class A Common Stock under the Prior Share Repurchase Program at an average price of $23.86 per share and an aggregate repurchase amount (inclusive of commissions and excise taxes) of $37,979 during the year ended September 30, 2025, prior to the termination of such program as noted above. The shares of Class A Common Stock purchased during this period represent the total number of shares of Class A Common Stock purchased under the Prior Share Repurchase Program since its adoption. The repurchased shares were cancelled and retired, resulting in a permanent reduction in both the number of shares outstanding and the Company's total stockholders' equity.

On August 7, 2025, the Company announced that our Board of Directors had approved a new share repurchase program (the "New Share Repurchase Program") for the Company's Class A common stock, under which the Company may repurchase up to $50,000 of outstanding shares of Class A common stock (exclusive of fees, commissions or other expenses related to such repurchases). This New Share Repurchase Program replaced the Prior Share Repurchase Program which terminated on August 8, 2025, as described above.

The New Share Repurchase Program will terminate on the earlier of September 30, 2026, or when the maximum dollar amount under the authorization has been expended. Pursuant to this authorization, repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, through privately negotiated transactions, or otherwise, including under Rule 10b5-1 plans. In addition, any repurchases under the New Share Repurchase Program will be subject to prevailing market conditions, liquidity and cash flow considerations, applicable securities laws requirements (including under Rule 10b-18 and Rule 10b5-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as applicable), compliance with contractual restrictions under the 2023 Senior Secured Credit Facility and other factors. The terms of the New Share Repurchase Program provide that, immediately prior to repurchases of Class

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

A common stock under the New Share Repurchase Program, i3 Verticals, LLC will redeem for cash an equal number of units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC in order to fund such repurchases and maintain a 1-1 ratio between the number of outstanding shares of Class A common stock and the units held by the Company in i3 Verticals, LLC. The New Share Repurchase Program does not require the Company to acquire any particular amount of shares of Class A common stock, and may be extended, modified, suspended or discontinued at any time at our discretion.

The Company did not make any repurchases under the New Share Repurchase Program during the year ended September 30, 2025, and the remaining total available authorization as of September 30, 2025, under the New Share Repurchase Program was $50,000.

When the Company repurchases shares of Common Stock, the amount paid to repurchase the shares in excess of the par or stated value is allocated to additional paid-in-capital unless subject to limitation or the balance in additional paid-in-capital is exhausted. Remaining amounts are recognized as a reduction in retained earnings.

13. INCOME TAXES

i3 Verticals, Inc. is taxed as a corporation and pays corporate federal, state and local taxes on income allocated to it from i3 Verticals, LLC based on i3 Verticals, Inc.'s economic interest in i3 Verticals, LLC. i3 Verticals, LLC's members, including the Company, are liable for federal, state and local income taxes based on their share of i3 Verticals, LLC's pass-through taxable income. i3 Verticals, LLC is not a taxable entity for federal income tax purposes, but is subject to and reports entity level tax in both Tennessee and Texas. In addition, certain subsidiaries of i3 Verticals, LLC are corporations that are subject to state and federal income taxes.

On July 4, 2025, the U.S. enacted the tax legislation known as the One Big Beautiful Bill Act which includes, among other provisions, changes to federal income tax provisions including the allowance of immediate expensing of qualifying research and development expenses and permanent extensions of certain provision within the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. The legislation has multiple effective dates, with certain provisions effective in 2025 and others taking effect in later years. There was no material impact to the Company's effective tax rate for the year ended September 30, 2025.

The Company's income tax (benefit) expense for continuing operations during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023 were the following:

Deferred income taxes are provided for the temporary differences between the financial reporting basis and tax basis of the Company's assets and liabilities. Net deferred taxes spanning multiple jurisdictions as of September 30, 2025 and 2024 were as follows:

	September 30,
	2025	2024
Deferred tax assets:
Investment in partnership	$ 50,997	$ 52,039
Stock-based compensation	13,228	15,241

Operating lease right of use assets	(145)	(267)
Other	(425)	(541)
Net deferred tax asset	$ 40,064	$ 37,043

Deferred tax assets associated with federal net operating loss carryforwards were $213 as of September 30, 2025, and begin to expire 2035. Deferred tax assets for federal tax credits were $181 as of September 30, 2025, and begin to expire in 2045.

State net operating loss carryforwards as of September 30, 2025 totaled $15,217 on a pre-tax-effected basis, resulting in a deferred tax asset of $947. The state net operating loss carryforwards will begin to expire in 2027.

The Company maintains a valuation allowance of $15,026 against a portion of the gross deferred tax asset, primarily related to the portion of its deductible outside basis difference in its investment in i3 Verticals, LLC, that is capital in nature. The change in the valuation allowance resulted in an increase of $874, an increase of $2,331, and a decrease of $1,753 to income tax expense in the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. If the Company determines that the likelihood of realization of existing deferred tax assets changes, a corresponding increase or decrease to valuation allowances will be recognized as an increase or reduction to income tax expense in the period that determination is made.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The following table summarizes the activity related to our gross unrecognized tax benefits, excluding accrued interest and penalties, as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively:

Estimated interest and penalties related to the underpayment of income taxes are classified as a component of tax expense in the consolidated statements of operations and totaled $26 for the year ended September 30, 2025, and $0 for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023. As of September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, accrued interest and penalties related to income taxes and potential income tax penalties were $26. As of September 30, 2024 and 2023, we had no accrued interest and penalties related to income taxes and potential income tax penalties. These totals are reflected in noncurrent Other long-term liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets

The Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state, or local examinations by tax authorities for years before 2021. As of September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, there were unrecognized tax benefits of $427, $456, and $238, respectively, that if recognized would affect the annual effective tax rate.

Tax Receivable Agreement

On June 25, 2018, the Company entered into a Tax Receivable Agreement with i3 Verticals, LLC and each of the Continuing Equity Owners (the "Tax Receivable Agreement") that provides for the payment by the Company to the Continuing Equity Owners of 85% of the amount of certain tax benefits, if any, that it actually realizes, or in some circumstances, is deemed to realize in its tax reporting, as a result of (i) future redemptions funded by the Company or exchanges, or deemed exchanges in certain circumstances, of Common Units of i3 Verticals, LLC for Class A common stock of i3 Verticals, Inc. or cash, and (ii) certain additional tax benefits attributable to payments made under the Tax Receivable Agreement. These tax benefit payments are not conditioned upon one or more of the Continuing Equity Owners maintaining a continued ownership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC. If a Continuing Equity Owner transfers Common Units but does not assign to the transferee of such units its rights under the Tax Receivable Agreement, such Continuing Equity Owner generally will continue to be entitled to receive payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement arising in respect of a subsequent exchange of such Common Units. In general, the Continuing Equity Owners' rights under the Tax Receivable Agreement may not be assigned, sold, pledged or otherwise alienated to any person, other than certain permitted transferees, without (a) the Company's prior written consent, which should not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, and (b) such persons becoming a party to the Tax Receivable Agreement and agreeing to succeed to the applicable Continuing Equity Owner's interest therein. The Company expects to benefit from the remaining 15% of the tax benefits, if any, that the Company may realize.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

When Class B common stock is exchanged for Class A common stock, this triggers an increase in the tax basis of the Company's Common Units in i3 Verticals, LLC subject to the provisions of the Tax Receivable Agreement. During the year ended September 30, 2023, the Company acquired an aggregate of 24,748 common units of i3 Verticals, LLC in connection with the redemption of common units, which resulted in an increase in the tax basis of our investment in i3 Verticals, LLC subject to the provisions of the Tax Receivable Agreement. As a result of these exchanges, during the year ended September 30, 2023, the Company recognized an increase to its net deferred tax assets in the amount of $208, and corresponding Tax Receivable Agreement liabilities of $177, representing 85% of the tax benefits due to the Continuing Equity Owners. The Company also recognized a decrease to its net deferred tax assets of $932 across all exchanges as a result of a tax rate change during the year ended September 30, 2023.

During the year ended September 30, 2024, the Company acquired an aggregate of 60,718 common units of i3 Verticals, LLC in connection with the redemption of common units, which resulted in an increase in the tax basis of our investment in i3 Verticals, LLC subject to the provisions of the Tax Receivable Agreement. As a result of these exchanges, during the year ended September 30, 2024, the Company recognized an increase to its net deferred tax assets in the amount of $426, and corresponding Tax Receivable Agreement liabilities of $362, representing 85% of the tax benefits due to the Continuing Equity Owners. The Company also recognized a decrease to its net deferred tax assets of $1,187 across all exchanges as a result of a tax rate change during the year ended September 30, 2024.

During the year ended September 30, 2025, the Company acquired an aggregate of 1,281,739 common units of i3 Verticals, LLC in connection with the redemption of common units, which resulted in an increase in the tax basis of our investment in i3 Verticals, LLC subject to the provisions of the Tax Receivable Agreement. As a result of these exchanges, during the year ended September 30, 2025, the Company recognized an increase to its net deferred tax assets in the amount of $9,398, and corresponding Tax Receivable Agreement liabilities of $6,211, representing 85% of the tax benefits due to the Continuing Equity Owners. The Company also recognized a decrease to its net deferred tax assets of $805 across all exchanges as a result of a tax rate change during the year ended September 30, 2025.

The deferred tax asset balance was $37,872 as of September 30, 2025. The Company also has a corresponding Tax Receivable Agreement liability of $34,911, of which $2,720 was recorded in accrued expenses and other current liabilities and $32,191 was recorded in long-term tax receivable agreement obligations as of September 30, 2025.

Payments to the Continuing Equity Owners related to exchanges through September 30, 2025 will range from $0 to $5,364 per year and are expected to be paid over the next 22 years. The amounts recorded as of September 30, 2025, approximate the current estimate of expected tax savings and are subject to change after the filing of the Company's U.S. federal and state income tax returns. Future payments under the Tax Receivable Agreement with respect to subsequent exchanges would be in addition to these amounts.

14. LEASES

The Company's leases consist primarily of real estate leases throughout the markets in which the Company operates. At contract inception, the Company determines whether an arrangement is or contains a lease, and for each identified lease, evaluates the classification as operating or financing. The Company had no finance leases as of September 30, 2025. Leased assets and obligations are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of fixed lease payments to be made over the term of the lease. Renewal and termination options are factored into determination of the lease term only if the option is reasonably certain to be exercised. The weighted-average remaining lease term for continuing operations at September 30, 2025 and 2024 was four years for both periods. The Company had no significant short-term leases during the years ended September 30, 2025 and 2024.

The Company's leases do not provide a readily determinable implicit interest rate and the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate to measure the lease liability and corresponding right-of-use asset. The incremental borrowing rates were determined based on a portfolio approach considering the Company's current secured borrowing rate adjusted for market conditions and the length of the lease term. The weighted-average discount rate used in the measurement of our lease liabilities was 7.0% and 8.0% as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Operating lease cost is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Operating lease costs from continuing operations for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, were $2,072, $2,829 and $2,924, respectively, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of operations.

Total variable lease costs within operating lease costs from continuing operations were not significant for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023. The variable lease costs are primarily comprised of costs of maintenance and utilities and changes in rates, and are determined based on the actual costs incurred during the period. Variable payments are expensed in the period incurred and not included in the measurement of lease assets and liabilities.

Short-term rent expense from continuing operations were not significant for the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023. Short-term rent expense is included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of operations.

As of September 30, 2025, maturities of lease liabilities for continuing operations are as follows:

Years ending September 30:
2026	$	2,185
2027		1,465
2028		682
2029		591
2030		515
Thereafter		106
Total future minimum lease payments (undiscounted) <sup>(1)</sup>		5,544
Less: present value discount		(753)
Present value of lease liability	$	4,791

1. Total future minimum lease payments excludes payments of $69 for leases designated as short-term leases, which are excluded from the Company's right-of-use assets. These payments will be made within the next twelve months.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

15. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Company applies the provisions of ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement, which defines fair value, establishes a framework for its measurement and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or the price paid to transfer a liability as of the measurement date. A three-tier, fair-value reporting hierarchy exists for disclosure of fair value measurements based on the observability of the inputs to the valuation of financial assets and liabilities. The three levels are:

Level 1 — Quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets.

Level 2 — Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and model-derived valuations in which all significant inputs and significant value drivers are observable in active markets.

Level 3 — Valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable in active exchange markets.

The carrying value of the Company's financial instruments, including cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, settlement assets and obligations, accounts receivable, other assets, accounts payable, and accrued expenses, approximated their fair values as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, because of the relatively short maturity dates on these instruments. The carrying amount of debt approximates fair value as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, because interest rates on these instruments approximate market interest rates.

The Company has no Level 1 or Level 2 financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis. The following tables present the changes in the Company's Level 3 financial instruments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

	Accrued Contingent Consideration
Contingent consideration accrued at time of business combination		2,130
Change in fair value of contingent consideration included in Operating expenses		22
Contingent consideration paid		(7,327)
Contingent consideration accrued at time of business combination		1,260
Change in fair value of contingent consideration included in Operating expenses		234
Contingent consideration paid		(77)
Balance at September 30, 2025	$	3,571

1. In connection with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, $19 and $891 of the Company's accrued contingent consideration (as of September 30, 2023) were classified as "Current liabilities held for sale" and "Long-term liabilities held for sale", respectively, in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and were not included in these amounts.
2. In connection with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, $198 of the Company's accrued contingent consideration (as of September 30, 2024) were classified as "Current liabilities held for sale" in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and were not included in these amounts.

The fair value of contingent consideration obligations includes inputs not observable in the market and thus represents a Level 3 measurement. The amount to be paid under these obligations is contingent upon the achievement of certain growth metrics related to the financial performance of the entities subsequent to acquisition. The fair value of material contingent consideration included in an acquisition is calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation as well as a discounted cash flows analysis. The contingent consideration is revalued each period until it is settled. Management reviews the historical and projected performance of each acquisition with contingent consideration and uses an income probability method to revalue the contingent consideration. The revaluation requires management to make certain assumptions and represent management's best estimate at the valuation date. The probabilities are determined based on a management review of the expected likelihood of triggering events that would cause a change in the contingent consideration paid. The Company develops the projected future financial results based on an analysis of historical results, market conditions, and the expected impact of anticipated changes in the Company's overall business and/or product strategies.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Approximately $82 and $518 of contingent consideration was recorded in accrued expenses and other current liabilities as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Approximately $3,489 and $1,636 of contingent consideration was recorded in other long-term liabilities as of September 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

16. EQUITY-BASED COMPENSATION

A summary of equity-based compensation expense for continuing operations recognized during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023 is as follows:

	Year ended September 30,
	2025	2024	2023
Stock options	$ 6,613	$ 11,850	$ 18,349
Restricted stock units	8,619	3,546	2,515
Equity-based compensation expense	$ 15,232	$ 15,396	$ 20,864

In connection with the sale of the Merchant Services Business and Healthcare RCM Business, $3,112, $10,942 and $7,014 of the Company's equity-based compensation expense was classified as "net income from discontinued operations" in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024, and 2023, respectively.

Amounts are included in other costs of services and in selling, general and administrative expense on the consolidated statements of operations. Current and deferred income tax benefits for continuing operations of $78, $2,668 and $3,784 were recognized related to equity-based compensation during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024, and 2023, respectively.

Stock Options

In May 2018, the Company adopted the 2018 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2018 Plan") under which the Company may grant up to 3,500,000 stock options and other equity-based awards to employees, directors and officers. The number of shares of Class A common stock available for issuance under the 2018 Plan includes an annual increase on the first day of each year, beginning with the 2019 calendar year, equal to 4.0% of the outstanding shares of all classes of the Company's common stock as of the last day of the immediately preceding calendar year, unless the Company's board of directors determines prior to the last trading day of December of the immediately preceding calendar year that the increase shall be less than 4.0%. As of September 30, 2025, there were 2,541,852 shares of equity awards available to grant under the 2018 Plan.

In September 2020, the Company adopted the 2020 Acquisition Equity Incentive Plan (the "2020 Inducement Plan") under which the Company may grant up to 1,500,000 stock options and other equity-based awards to individuals that were not previously employees of the Company or its subsidiaries in connection with acquisitions, as a material inducement to the individual's entry into employment with the Company or its subsidiaries within the meaning of Rule 5635(c)(4) of the Nasdaq Listing Rules. In May 2021, the Company amended the 2020 Inducement Plan to increase the number of shares of the Company's Class A common stock available for issuance from 1,500,000 to 3,000,000 shares. As of September 30, 2025, there were 1,914,822 shares of equity awards available for grant under the 2020 Inducement Plan.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Share-based compensation expense includes the estimated effects of forfeitures, which will be adjusted over the requisite service period to the extent actual forfeitures differ or are expected to differ from such estimates.

The Company has issued stock option awards under the 2018 Plan and the 2020 Inducement Plan. The fair value of the stock option awards during the years ended September 30, 2025 and 2024 was determined on the grant date using the Black-Scholes valuation model based on the following weighted-average assumptions:

	September 30, 2025	September 30, 2024
Expected volatility <sup>(1)</sup>	49.8 %	52.1 %
Expected dividend yield <sup>(2)</sup>	— %	— %
Expected term <sup>(3)</sup>	6 years	6 years
Risk-free interest rate <sup>(4)</sup>	4.1 %	4.1 %

- For the year ended September 30, 2025, expected volatility is based on the volatility of the Company's own share price. For the year ended September 30, 2024, expected volatility is based on the historical volatility of a selected peer group over a period equivalent to the expected term.
- The Company has assumed a dividend yield of zero as management has no plans to declare dividends in the foreseeable future.
- Expected term represents the estimated period of time until an award is exercised and was determined using the simplified method as details of employee exercise behavior are limited due to limited historical data.
- The risk-free rate is an interpolation of yields on U.S. Treasury securities with maturities equivalent to the expected term.

A summary of stock option activity for the year ended September 30, 2025 is as follows:

	Stock Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price
Outstanding at September 30, 2024	9,120,944	$ 24.48
Granted	140,000	25.62
Exercised	(1,137,563)	23.02
Forfeited and cancelled	(242,145)	27.63
Outstanding at September 30, 2025	7,881,236	$ 24.61
Exercisable at September 30, 2025	6,650,666	$ 25.11

The weighted-average grant date fair value of stock options granted during the year ended September 30, 2025 was $13.66.

As of September 30, 2025, there were 7,881,236 stock options outstanding, of which 6,650,666 were exercisable. As of September 30, 2025, total unrecognized compensation expense related to unvested stock options, including an estimate for pre-vesting forfeitures, was $10,174, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.2 years.

The total fair value of stock options that vested during the year ended September 30, 2025 was $11,942.

In connection with the sale of the Merchant Services Business, during the year ended September 30, 2024, the Company fully accelerated the vesting period for 188,482 options (to the extent not previously vested) held by employees of the Merchant Services Business immediately prior to the closing of the divestiture.

In connection with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, during the year ended September 30, 2025, the Company fully accelerated the vesting period for 40,853 options (to the extent not previously vested) held by employees of the Healthcare RCM Business immediately prior to the closing of the divestiture.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Restricted Stock Units

The Company has issued Class A common stock in the form of restricted stock units ("RSUs") under the 2018 Plan.

A summary of activity related to restricted stock units as of September 30, 2025 is as follows:

	Restricted Stock Units	Weighted Average Exercise Price
Outstanding at September 30, 2024	771,214	$ 22.71
Granted	755,649	26.58
Vested	(299,763)	23.55
Forfeited and cancelled	(66,459)	23.30
Outstanding at September 30, 2025	1,160,641	$ 24.89

The weighted-average grant date fair value of RSUs granted during the year ended September 30, 2025 was $26.58.

As of September 30, 2025, total unrecognized compensation expense related to unvested RSUs, including an estimate for pre-vesting forfeitures, was $17,645, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 2.8 years.

The total fair value of RSUs that vested during the year ended September 30, 2025 was $7,220.

In connection with the sale of the Merchant Services Business, during the year ended September 30, 2024, the Company fully accelerated the vesting period for 173,230 RSUs (to the extent not previously vested) held by employees of the Merchant Services Business immediately prior to the closing of the divestiture.

In connection with the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, during the year ended September 30, 2025, the Company fully accelerated the vesting period for 96,613 RSUs (to the extent not previously vested) held by employees of the Healthcare RCM Business immediately prior to the closing of the divestiture.

17. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES*Leases

The Company utilizes office space and equipment under operating leases. Rent expense from continuing operations under these leases amounted to $2,236, $2,859 and $2,927 during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Refer to Note 14 for further discussion and a table of the future minimum payments under these leases.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Contract Commitments

We have contractual obligations primarily for third-party technology services and licenses. Certain agreements are fixed for the duration of the contracts and may require us to pay minimum fees. As of September 30, 2025, the remaining aggregate minimum contractual commitment under these arrangements was approximately $15,857, which exclude contract commitments that have been prepaid. Future minimum payments, including contracts with a remaining term of less than one year, based on these contractual agreements are as follows:

Years ending September 30:

2026	$	7,953

Litigation

With respect to all legal, regulatory and governmental proceedings, and in accordance with ASC 450-20, Contingencies—Loss Contingencies, the Company considers the likelihood of a negative outcome. If the Company determines the likelihood of a negative outcome with respect to any such matter is probable and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated, the Company records an accrual for the estimated amount of loss for the expected outcome of the matter. If the likelihood of a negative outcome with respect to material matters is reasonably possible and the Company is able to determine an estimate of the amount of possible loss or a range of loss, whether in excess of a related accrued liability or where there is no accrued liability, the Company discloses the estimate of the amount of possible loss or range of loss. However, the Company in some instances may be unable to estimate an amount of possible loss or range of loss based on the significant uncertainties involved in, or the preliminary nature of, any such material matter, and in these instances the Company will disclose the nature of the contingency and describe why the Company is unable to determine an estimate of possible loss or range of loss.

The Company is involved in ordinary course legal proceedings, which include all claims, lawsuits, investigations and proceedings, including unasserted claims, which are probable of being asserted, arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company has considered all such ordinary course legal proceedings in formulating its disclosures and assessments. After taking into consideration the evaluation of such legal matters by the Company's legal counsel, the Company's management believes at this time such matters will not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated balance sheet, results of operations or cash flows.

PaySchools Litigation

On May 16, 2025, Suzanne Hess, individually and on behalf of a putative class of citizens of the State of New York, filed a Class Action Complaint and Demand for Jury Trial (as amended on October 10, 2025, the "Complaint"), in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Nassau County, against i3 Verticals, LLC and CP-DBS, LLC d/b/a "PaySchools", a subsidiary of i3 Verticals, LLC. The damages claimed in the Complaint relate to services offered by PaySchools that enable parents, guardians and caregivers to fund lunches for students in certain New York school districts, and allegedly unlawful practices by PaySchools related to the fees charged for these school lunch services. The plaintiff seeks unspecified monetary damages, restitution, disgorgement, and attorneys' fees and costs, as well as injunctive relief prohibiting PaySchools from charging transaction-based fees.

On June 20, 2025, the matter was removed to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York. PaySchools filed a motion to dismiss the Complaint on October 30, 2025, which remains pending.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The Company is unable to predict the outcome of this litigation. While the Company does not believe that this matter will have a material adverse effect on its business or financial condition, the Company cannot give assurance that this matter will not have a material effect on its results of operations or cash flows for any particular reporting period.

S&S Litigation

On June 2, 2021, the State of Louisiana, Division of Administration (the "State") and a putative class of Louisiana sheriffs ("Sheriffs") and law enforcement districts ("Districts") (collectively "Plaintiffs") filed a Petition (as amended on October 4, 2021, the "Petition"), in the 19th Judicial District Court for the Parish of East Baton Rouge against i3-Software & Services, LLC ("S&S"), a subsidiary of the Company located in Shreveport, Louisiana, the Company, i3 Verticals, LLC, the current leader of the S&S business, the former leader of the S&S business, and 1120 South Pointe Properties, LLC ("South Pointe"), the former owner of the assets of the S&S business (collectively "Defendants"). See State of Louisiana, by and through its Division of Administration, East Baton Rouge Parish Law Enforcement District, by and through the duly elected East Baton Rouge Parish Sheriff, Sid J. Gautreaux, III, et. al., individually and as class representatives vs. i3-Software & Services, LLC; 1120 South Pointe Properties, LLC, formerly known as Software and Services of Louisiana, L.L.C.; i3 Verticals, Inc.; i3 Verticals, LLC; Gregory R. Teeters; and Scott Carrington.

The Petition was amended on October 4, 2021 to amend and expand the putative class and subsequently removed to federal court. The Petition seeks monetary damages for the cost of network remediation of $15,000 purportedly spent by the State and $7,000 purportedly spent by the Sheriffs and Districts, return of purchase prices, potential additional expenses related to remediation and any obligation to notify parties of an alleged data breach as and if required by applicable law, and reasonable attorneys' fees. The claimed damages relate to a third-party remote access software product used in connection with services provided by S&S to certain Louisiana law enforcement districts and alleged inadequacies in the Company's cybersecurity practices. On February 22, 2024, the case was remanded to the 19th Judicial District Court for the Parish of East Baton Rouge, where the case remains pending.

All Defendants filed pleading-stage motions to dismiss, some of which were granted. The Court allowed plaintiffs to re-plead certain claims and has severed the claims brought by the Division of Administration from the claims brought by the parish Sheriffs and Districts. The State chose not to re-plead their claims, which leaves some of their claims now dismissed with prejudice. The Sheriffs and Districts re-plead their claims. Certain Defendants filed renewed pleading-stage motions to dismiss that the Court denied on April 14, 2025. The case is now in the discovery phase of litigation.

The assets of the S&S business were acquired from South Pointe by the Company in 2018 for $17,000, including upfront cash consideration and contingent consideration, and provides software and payments services to local government agencies almost exclusively in Louisiana.

The Company is unable to predict the outcome of this litigation. While the Company does not believe that this matter will have a material adverse effect on its business or financial condition, the Company cannot give assurance that this matter will not have a material effect on its results of operations or cash flows for any particular reporting period.

18. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In connection with the Company's IPO, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC entered into a Tax Receivable Agreement with the Continuing Equity Owners that provides for the payment by the Company to the Continuing Equity Owners of 85% of the amount of certain tax benefits, if any, that it actually realizes, or in some circumstances, is deemed to realize in its tax reporting, as a result of (i) future redemptions funded by the Company or exchanges, or deemed exchanges in certain circumstances, of Common Units of i3 Verticals, LLC for Class A common stock of i3 Verticals, Inc. or cash, and (ii) certain additional tax benefits attributable to payments made under the Tax Receivable Agreement. See Note 13 for further information. As of September 30, 2025, the total amount due under the Tax Receivable Agreement was $34,911.

On January 23, 2025, the Company and i3 Verticals, LLC effected certain recapitalization actions in order to reduce excess cash held at the Company as a result of its "Up-C" structure following a tax distribution received by the Company and the Continuing Equity Owners earlier in January 2025 (the "LLC Tax Distribution") related to the taxable income associated with the gain on the sale of the Merchant Services Business completed in September 2024 that was anticipated to be recognized for 2024 federal income tax purposes by members of i3 Verticals, LLC. As a result of differences in the amount of net taxable income allocable to the Company and to the Continuing Equity Owners and the higher assumed tax rate of the Continuing Equity Owners than the tax rate of the Company, this LLC Tax Distribution resulted in the Company holding cash in excess of the Company's tax liabilities, its obligation to make payments under its the Tax Receivable Agreement, and any other expected liabilities of the Company.

Accordingly, in order to make such cash held by the Company accessible in connection with our operations, on January 23, 2025, the Company contributed approximately $21,396 in cash (the "Capital Contribution") held by the Company to i3 LLC in exchange for 896,763 newly-issued common units of i3 Verticals, LLC ("Common Units") at a price per Common Unit of $23.86, such price being equal to the to the 50-day volume-weighted average price of the Company's Class A common stock for the period ended January 22, 2025. Immediately following the Capital Contribution, the Common Units were recapitalized through a reverse unit split of the Common Units at a ratio of approximately 0.9631 to 1 (the "Reverse Unit Split") which caused the number of Common Units held by the Company immediately following the Reverse Unit Split to equal to the number of Common Units held by the Company immediately prior to the Contribution, thereby maintaining a one-to-one ratio between the number of Common Units owned by the Company and the number of outstanding shares of Class A Common Stock. Upon the effectiveness of the Reverse Unit Split, 369,256 outstanding shares of Class B common stock of the Company were retired without consideration, thereby maintaining a one-to-one ratio between the number of Common Units owned by the Continuing Equity Owners after giving to the Reverse Unit Split and the number of outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock.

After giving effect to these recapitalization actions, as of January 23, 2025, the Company held approximately 70.83% of the outstanding Common Units (an increase of approximately 0.78% compared to the Company's ownership of approximately 70.05% of the outstanding Common Units immediately prior to giving effect to these recapitalization actions) and the Continuing Equity Owners hold approximately 29.17% of the outstanding Common Units (a decrease of approximately 0.78% compared to the Continuing Equity Owners' ownership of approximately 29.95% of the outstanding Common Units immediately prior to giving effect to these recapitalization actions).

19. SEGMENT REPORTING

The Company determines its operating segments based on ASC 280, Segment Reporting, in alignment with how the chief operating decision monitors and manages the performance of the business as well as the level at which financial information is reviewed. The accounting policies of the Company's one reportable segment are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies in Note 3.

As noted above, on September 20, 2024, the Company completed the transactions contemplated by the Purchase Agreement dated June 26, 2024, and sold the equity interests of the Merchant Services Acquired Entities comprising the Merchant Services Business. The Merchant Services Business comprised the Company's entire former Merchant Services segment and a small portion of the Company's former Software and Services segment. As a result of the sale of the Merchant Services Business, the historical results of the Merchant Services Business have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated financial statements, and the

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Company no longer presents a Merchant Services segment. See Note 2 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information.

Additionally, as noted above, on May 5, 2025, the Company completed the sale of the equity interests of the Healthcare RCM Acquired Entities, which owned and operated the Healthcare RCM Business, including its associated proprietary technology. The Healthcare RCM Business comprised a majority of the Company's former Healthcare segment. As a result of the sale of the Healthcare RCM Business, the historical results have been reflected as discontinued operations in our consolidated financial statements, and the Company no longer presents a Healthcare segment. See Note 2 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information.

After giving effect to the disposition of the Healthcare RCM Business, the Company's core business for continuing operations is providing mission-critical enterprise software solutions to its public sector customers. Taking into account the impact of the disposition of the Healthcare RCM Business, the Company determined that it had one operating segment and one reportable segment as of June 30, 2025, and accordingly has updated its segment presentation to reflect this determination. This change in our segment presentation is consistent with how the chief operating decision maker ("CODM"), the Company's Chief Executive Officer, reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of allocating resources and evaluating financial performance (which is based on consolidated information) as further noted below.

The Company's business has products and solutions that create an efficient flow of information. The Company's public sector software solutions help its customers provide more responsive and efficient services to their citizens and stakeholders. The Company has one operating and reportable segment, which derives revenues from a broad range of offerings tailored to its market. The Company's revenue is primarily derived from enterprise software solutions, which can include SaaS, transaction-based fees, ongoing software maintenance and support, software licenses, and other professional services related to the Company's software offerings. Additional revenue is derived from enabling payments within the Company's software platforms.

As the Company has a single operating segment and single reportable segment and is managed on a consolidated basis, the measure of segment profit or loss that the CODM uses to allocate resources and assess performance is consolidated net income as reported in the Consolidated Statements of Operations. The CODM uses this key measure to evaluate operating performance and considers budget-to-actual variances on a quarterly basis when making decisions about the allocation of operating and capital resources to the segment.

Technology operating expenses <sup>(1)</sup>	8,887	7,340	6,500
Other operating expenses <sup>(2)</sup>	17,953	17,651	18,892
Other segment expenses <sup>(3)</sup>	51,917	66,508	76,600
Net income	$ 5,618	$ (16,045)	$ (24,808)

1. Refer to Note 3 for discussion of the change in the current and prior period presentation.

2. Other operating expenses includes rent expense, travel and entertainment, office expense, professional services expense, advertising and trade shows expense and immaterial miscellaneous other operating expenses.

3. Other segment expenses includes stock compensation expense, M&A-related expenses, other taxes and one-time expenses, depreciation and amortization, change in fair value of contingent consideration, interest expense, other (income) expense, and income tax expense.

Revenues from external customers are attributed to geographic areas based on the location of the customer. For the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024 and 2023, the majority of the Company's revenues were derived from customers located in the United States, the Company's country of domicile. Revenues from foreign countries, primarily Canada, were not considered significant for separate disclosure. The basis for attributing revenues to geographic areas is the location of the customer receiving the goods or services.

The Company has not disclosed expenditures on long-lived assets as such expenditures are not reviewed by or provided to the chief operating decision maker.

The measure of segment assets is reported on the balance sheet as total consolidated assets.

20. NON-CONTROLLING INTEREST

i3 Verticals, Inc. is the sole managing member of i3 Verticals, LLC and as a result, consolidates the financial results of i3 Verticals, LLC and reports a non-controlling interest representing the Common Units of i3 Verticals, LLC held by the Continuing Equity Owners. Changes in i3 Verticals, Inc.'s ownership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC while i3 Verticals, Inc. retains its controlling interest in i3 Verticals, LLC will be accounted for as equity transactions. As such, future redemptions or direct exchanges of Common Units of i3 Verticals, LLC by the Continuing Equity Owners will result in a change in ownership and reduce or increase the amount recorded as non-controlling interest and increase or decrease additional paid-in capital when i3 Verticals, LLC has positive or negative net assets, respectively.

As of September 30, 2025, and 2024, respectively, i3 Verticals, Inc. owned 23,983,125 and 23,882,035 of i3 Verticals, LLC's Common Units, representing a 74.1% and 70.4% economic ownership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

The following table summarizes the impact on equity due to changes in the Company's ownership interest in i3 Verticals, LLC:

	Year ended September 30,
	2025	2024	2023
Net income (loss) attributable to non-controlling interest	$ 8,630	$ 61,789	$ (1,841)

21. EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share of Class A common stock is computed by dividing net income available to i3 Verticals, Inc. by the weighted-average number of shares of Class A common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share of Class A common stock is computed by dividing net income available to i3 Verticals, Inc. by the weighted-average number of shares of Class A common stock outstanding adjusted to give effect to potentially dilutive securities.

The following table sets forth reconciliations of the numerators and denominators used to compute basic and diluted earnings per share of Class A common stock from continuing operations:

1. For the year ended September 30, 2025, the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock:
  - a. 9,114,846 shares of weighted average Class A common stock along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares (which represents the tax effected net income attributable to non-controlling interest using the effective income tax rates described in Note 13 above and assuming all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for Class A common stock at the beginning of the period), were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive, and
  - b. 3,421,605 stock options were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of our Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
2. For the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, all potentially dilutive securities were anti-dilutive, so diluted net loss per share was equivalent to basic net loss per share. The following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted earnings per share of Class A common stock:
  - a. 10,067,399 and 10,109,247 shares of weighted average Class A common stock for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares (which represents the tax effected net income attributable to non-controlling interest using the effective income tax rates described in Note 13 above and assuming all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for Class A common stock at the beginning of the period), were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive,
  - b. 7,701,564 and 5,580,144 options to purchase shares of Class A common stock for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, were excluded because the exercise price of these options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive, and

- c. 392,343 and 723,898 shares of Class A common stock for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded because the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.

The following table sets forth reconciliations of the numerators and denominators used to compute basic and diluted earnings per share of Class A common stock from discontinued operations:

1. The reallocation of net income assuming conversion of common units represents the tax effected net income attributable to non-controlling interest using the effective income tax rates described in Note 13 above and assuming all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for Class A common stock at the beginning of the period. The common units of i3 Verticals, LLC held by the Continuing Equity Owners are potentially dilutive securities, and the computations of diluted net income per share assume that all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for shares of Class A common stock at the beginning of the period.
2. For the years ended September 30, 2025, the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock:
  - a. 3,421,605 stock options were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of our Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
3. For the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, net income (loss) from continuing operations attributable to i3 Verticals, Inc. was in a loss position, so diluted net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations is computed in the same manner as basic net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations. The following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations:
  - a. 10,067,399 and 10,109,247 shares of weighted average Class A common stock for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive,
  - b. 7,701,564 and 5,580,144 stock options for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive, and
  - c. 392,343 and 723,898 shares of Class A common stock for the years ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded because the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

Since in September 2022 the Company made the irrevocable election to settle the principal portion of its Exchangeable Notes only in cash, the Company uses the treasury stock method for calculating any potential dilutive effect of the conversion spread on diluted net income per share, if applicable. The conversion spread would have a dilutive impact on diluted net income per share of common stock when the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock for a given period exceeds the exchange price of $40.87 per share for the Exchangeable Notes. The Exchangeable Notes matured in February 2025 and the Company paid the entire remaining principal balance.

The Warrants sold in connection with the issuance of the Exchangeable Notes are considered to be dilutive when the average price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period exceeds the Warrants' stock price of $62.88 per share. The effect of the additional shares that may have been issued upon exercise of the Warrants would be included in the weighted average shares of Class A common stock outstanding—diluted using the treasury stock method. The Note Hedge Transactions purchased in connection with the issuance of the Exchangeable Notes were considered to be anti-dilutive and therefore did not impact our calculation of diluted net income per share. The Note Hedge Transactions expired in February 2025 upon the maturity and payment in full of the Exchangeable Notes. Refer to Note 11 for further discussion regarding the Exchangeable Notes.

Shares of the Company's Class B common stock do not participate in the earnings or losses of the Company and are therefore not participating securities. As such, separate presentation of basic and diluted earnings per share of Class B common stock under the two-class method has not been presented.

22. SIGNIFICANT NON-CASH TRANSACTIONS

The Company engaged in the following significant non-cash investing and financing activities during the years ended September 30, 2025, 2024, and 2023, which are reported on a consolidated basis. 1. For the three months ended September 30, 2025; June 30, 2025; March 31, 2025; and December 31, 2024, the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net (loss) income per share of Class A common stock from continuing operations:
  - a. 9,408,427 weighted average shares of Class B common stock for the three months ended March 31, 2025, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive,
  - b. 1,681,255, 4,362,416, 4,227,718 and 6,236,721 stock options for the three months ended September 30, 2025; June 30, 2025; March 31, 2025; and December 31, 2024, respectively, were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
  - c. 952,796 shares for the three months ended June 30, 2025, resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded because of the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
2. For the three months ended September 30, 2025, March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock from discontinued operations:
  - a. 9,408,427 and 10,026,180 weighted average shares of Class B common stock for the three months ended March 31, 2025, and December 31, 2024, respectively, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive,

  - c. 299,505 shares for the three months ended March 31, 2025 resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded because of the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
3. For the three months ended June 30, 2025, net income (loss) from continuing operations attributable to i3 Verticals, Inc. was in a loss position, so diluted net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations is computed in the same manner as basic net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations. The following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net loss per share of Class A common stock from discontinued operations:
  - a. 8,637,499 weighted average shares of Class B common stock, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded,
  - b. 4,362,416 stock options were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive, and
  - c. 952,796 shares resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded.
4. For the three months ended September 30, 2024 the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock from continuing operations:
  - a. 6,679,386 stock options were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
5. For the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; December 31, 2023, all potentially dilutive securities were anti-dilutive, so diluted net loss per share was equivalent to basic net loss per share. The following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net loss per share of Class A common stock from continuing operations:
  - a. 10,052,017, 10,091,604 and 10,093,394 weighted average shares of Class B common stock for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded because the effect would have been anti-dilutive,
  - b. 7,764,984, 7,852,595 and 7,496,394 stock options for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive, and
  - c. 234,503, 387,235 and 467,777 shares for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded because of the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.

(in thousands, except unit, share and per share amounts)

6. For the three months ended September 30, 2024 the following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net income per share of Class A common stock from discontinued operations:
    - a. 6,679,386 stock options were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive.
  7. For the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, net income (loss) from continuing operations attributable to i3 Verticals, Inc. was in a loss position, so diluted net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations is computed in the same manner as basic net income per share of Class A common stock for discontinued operations. The following securities were excluded from the weighted average effect of dilutive securities in the computation of diluted net loss per share of Class A common stock from discontinued operations:
    - a. 10,052,017, 10,091,604, and 10,093,394 weighted average shares of Class B common stock for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, along with the reallocation of net income assuming conversion of these shares, were excluded,
    - b. 7,764,984, 7,852,595, and 7,496,394 stock options for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, were excluded because the exercise price of these stock options exceeded the average market price of the Company's Class A common stock during the period ("out-of-the-money") and the effect of including them would have been anti-dilutive, and
    - c. 234,503, 387,235, and 467,777 shares for the three months ended June 30, 2024; March 31, 2024; and December 31, 2023, respectively, resulting from estimated stock option exercises and restricted stock units vesting as calculated by the treasury stock method were excluded.
  8. The reallocation of net income assuming conversion of common units represents the tax effected net income attributable to non-controlling interest using the effective income tax rates described in Note 13 above and assuming all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for Class A common stock at the beginning of the period. The common units of i3 Verticals, LLC held by the Continuing Equity Owners are potentially dilutive securities, and the computations of diluted net income per share assume that all common units of i3 Verticals, LLC were exchanged for shares of Class A common stock at the beginning of the period.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosures

None.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, with the participation of other members of management, have evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) under the Exchange Act, as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on such evaluations, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective (at the reasonable assurance level) to ensure that the information required to be included in this report has been recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and to ensure that the information required to be included in this report was accumulated and communicated to management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) under the Exchange Act. Internal control over financial reporting is a process to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of our financial reporting for external purposes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Our management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of September 30, 2025. In making this assessment, we used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO") in Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013). Based on such assessment our management has concluded that, as of September 30, 2025, our internal control over financial reporting is effective based on those criteria.

Our internal control over financial reporting as of September 30, 2025 has been audited by the independent registered public accounting firm, Deloitte & Touche LLP, who also audited our financial statements. The attestation report on our internal control over financial reporting from Deloitte & Touche LLP appears below.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the three months ended September 30, 2025 that materially affected, or which are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the shareholders and the Board of Directors of i3 Verticals, Inc.

Opinion on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

We have audited the internal control over financial reporting of i3 Verticals, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of September 30, 2025, based on criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). In our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of September 30, 2025, based on criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework (2013) issued by COSO.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended September 30, 2025, of the Company and our report dated November 21, 2025, expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

The Company's management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control over Financial Reporting

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

The registrant's other certifying officer and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the registrant and have:
  - a. Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;
  - b. Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
  - c. Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and
  - d. Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and
5. The registrant's other certifying officer and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):
  - a. All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and

b. Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
